WORKSHOP

- July 27-28 Overcoming Math Anxiety

A BUS TRIP TO THE HANNIBAL ICE HOUSE THEATRE will be taken by 40 people on a first-come, first-served basis on Friday. Cost for the trip, sponsored by Student Activities, is $6 per person, which includes round-trip transportation and a ticket to see the comedy "Opal's Baby." Interested persons may sign up in the Student Activities Office, 204 Administration/Humanities Building. At least a $3 deposit is required at signup. The University bus will depart for Hannibal at 5:45 p.m. from the Administration/Humanities Building circle drive for the trip, which is open to the public. The Ice House is jointly sponsored by NMSU, the Hannibal Foundation and the Hannibal Chamber of Commerce with assistance from the Missouri Council on the Arts.

AN EXHIBIT OF FIBERS AND SCULPTURE by Linda Nothnagel, graduate art student, will be held in the University Art Gallery, 218 Baldwin Hall, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. today through Friday.

A GRADUATE VIOLIN RECITAL by Carolyn Reed will be at 8 tonight in the Little Theater, Baldwin Hall. She will be accompanied by Paul Stephens, pianist. The public is invited to attend.

"THANK GOD IT'S FRIDAY," sponsored by the Student Activities Board, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Baldwin Auditorium. Admission is $1 per University student, staff or faculty member.

PHI DELTA KAPPA education honorary will hold a reception for summer nominees at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Alumni Room of the Student Union Building. All PDK members in good standing are invited to vote on the nominees at the reception. The initiation banquet for the new members will be Friday, Aug. 3. Reservations must be made with Hugh Moore, vice president of membership, by 5 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 1. The cost for the banquet is $5 per person at the door.

VETERANS may receive additional help with academic costs through the Veterans Cost of Instruction Payment Program. NMSU is receiving funds through VCIP to help veterans with needs that arise during their educational experience. For more information call Ric Doubet, Vets Club president, at 665-3800.

Five-year-old Brian, 10-year-old Brad and their parents, Don and Shirley Trow, of Pella, Iowa, were all students at Northeast Missouri State University during the first term.

While Don and Shirley attended graduate-level classes, Brian participated in the Child Development Center, and Brad was involved in TWEEN CLUB.

TWEEN CLUB is a University program during the summer for boys and girls ages 6-14. The Child Development Center is designed for three- to five-year-olds.

"Our oldest son really enjoyed the TWEEN CLUB. He really enjoyed the field trips and all the fun things that they did," said Shirley Trow.

Approximately 50 students per day learn skills in baseball, tumbling, tennis, golf, bowling, swimming, track, crafts, soccer, basketball and kickball in the five-week program held twice during the summer. "It (TWEEN CLUB) is not a kill-time program; it's a learning program," said Judy Duden, who initiated the club in the summer of 1976.

Most TWEEN CLUB activities are at the Natatorium, tennis courts, University bowling alley or Red Barn Park. Members begin gathering at 7:30 a.m. at the TWEEN CLUB House, the visiting team's dressing room in the Bulldog Kennels. The day ends at 4 p.m.

Field trips are taken to Kirksville places of interest, such as the post office, fire station, court house, pet stores and fast-food restaurants, said Jim LaRue, director.

One-day trips called special events take CLUBBERS to Leo's Roller Rink, Thousand Hills State Park and either Worlds of Fun in Kansas City or the Mark Twain attractions in Hannibal. An overnight campout is also held in Red Barn Park.

Cost for the program, which ends Aug. 9, is $65 per child per five-week term or $15 per child per week.

Students get younger each summer

TWEEN CLUB was established in 1976 to serve children of NMSU students while their parents were in classes. "Because of excellent learning opportunities, such as lifetime skills of swimming, tennis and bowling, children of the staff and community residents also enjoy TWEEN CLUB," said Duden.

Four counselors, two in the morning and two in the afternoon, supervise and plan activities. The TWEEN CLUB's daily schedule is flexible, allowing counselors to move on to another activity when students tire of one.

Kerry Soderstrom of Flossmoor, Ill., enjoys the craft-making part of TWEEN CLUB activities best. Her parents, James and Pat Soderstrom, both teachers, are summer students at NMSU. Kerry is 8 1/2 years old.

Some of the youngsters return year after year.

Tanya Williams of Wapello, Iowa, said, "I like it (TWEEN CLUB) 'cause it's fun. You get to meet a lot of new friends." Tanya, a third grader, is in the program for her second year and plans to continue each summer until her mother, Diane Vineyard, finishes her master's degree in special education.

Rex Ellebracht, nine-year-old son of Pat and Eleanor Ellebracht of Kirksville, is now in his third year of TWEEN CLUB. He enthusiastically endorses bowling as his favorite activity. His six-year-old sister, Elena, is in TWEEN CLUB this year for the first time.

For the three- to five-year-olds is the Child Development Center, located on the west side of campus. An average of 27 children of NMSU students, staff and community members participate in the program daily.

"The Child Development Center is structured so that many varied activities are provided to stimulate the social, emotional, intellectual and physical areas of the child's development," said Duden, summer director of the center.

"I think that the Child Development Center is really important because it gives the parents a chance to get their classes, and it gives them peace of mind because they know the kids are being well taken care of," said Shirley

Trow. "I sure hope they keep it up."

Opening at 7:15 a.m. Monday through Friday for the convenience of students with early classes, the center is staffed by seven NMSU students, mostly child development majors. It closes at 2 p.m.

The center's curriculum part of the day begins at 9:30 a.m. and lasts until 1 p.m. The program includes topics such as self-concepts, insects and plants. "There's a lot of learning along with the fun," said Duden.

Free play time for the children is provided from 7:15 a.m. until 9:30 a.m. and from 1 p.m. until 2 p.m.

Children are served a mid-morning snack and a noon lunch. Cost per child is $15 per week or $75 per session. Duden considers the center to be like a "nursery school with an extended day."

Learning is not restricted to classrooms at NMSU; neither is it limited to a certain age group. Children from three to 14 years of age active in the Child Development Center and TWEEN CLUB find that learning can be fun, even during the summer, at NMSU.

THE 25th ANNIVERSARY OF THE GUIDANCE AND COUNSELING PROGRAM will be celebrated with a reception and dinner Saturday, Aug. 4. Reservations for the dinner must be made by 5 p.m. Friday in the Student Activities Office, 204 Administration/Humanities Building. The reception will begin at 5:30 p.m. in the Alumni Room of the Student Union Building, followed by a dinner at 6:30 in the Georgian Room. Guest speaker will be Dr. James L. Kern, a former guidance and counseling educator from Winona, Minn. The dinner is open to the University community.

A BOOK READING GROUP will meet at 7:30 tonight to discuss "A Separate Reality" by Carlos Castaneda. The discussion will be at 1400 E. Filmore, the home of Nancy Kiger, group member. In August the selection will be "Shosha" by Isaac Bashevis Singer. For more information call Shirley Morahan, group member, ext. 2149.

A PHOTOGRAPHIC DISPLAY by University Photographer Mary M. Regan will be on exhibit through Monday, July 30, in cases at Pickler Memorial Library. Her personal collection of color and black and white photos, reproductions of University publications, books on photo-journalism, women photographers, Pulitzer Prize photos and antique cameras make up the display.

JOB INTERVIEWS for an immediate opening with the Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., Taylorville, Ill., will be Tuesday, July 31. Interested graduates may call or go by the Career Planning and Placement Center, first floor of Blanton Hall, ext. 7132, for an interview appointment.

NMSU EMPLOYEES may pick up their new 1979-80 vehicle registration stickers beginning Aug. 1 at Safety and Security.
