ALLAN W. OSTAR
President
American Association of State
Colleges and Universities

Allan W. Ostar has spent almost his entire professional career of the past 35 years working for the advancement of public higher education.

In November of 1965 he became the first full-time head of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) in Washington, D.C. The Association has a membership of approximately 360 state colleges and universities with a total enrollment of more than two million students. He has focused his attention on planning for the future in response to the changing needs of education and society.

In 1983, AASCU recognized Northeast for its response to this goal by awarding the University the G. Theodore Mitau Award for Innovation and Excellence in Higher Education—AASCU's highest honor. As a result, AASCU has published a book on Northeast's value-added program.

For seven years prior to assuming his role at AASCU, Dr. Ostar was director of the Joint Office of Institutional Research which he organized to serve the member institutions of the two national organizations representing state universities and land-grant colleges—the State Universities Association and the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges.

Dr. Ostar came to the Joint Office of Institutional Research from the University of Wisconsin where he had been a faculty member, assistant to the dean of the University Extension Division, and director of the Office of Communication Services for eight years.

In the early 1950's he joined the executive staff of the Commonwealth Fund, a major New York City foundation concerned with the improvement of medical education. His professional experience also includes journalism as well as consulting in the educational, health, and communications fields.

Dr. Ostar received his bachelor's degree and pursued graduate work in psychology at the Pennsylvania State University, and completed his doctorate in mass communications at the University of Wisconsin. Since 1968 he has been awarded honorary doctoral degrees from seventeen state universities and two private institutions in recognition of his outstanding national and international contributions to higher education.

During World War II he served as a combat infantryman in Europe with the 42nd (Rainbow) Division, where he was awarded the Bronze Star for valor and other commendations.

In addition to his duties as President of AASCU, Dr. Ostar holds numerous memberships, including Advisory Commissioner of the Education Commission of the States, Secretariat of the American Council on Education; Board of Advisors of Alliance to Save Energy; Advisory Board of the Labor Education Advisory Services; and National Commission on Higher Education Issues.

Dr. Ostar was among the first group of educators to be invited to the People's Republic of China in April 1975. He has also led delegations of university presidents to Egypt, Greece, Cuba, Korea, Mexico, Poland, Colombia, Argentina, and Brazil.

He received the Centennial Award for Distinguished Service to Education from the University of Akron in 1970, and the Distinguished Achievement Award from the University of Southern Colorado in 1979. He became an Alumni Fellow of Pennsylvania State University in 1975 and received the World Peace through Education Medal, International Association of University Presidents, in November of that year. He was selected in 1982 for the United States Achievement Academy National Hall of Fame.

As a result of a national poll, Change Magazine included Allan W. Ostar among the 44 most influential leaders in American higher education.

“OLD MISSOU”

*“Old Missou” and “Old Missouri”
Our hearts the school has won,
Fondly cling we to the mem’ry
Of old “Missouri’s Son.”
Gladly thee our hearts we tender
By the dim and flick’ring light
Every lad a proud defender
Of the Purple and the White.*
