Fall Enrollment Breaks All Records

A record breaking fall enrollment of 5,718 students at Northeast Missouri State College has been announced by President Eli F. Mittler.

The figure is nearly 400 more than were counted last fall when the comparable figure was 5,321. "The increase is largely in first time freshman enrollees and transfer students." Dr. Mittler commented in making the announcement. This year's first time freshmen number 1,362 compared to 1,126 last year.

Male students outnumber female 3,156 to 2,562. A decrease in married students from 811 in 1968 to 764 this year has been recorded.

Students from 68 counties of Missouri are enrolled with Adair county sending 119 first time freshmen. Students from 28 foreign countries are enrolled with a total of 324 in attendance.

In addition to the on-campus students there are 622 students enrolled in extension work at various locations and 232 who are taking courses by correspondence. This gives the College faculty a teacher-student contact of over 6,500.

Outstanding Educator Is Now President of Jefferson College

Dr. Charles J. McClain will become the tenth President of Northeast Missouri State College according to an announcement made on October 9 by Board of Regents President James R. Reinhard. The announcement of Dr. McClain's selection was made at a joint assembly of Board of Regents, faculty and students at the College.

Dr. McClain is now President of Jefferson College, Hillsboro, Missouri, and will assume his new duties at Kirksville on February 1, 1970.

Dr. Eli Mittler, who has been serving as interim president until the selection of the president, has been named Vice President in charge of extra-divisional affairs.

A statement issued by Dr. McClain said, "I am delighted to accept the Presidency of Northeast Missouri State College. It is a singular honor for me to have been appointed to a leadership position at an institution which has more than one hundred years of recognized service in the field of higher education. I look forward to working closely with the Board of Regents and the total academic community to preserve the best of the past and to evolve new courses of action for the future."

Dr. Charles J. McClain

Dr. McClain was Chairman of the Presidents' Council of Missouri Public Junior Colleges from 1967-69; President of the Missouri Association of Junior Colleges, 1966-67; Vice President, Missouri Congress of PTA, 1965-68; Chairman of the Three Rivers District, Boy Scouts of America, 1966-68; is a member of the Board of Directors, Girl Scout Council of Greater St. Louis; was President, Department

An editorial from the Festus Daily News-Democrat on October 13, 1969.

A DEPARTURE

It is with the traditional mixed emotions this newspaper greets the announcement of Dr. Charles McClain's resignation as president of Jefferson College to accept a post as president of Northeast Missouri State College at Kirksville.

Certainly we must be happy that a personal friend and outstanding educator and administrator is moving on to a greater opportunity, a larger challenge and a wider field. We extend our best wishes to Dr. McClain and we commend the Northeast Board of Regents, which made such an excellent choice.

However, we are also extremely sad to see Dr. McClain leave Jefferson College and our community. His marked abilities were never so pronounced as in the magnificent work he accomplished in taking Jefferson College from a dream to sparkling reality. He also, willingly, carried over his abilities and energies into the sphere of community action and it can be said without a qualm that Jefferson county is a better place for his having been amongst us.

We shall not forget Dr. McClain, for he left his mark, and we do not believe he will ever quite forget Jefferson county either, where he found a home, friends and realized a goal.

Alumni Flock to Homecoming Activities; Anniversary Classes Honored at Buffet

Several thousand alumni returned to the campus for the annual Homecoming held Saturday, October 25. The day's activities were highlighted by the Homecoming Buffet attended by nearly 200 alumni and friends.

Coronation of the 1969 Homecoming Queen, Pat Trent, Kirksville, was held Thursday evening, October 23 in the Pershing Arena. Miss Trent is a senior, majoring in speech pathology and was sponsored by Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority. She is also a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Cardinal Key, Oral Interpreters and the K-Dettes. She is serving as a college usher, was named to "Who's Who Among College and University Students" and is a past president of her sorority.

Attendants to the Queen were Mindy Babbitt, sophomore, sponsored by Delta Zeta and Anita Weeks, sophomore, sponsored by the Business Administration Club. The Queen was selected at an all-school election in which eight candidates had vied for the title.

Saturday activities began with the annual Homecoming Parade consisting of 102 units, featuring 29 high school bands and an equal number of floats. Award winning floats included Tau Kappa Epsilon's entry in the spirit division, Delta Zeta in the beauty division, the Industrial Arts Club in the mechanical division and Sigma Tau Gamma, best overall float of the parade.

Classes honored at the Buffet included the golden anniversary class of 1919, the silver anniversary class of 1944 and the ten year class, 1959. Glen Hocker, President of the Alumni Association, served as toastmaster and the group was welcomed by College President Eli F. Mittler. Distinguished guests and members of the honored classes were introduced by Russell Harrison, Director of Alumni Activities.

A more than capacity crowd watched the Bulldogs defeat the Central Missouri State Mules 28-10 in the afternoon football game. Over 1,500 high school musicians presented the traditional half-time massed band entertainment. The full day of activities closed with a reception for all alumni and friends at the home of the College President and the annual dance at Rieger Armory.

The following statements were made by Mr. Hocker in closing the Homecoming Buffet:

Dr. Mittler, members of the faculty, fellow officers and members of the Northeast Missouri State College Alumni Association:

It has been an honor and a privilege to serve on the Board of Directors of our College Alumni Association for the past three years, beginning with the Centennial year, 1967. I have especially enjoyed working with the other officers, namely Past-President Seaton A. Bonta, Vice-President James R. Nevins, and Director of Alumni Activities R. Russell Harrison, who has also served as our Secretary-Treasurer.

I commend Mr. Harrison and his staff for their efficient work in publishing the NEMOSCOPE, the Alumni membership directory, and keeping a very accurate, complete and up-to-date mailing list. With these tools they keep us well informed about our College and our Alumni friends who live all over the globe.

Our organization continues to show steady growth. We as individuals can assist that growth by soliciting our contemporaries for Life - Annual, - and Joint membership in our Association.

As Dr. Mittler suggests, we can also help the College enrollment to grow by recommending it to qualified prospective students living in our areas.

I am enthusiastic about efforts to organize Alumni Chapters throughout the country, wherever we have sizeable groups of graduates. We do have them in many cities—on the east coast, in Florida, California, Arizona and elsewhere. Ours was formerly a small College which served the local area of northeast Missouri. Now we are much larger and our graduates are business and professional leaders in many states over the nation.

Through our Association we can encourage these graduates to enroll their sons and daughters at our College. In my opinion we should welcome with open arms students from beyond the borders of Missouri.

I take pride in the amazing growth of our State College in recent years. I would like to see even greater growth. I have an associate (Mrs. Hocker) who sometimes reminds me that her State College at Warrensburg is now nearly twice the size of mine.

In conclusion I should like, on behalf of the Alumni Association, to thank Dr. Mittler and his staff, with special mention of Russ Harrison, for a very fine All Day Program here on the campus. We expect to enjoy every minute of it.

—O. GLEN HOCKER

Dr. Weerts Publishes Book on Band Skills Development

Dr. Richard Weerts, Professor of Music and Chairman of the Instrumental Music Faculty at Northeast Missouri State College, has published a book under the title, Developing Individual Skills for the High School Band. This book was written by invitation of the Parker Publishing Company of West Nyack, New York. A principal purpose of the book is to aid the secondary school band director with the performance and pedagogical problems of the instruments of the band. It is intended to aid the band director who is interested in developing the individual skills of his students while still working within the context and framework of his normal educational setting.

Dr. Weerts received the B.S. degree (cum laude) from the University of Illinois and while at this institution received the A. A. Harding Award for "Highest Possible Achievement in University Bands." His masters and doctors degrees were received from Teachers College, Columbia University. He has been a member of the Northeast Missouri State College faculty since 1961.

MSEA Top Award Goes To Dr. Dean Rosebery

Dr. Dean A. Rosebery, Head, Division of Science at Northeast Missouri State College, Kirksville, was presented the 1968-69 Missouri Science Educator Award (MSEA) at the November 6 annual convention of the Science Teachers of Missouri (STOM) at St. Louis.

The awards recognize science educators, science teachers and science supervisors of Missouri, who, through active leadership and scholarly endeavor over a significant period of time, have made outstanding contributions to the advance of education in the sciences and science teaching. The first MSEA awards were presented at the November annual convention of STOM in 1968 at Kansas City, Missouri.

MSEA consists of a citation in the form of a walnut plaque in the shape of the State of Missouri. The gold-like, sun-ray inlay, of similar shape is suitably engraved to honor the outstanding service of the recipient to science and science education. The persons to be thus considered for the MSEA are first nominated, usually by fellow science educators in Missouri. Final selection is made by a committee appointed annually by STOM President in consultation with the retiring president and president-elect.

By thus recognizing and honoring these science educators, STOM hopes to stimulate and encourage other science educators to further endeavors in the realms of science.

Dr. Rosebery has been Head of the Division of Science since September, 1960. He was appointed to the academic rank of Professor of Biology in 1951. Institutions Dr. Rosebery has attended include: Northeast Missouri State College (B.S. degree), Virginia Polytechnic Institute (Ph.D. in Aquatic Zoology), Auburn University, University of Minnesota, and Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies.

Posthumous Award Of Medal of Honor To Former Student

Lance Corporal Jedh C. Barker, former student at NMSC was posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor October 31, 1969, by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew announced the United States Marine Corps. He was killed in Vietnam September 21, 1967. Barker was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Barker, Park Ridge, New Jersey.

The citation read: "For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of his life above and beyond the call of duty while serving as a machine gunner with Company F, Second Battalion, Fourth Marines, Third Marine Division, in the Republic of Vietnam on 21 September 1967. During a reconnaissance operation near Con Thien, Corporal Barker's squad was suddenly hit by enemy sniper fire. The squad immediately deployed to a combat formation and advanced to a strongly fortified enemy position, when it was again struck by small arms and automatic weapons fire, sustaining numerous casualties. Although wounded by the initial burst of fire, Corporal Barker boldly remained in the open, delivering a devastating volume of accurate fire on the numerically superior force. The enemy was intent upon annihilating the small marine force and, realizing that Corporal Barker was a threat to their position, directed the preponderance of their fire on his position. He was again wounded, this time in the right hand, which prevented him from operating his vitally needed machine gun. Suddenly, and without warning, an enemy grenade landed in the midst of the few surviving marines. Unhesitatingly and with complete disregard for his own personal safety, Corporal Barker threw himself upon the deadly grenade, absorbing with his own body the full and tremendous force of the explosion. In a final act of bravery, he crawled to the side of a wounded comrade and administered first aid before succumbing to his grievous wounds. His bold initiative, intrepid fighting spirit, and unwavering devotion to duty in the face of almost certain death undoubtedly saved his comrades from further injury or possible death and reflected great credit upon himself, the Marine Corps, and the United States Naval Service.

Over 600 Enrolled in College ROTC

Members of the College ROTC Unit are shown in formation during a drill exercise held earlier this fall. More than 600 male students are enrolled in the ROTC program new on the campus this year.

A traditional inspection is being conducted by ROTC Commanding Officer Col. John Gerrity. The new ROTC program is one of 283 Army Programs offered in colleges in the 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. More than 150,000 students are participating in the program.

He gallantly gave his life for his country."

His medals and decorations include: the Purple Heart; the Presidential Unit Citation; the National Defense Service Medal; the Vietnam Service Medal with one bronze star; and the Republic of Vietnam Campaign Medal.

Since that time he had filled pastorates at 20 different churches in this general area, his longest, being in Sheldon, where he was the minister over 30 years before his retirement about ten years ago. Mrs. Corporan preceded him in death in 1967. Survivors include five sons, three daughters, two sisters, 23 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Cynthia Campbell Green, 1946, died September 11 in Okmulgee, Oklahoma, where she and her husband, William T. Green, 1925, have lived for a number of years. Mrs. Green was an elementary teacher and at one time taught at Willard School in Kirksville. She is survived by her husband, one brother, W. M. Campbell of St. Charles, Illinois, one sister, Arie Burnham of Ethel, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services for Joseph Glenn Glascock, 1921, were conducted October 4 in Hannibal, Missouri. Military rites were conducted by the Emmette J. Shields Post No. 55, American Legion. Burial was in Centenary cemetery. Mr. Glascock died October 1 at Hinds Veterans Hospital in Maywood, Illinois, where he had been a patient for 20 years. He taught in a number of Missouri schools before his last teaching position at Hannibal high school. He retired in 1945 due to ill health and had been hospitalized since 1949. Mr. Glascock was a veteran of World War I, having served with the Army in France. He is survived by two sisters, two nephews and a number of cousins. The Nemoscope is indebted to Mary Bell Hart Glendinning, 1924, of Center, Missouri, for information about Mr. Glascock's death.

Myra Wright Pool, 1919, died unexpectedly August 26 at her home in Goldsberry, Missouri. Funeral services were held at the Goldsberry Community Church and burial was in Helton cemetery northwest of Goldsberry. Mrs. Pool's husband, Henry Pool, preceded her in death in 1961. She is survived by several nieces, nephews and cousins. Mrs. Pool had taught school at Barnes, Winigan and Grandview and later taught music in the Goldsberry area.

Surprising Bulldogs Grab Share in MIAA Grid Crown; Finish with 6-2-1 Record

Russ Sloan and his coaching staff at Northeast Missouri State may develop more talented football teams in the future. But is it doubtful they will ever forget the 1969 squad.

The Bulldogs, generally picked for fourth in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association, surprised even their most ardent fans by finishing in a first-place deadlock with Southeast Missouri State. Overall, the Bulldogs posted a 6-2-1 mark, the best since the 1965 MIAA championship campaign.

What ingredients produced these happy results? "It was fifty-fifty . . . tremendous spirit and personal sacrifice by our players and a great job done by my very capable staff in getting a lot out of our personnel," replied Sloan to the question. The staff was composed of Ron Toman, who directed the offense, Bill Richerson, who guided the defense, and Tony Yelovich, a graduate assistant who was in charge of the offensive forward wall. Other student assistants were Dick Brownlee, Don Stanley, Jerry Meyer, Russ Braudrick, and Mike Lock. "Everyone had a sense of pride and performed as a cohesive unit. Furthermore, we rose above many injuries."

The hospital list was an imposing one. It started the first week of practice when split end Mike Berentes (Rock Falls, Ill.), expected to be a vital cog in the aerial attack, suffered a shoulder separation, sidelining him until the fourth encounter. All-conference center John Bringer (Palmyra) dislocated an elbow in the second outing, and saw little action until the final two contests, playing in them at a guard slot. Gary Newcomb (Wheaton, Ill.), number one "rambler" in 1968, never saw a minute of competition this fall because of a chronic foot injury. His successor, Randy Dawson (Kansas City), was a fatality in the fifth game, and only performed in the season's finale, because Sloan's top punters were nursing assorted ailments. Safety Larry McGlaughlin sustained a knee injury, and when Dawson was sidelined, the responsibility of the deep defensive back fell in the lap of Kevin Miller (Mehlville), a 150-pound freshman not even listed on the varsity roster. Reserve Jeff Koroknay (Mansfield, Ohio) was assigned "rambler" duty.

"Going into pre-season drills, we had devised a zone-type defense for our secondary, based on Newcomb, who possessed a great knack as a 'wildcard' for finding the pigskin," explained Richerson. "Most of our deep backs didn't have a great deal of speed, and needless to say, the acute injury situation concerned us very much. However, the kids came through in fine style."

Richerson said he was not worried before the campaign about the defensive forward wall and linebacking corps. Judging from the all-loop selections, his confidence was not misplaced. Six of NEMS's front seven captured first or second all-conference honors. They were All-American middle guard

Frank Wagner (Oak Lawn, Ill.), one of only two unanimous choices, tackle John Suell (St. Louis), end Ken Bebermeyer (Washington, Mo.), and linebacker Aubrey Johnson (Kennett) to the first team, and tackle Greg Skinner (Tuscola, Ill.) and linebacker Bob Levy (Lexington) to the second group.

Pride was especially prevalent in the offensive unit. "Our running attack left quite a bit to be desired last fall (a mere 98 yard average), so we devoted considerable time to beefing up and polishing this department before our opener," the mentor explained.

And the 1969 ground game was more potent, rolling up 115 yards per clip. Rushing statistics probably would have been more impressive, if the top ground gainers, tailbacks Lenvil Elliott

(Richmond) and Lloyd Wiese (Baxter, Ia.), had not suffered bruised thighs late in the campaign.

However, there was good balance between the running and passing attack. A strong factor was the improvement of junior quarterback Don Cummings (Lombard, Ill.), who racked up 1531 yards and 15 touchdowns, clicking on 93 of 197 attempts through the air. The 5'11", 185 pound signal caller established a school mark with his yardage this autumn, according to available records. Cummings and slotback Charles Blakley (St. Joseph), second leading receiver, were first-team MIAA selections.

Berentes, who grabbed 31 aerials for 559 yards to pace the Bulldogs in this category, made the honorable mention listings.

Improved blocking and pass protection were indeed important elements, according to Toman. "It didn't appear we had the personnel to do the job up front," Toman related. "And if that problem wasn't enough, injuries really complicated the situation."

Yelovich was forced to switch first-string guard Greg Wilson (Centralia) to the pivot spot. Although Wilson had never played this position, he soon adjusted and performed extremely well under the circumstances, according to the line mentor.

Tom Kelly (St. Louis), who succeeded Wilson at guard, experienced recurring knee trouble late in the campaign, so when Bringer came off the shelf in the latter stages of the season, he manned Kelly's spot. Another man finding himself at an unfamiliar position was George Kaleta (Calumet City, Ill.), who was told in August he would be moved from defense to offensive tackle. The line coach also praised tackle Boyce Wooley (Dexter), whose desire and competitive spirit overshadowed his limited speed. The 5'10", 225 pound senior was an honorable mention choice in the league.

"None of the fellows who had to play new positions sulked about it . . . they were quite willing to learn for the good of the team," declared Sloan. Perhaps, echoing the sentiments of the squad was a remark by the tri-captains, Suell, Bringer and Levy, that

NMSC Wrestlers Show Promise As Season Opens

The State College Wrestling team which has won the MIAA Conference championship the past two years was expected to be strong again when this season opened on Dec. 6.

Eight returning lettermen and seven returning squadmen made Coach Tony Yelovich optimistic about the 1969-70 campaign. Monogram recipients, who helped the Bulldogs compile a glittering 16-1 dual record last winter, included Curd Alexander (Edwardsville, Ill.) (118-30); Ray Moncavage (Mt. Carmel, Pa.) (130-37); Harry Brown (St. Louis) (130-47); Steve Miller (Cedar Rapids, Ia.) (137-47); Matthew Stallings (St. Louis) (147-52); John Sticht (Roxana, Ill.) (177-90); George Simmons (St. Louis) (177-90); and Rich Beard (Ottawa, Ill.) (heavy-weight). Simmons will not be eligible until the second semester.

Returning squadmen were Bob Bilder (Mt. Carmel, Pa.) (139-47), Stan Huggens (Bloomfield, Ia.) (160-67), Dan Klein (Harlan, Ia.) (160-67), Larry Kersten (Harlan, Ia.) (118-30), Martin Pingel (Fox Lake, Ill.) (118-30), Roger Hodapp (Harlan, Ia.) (147-52), and Don Sherer (Burlington, Ia.) (125-30).

Most impressive among new candidates for the squad were Bob Albanese (Hillsdale, N.J.) and Bob Miller, younger brother of Steve.

While the Bulldogs could put a veteran squad on the mat, they were facing a rugged schedule that included Nebraska University (Omaha), Missouri University, Northwest Missouri State, Central Missouri State and several strong tournaments.

Pictured above are members of the first football team at the First Normal School, now called Northeast Missouri State College. This aggregation played its first game on November 2, 1900, with Oakland Academy. The Kirksville school came out on top, 76-0, and the 1900 squad went on to compile a 3-2-1 record, losing to the American School of Osteopathy and Kirksville High School, and playing Missouri University to a 0-0 deadlock. The year before, football made its first appearance on the campus, as a few young men began kicking the pigskin around and throwing it to each other. Soon sides were chosen and the sport inaugurated.

Players on the 1900 team were: Leon E. Thompson, W. J. Lee, B. P. Six, captain, R. E. Griggs, William Minton, T. M. Evans, Frank Ross, R. C. Divers, G. Broyles, George Overfelt, C. A. Roberts, and S. C. See.

the 1969 aggregation was a "closely knit group that believed in ourselves."

What about 1970? The Bulldogs lose 17 seniors, 12 of whom logged considerable time on the gridiron. "Our biggest task will be replacing some dependable offensive linemen and about 50 per cent of our defensive front," Sloan observed. "We'll need to recruit people who can help us immediately."

Coach King Has High Hopes for Bulldog Cagers as Schedule Begins

Six returning lettermen and a promising group of transfers and freshmen greeted Basketball Coach Boyd King, as he started molding together what hopefully would be an MIAA title contender.

"We should be improved overall this winter," commented King before his first preseason workout. The Dean of Conference Mentors will be at the Bulldog helm for the 24th consecutive campaign. "I feel our defense will be better, as should our shooting, scoring ability and bench strength," declared King. His 1968-69 edition shot a so-so 41.1 per cent from the field, 58.2 per cent from the charity line, and only averaged 73.5 points per game. Another asset this year should be improved speed and quickness.

"However, while we won't be able to dominate the backboards, we should hold our own in the rebounding department," he explained. The mentor's roster does not include anyone taller than 6'6", so the Bulldogs may have difficulty controlling the boards enough to run with the ball.

Northeast Missouri State lost six men from last year's aggregation, plus forward Paul Ozug, sidelined with a knee injury after mid-season. Others having departed are center Dan O'Connell, forwards Ken Parker and Steve Jurkins, forward-guard Mike McPherson, and guards Dan Sullivan and Dick Hlavek. Parker was on the first five the final stages of the 1968-69 campaign. Jurkins has decided not to play the roundball sport this year. The Bulldogs finished 11-11 overall and in a tie for third in the MIAA.

Most of the returnees started last season at one time or another. Junior forward Claude Wilson (Chicago), a second team all-league choice, paced the team in scoring and rebounding with a 13.0 and 8.2 average, respectively. Wilson, a clever operator around the hoop, developed rapidly as a sophomore. King's starting backliners, Bob Fuka (Cicero, Ill.) and Ron Sterchi (Olney, Ill.), are being counted on to provide more zip in the outcourt point production. Fuka hit at a 9.3 clip and Sterchi, 8.2, a year ago. Charles Currie (Decatur, Ill.), 6'2", Jerry Buhr (Waterloo, Ia.), 6'6", and Don Bramlett (St. Louis), 6'4", all of whom started at least one contest last winter, have a crack at first-five assignments this season. Terry Winters (Plymouth, Ill.), a returning squadman, has improved tremendously, according to King. He is expected to make a strong bid for a backline berth.

Newcomers who have impressed the mentor are: Lewis Gregory, 6'3" forward from East St. Louis (Ill.) Assumption; Dave Davis (Huntsville), 5'9" guard from Trenton Junior College; Tom Burke (Clinton, Ia.), 6'5" center from his home town junior college; Pat Sullivan (Cedar Falls, Ia.), 6'1" guard from Ellsworth Junior College; and Jim Richardson (Milan), 6'3" forward from Trenton Junior College.

Other new candidates are: Craig Irsch (Kirksville), Mike Church (Jerseyville, Ill.), Paul Garnett (Madison, N. Y.), all freshman guards; Gary Shields (Clinton, Ia.), freshman guard-forward; Bob Witzel (Jennings), freshman forward; Kenneth Koehn (Mor-

Cross-Country Squad Completes Season With 6-2 Duel Mark

Coach Kenneth Gardner's cross-country runners were unsuccessful in retaining the MIAA Conference title, but they finished 14th in the NCAA College Division Meet and recorded a 6-2 duel mark.

Top Bulldog Harriers in the league encounter, captured by Central Missouri State, were seniors Tom Logan of Sedalia and Keith Allen of Eldon, Ia. who finished second and third, respectively. Allen placed 37th and Logan, 67th in the NCAA meet.

Duel victories were over Culver-Stockton, Lincoln University, Western Illinois, William Penn, Iowa University and Central Missouri. Setbacks were at the hands of powerful Minnesota and Illinois State.
