LETTERS TO THE EDITOR ... The editors of Northeast Today asked our readers last week for their opinions of this publication. Here are several of the comments: "Northeast Today is definitely published too often. It makes good filler for File 13. Twice a week or even back to once a week would be enough. Too much information is repeated. First it is tomorrow this will happen; today this is happening; yesterday this did happen. That is any indication not enough important information is available for print three times a week." -- Anonymous. "I find your little 'paper' most valuable. The campus has long needed something like this. A short listing of faculty and/or administrative councils might also be useful." -- J.G. Severns.
