

Northeast Today

MONDAY, July 6, 1981

BULLETIN BOARD

THE FIRST TERM of summer session ends 5 p.m. Thursday. Residence halls will close at 10 p.m., reopening noon Sunday. Registration for second term is 8-10 a.m. July 13 in the Activities Room of the Student Union Building. Classes will meet for one hour July 13.

SENIORS who will complete degree requirements this summer and have not yet taken senior tests have until Thursday to contact the Testing Office, 103 Administration/Humanities Building. Seniors will not be contacted individually.

WINDFALL, the campus literary magazine, will be on sale 9-12 a.m. this week in the Student Union Concourse. The spring issue of Windfall is also available at Edna Campbell Book Store and the Chariton Bookstore.

A THREE-DAY ART SHOW by seniors Vicki Doubet and Jane Summers opens Tuesday in the Baldwin Art Gallery. Summers will exhibit sculpture pieces, and Doubet will exhibit oil paintings. The gallery will be open from noon to 5 p.m. each day.

INTERVIEW APPOINTMENTS for high school art and elementary LD teachers may be made in the Career Planning and Placement Center, first floor Blanton Hall. Bethany Superintendent Ono Monachino, South Harrison County R-II, will interview candidates Tuesday for 1981-82.

A BIBLE STUDY is being held 8 p.m. Tuesdays at the Baptist Student Center, located north of Safety and Security at 110 W. Normal.

A TWILIGHT 5,000-METER RUN will be held 7 p.m. Tuesday beginning at the Court House Racquetball and Health Club. Entry blanks are available at the Court House, Four Seasons Sports and Raacks Sporting Goods. Awards in eight divisions will be given, and all entrants will receive a T-shirt and become eligible for merchandise drawings. For more information, contact David Harris, graduate student, at 785-4742.

HAPPENINGS

RIDERS IN THE SKY, a country and western band, will perform 7 p.m. Tuesday at Swimming Pool Park instead of the New Deal rhythm band. New Deal is now scheduled for Aug. 4. Both bands are part of the "Evening in the Park" series jointly sponsored by the Regional Arts Council and Kirksville Parks and Recreation. Admission is free.

SUMMER RECREATION softball and volleyball games will reorganize for the second term. Interested groups should sign up at 7 p.m. July 13 in Centennial Hall Lounge. Games for this week are as follows:

VOLLEYBALL (Tuesday)

- 5 p.m. Busch Bears vs. Mis-Hits
- 6 p.m. Pica Pounders vs. Holm's Hitters
- 7 p.m. Red Barons vs. SCEX
- 8 p.m. Janelle's Jets vs. Sweathogs

SOFTBALL (Wednesday)

- 4 p.m. Coors Light vs. Golden Gloves
- 5 p.m. Red Barons vs. Koester's
- 6 p.m. Sluggers vs. Aces

HOT L BALTIMORE enters its second week with performances at 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the Little Theatre. Reservations are 50 cents with a University ID (one reservation per ID) at the Little Theatre Box Office 12:30-2:30 p.m. or 6-8 p.m. daily. General admission tickets are $4 and $3.

NORTHEAST NOTES

Fredrick Schrank, Education, presented a program on bibliotherapy at the National Elementary Counseling and Guidance conference in Denton, Texas.

An article entitled "Reducing Sex Role Stereotyping in Day Care Centers" by Edward Zeiser, Home Economics, was published in the summer issue of Update, a quarterly publication of the Association for the Education of Young Children: Missouri.

Dr. Lydia Inman, Home Economics, joined 4,000 national and international home economists in Atlantic City, N.J., for the 72nd annual meeting of the American Home Economics Association June 21-25. Dr. Inman was secretary of the Agency Member Unit, a section of AHEA. She is also president-elect of District A of the Missouri Home Economics Association.

Jim Barnes, Language and Literature, has three poems in From A To Z: 200 Contemporary American Poets, published by Swallow Press/Ohio University Press. The poems are "Accident at Three Mile Island," "Descent to Bohannon Lake," "Old Soldiers Home at Marshalltown, Iowa."