Marcia Mossbarger Named Miss Missouri Represented State in Miss America Pageant

Miss Marcia Mossbarger, 1970, was crowned Miss Missouri in the annual Miss Missouri Pageant held July 9-11 at Mexico. She represented Missouri in the annual Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, September 7-12.

Miss Mossbarger received the B.S. in Education Degree at the 1970 spring commencement with a major in physical education. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Mossbarger of Laclede, and was sponsored by the Brookfield Jaycees.

She was a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha Social Sorority, Cheerleader, K-Dette Drill Team, Modern Dance Club, and Physical Education Majors Club on the NMSC campus. She was named to "Who's Who Among American College Students".

Queen Marcia had been first runner-up in the National Miss Rural Electrification contest held in Las Vegas last September, receiving a $1,000 scholarship. She received an additional $1,700 in scholarships by receiving the Miss Missouri title, along with a $1,500 wardrobe, the use of a new car for one year and numerous other awards. She had previously been a candidate as homecoming queen at NMSC in 1968, and was chosen Miss Congeniality at the Northeast Missouri Fair in 1969.

The new Miss Missouri is 5 feet 6 inches, weighs 125 pounds and has blonde hair and brown eyes. She lists horseback riding, swimming, water-skiing and basketball as her hobbies.

Marcia competed against 30 other contestants for the Miss Missouri title. For her talent she did a tap dance routine to "Raindrops Keep Fallin' on My Head". She wore a red vinyl coat and held a red umbrella during the routine.

The contestants were judged on talent, poise, personality and appearance in swimming suit and evening gown competition. Contestants arrived in Mexico on Tuesday morning. A typical day during the pageant began at 7:00 a.m. with breakfast and immediate departure for the field house for practice, which ran normally until 11:00 p.m. each evening.

Following her coronation, Marcia told the large crowd, "This is the most thrilling moment of my life. I owe a lot of thanks to a lot of people." She thanked the Mexico and Brookfield Jaycees, and the other contestants. "Last, but not least, I want to thank my parents who made everything possible. I will try to do my best in Atlantic City, and will represent Missouri as best I can," she said in closing.

Upon her return to Brookfield, Marcia was honored by a parade which began at the site of a banner which said, "Welcome Home Miss Missouri", and continued through downtown Brookfield. She was greeted officially by Missouri Lieutenant Governor William Morris, and received congratulatory telegrams from Governor Warren E. Hearnes, Northeast Missouri State College President, Charles J. McClain and 6th District Congressman, W. R. Hull, Jr.

She was presented a bouquet of red roses by the President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and a key to the city by the mayor of Brookfield. She has made numerous personal appearances since the July pageant.

PR Office Requests List Of Local Shoppers

A recent phenomena in the newspaper field is the neighborhood shopper. These are usually designed primarily as an advertising means for community shops. Most of them carry items of local news interest. We want to supply them with news of students from the area they serve. Our problem is that there seems to be no single listing of these publications.

We would like to have copies or the name and the address of these papers so we can include them on our mailing list. You can render your alma mater a service by furnishing a copy of the shopper serving you. Send to:

Lyle A. Hellyer, B.S.E. 1951 and M.A. 1956, was featured in February as "this week's personality" in a story by Theda K. Long in the Centerville (Iowa) Iowegian. Following is a resume of that story. Mr. Hellyer is Dean of Centerville Community College, having come to Centerville in the fall of 1969 assigned to the position of Administrative Assistant in charge of Elementary Education. At that time the college was located on the top floor of the high school building. At the end of that year Mr. Hellyer was named Dean to replace Robert Newshan who had accepted a position with the State Dept. of Education.

At the time he became Dean there was an enrollment of 92 students and three full time faculty members. The most urgent need for the college, in Dean Hellyer's thoughts, was to get the students out of the high school building. The result was negotiation with Iowa Southern and moving into the top two floors of the ISU building. Still the science, music and physical education facilities had to be shared with the high school. Recruiting, too, paid off and 123 students were attending CCC that fall. Staff members were added as enrollment continued upwards. During the campaign to pass a school bond vote to purchase Fannon Hall, Dean Hellyer really made a commitment when a goal of 400 students was set. On a cold and snowy election day the voters passed the bond issue by 86 per cent, due in large part to a well organized and enthusiastic campaign.

Dean Hellyer, who had been a coach before coming to Centerville, began to build the athletic department at the college. In the fall of 1963 CCC moved into Fannon Hall. "We really thought it was terrific," said Hellyer, and enrollment continued to increase: 178, 300, 378, 524, reaching the peak of 811 in 1968-69. The faculty meanwhile kept pace and now has a fulltime staff of 45. Classes meet in seven different buildings and the high school athletic facilities are still used.

After his graduation from NMSC Dean Hellyer began his career as an educator at Winfield, Missouri, where he taught and coached four years. After that he was superintendent of schools at La Belle, Missouri, the youngest superintendent in the State of Missouri. Then he came to Centerville. He is presently attending Drake University on Saturdays, working toward an Education Specialist degree and plans to attain the Ph.D.

Mrs. Hellyer is the former Romalynn Liggett, 1955. She is presently teaching at Howar Junior High School. The Hellyers have two daughters, Jan, a senior, and Jill, a sophomore, at Centerville High School.

"I'm a joiner," Dean Hellyer related. "I enjoy community projects." As a result he belongs to Rotary, Chamber of Commerce, Shriners, Elks and the Methodist Church, serving in many official posts. He has been a firm booster of the Community Chest Drive, Housing for the Elderly, Homemakers Service, which includes the 18-80 Club promotion, and the Blood Bank.

This week's personality believes in the Community College concept. "There must be some kind of educational change occurring, without such a change, education really isn't happening. A lot of people forget about why a school is really here. There is a real economic need for schools like Centerville," stated Hellyer. Will students go on after graduating from a two-year college? Statistics show that out of 170 graduates in the Arts and Science programs this last year, three-fourths of them are now enrolled in a four-year school. The local college has a higher percentage than most junior colleges. Grades of the students who go on are sent back to college. By studying these grades Dean Hellyer and his staff analyze what they can do to improve CCC. The big difference at CCC is personal vs. the impersonal. As long as our personality, Dean Lyle Hellyer, remains at the head of Centerville Community College that personal touch will remain.

Gridiron Bulldogs Build MIAA Crown Defense

Can the 1970 Bulldog football edition produce an encore to the 1969 campaign? Coach Russ Sloan, of course, would like nothing better, but he must find enough offensive interior linemen and develop forward wall depth, before another Cinderella act can be performed.

NMSC shared the MIAA Conference title with Southeast Missouri State last fall, and sported an overall 6-2-1 ledger. However, only one returning interior performer, guard Greg Erson (St. Louis) is expected to be in the offensive front seven when the Bulldogs collide with powerful Western Illinois in the Sept. 19th opener on the road.

"We need people who can block straight ahead and protect in passing situations, so we'll take a long look at new and old centers, guards and tackles," remarked Sloan, who is beginning his second campaign at the Bulldog helm.

The center slot could be manned by either Dale Gildehaus (Washington, Mo.) or Steve Franklin (Higginsville), both squadmen, who were switched to that position in spring practice. But three freshmen, Karl Wisbrock (St. Louis Lindbergh), Kent Sincox (Kansas City Truman) and Tom Roberts (Iowa City, Ia.), should be strong contenders. Steve Lahay (St. Louis), a returning letterman, probably will handle long snaps to the kickers again.

Gildehaus could also figure in the picture at guard, according to his mentor. Other prime candidates include squadman Randy Ball (Columbia) and three yearlings, Jerry Braden (St. Louis Hazelwood), Jack Petrovich (St. Louis McCluer) and Pat German (Columbia Hickman).

At least seven men will be vying for two offensive tackle assignments. They are veteran Gary Lacey (St. Charles), squadmen Bart Crawford (Pittsfield, Ill.) and John Freeman (Kansas City), ment in his first season, will be on hand.

DON CUMMINGS

The NMSC boss is high on the chances of squadman Jim Gephardt (Washington, Mo.), successfully converted from offensive fullback to defensive middle guard in the spring, to fill that void. Petrovich and Ball are possibilities, if they are not manning offensive guard berths.

Bill Dennis (Princeton) will probably get the nod at the defensive tackle post, opposite second-team all-conference Greg Skinner (Tuscola, Ill.). Dennis Augustine (Grundy Center, Ia.), a returning squadmember, might also be able to bolster the defensive tackle situation.

All-league Ken Bebermeyer (Washington, Mo.) is a certainty at one defensive terminal spot, but the other end assignment is "up for grabs", according to Sloan. Top prospects for this hole are three yearlings, Mike Anderson (Kansas City Westport) and Mike Oppermann and Dave Watercotte, teammates at St. Louis Lindbergh. If squadman Luther Bennet (Kirkwood) bounces back successfully from knee surgery, he should be a contender.

Sloan is not as concerned about his depth at the defensive secondary, running back and offensive end positions. The entire deep back corps is intact, including "rambler" Jeff Koroknay (Mansfield, O.), halfback Charles Brown (St. Louis) and Bob Hepker (Center Point, Ia.) and safety Kevin Miller (Mehlville). In addition, "rambler" Gary Newcomb (Warrenville Ill.), and halfbacks Randy Dawson (Kansas City), Mike Dahlberg (Lombard, Ill.) and Joel Cockley (Lexing-and four first-year performers, Joe Feldman, (Washington, Mo.-St. Francis Borgia), Randy Russo (St. Louis Hazelwood), Tom Bueker (Washington, Mo.) and Steve Teter (Raytown). Lacey was on the verge of first-string duty a year ago. Crawford was forced to sit out the 1969 campaign with a knee injury.

Sloan must plug four defensive gaps, too. He feels he has an able linebacking replacement in Ken Powers (Chicago), who has not played since he was a freshman regular in 1967. His running mate will be all-league Aubrey Johnson (Kennett), Deon Johanning (Washington, Mo.), who showed steady improve-ton, O.), sidelined by assorted ailments last autumn, can be counted on. Newcomer Jim Porter (St. Louis, Lindbergh) might have too many experienced secondary men ahead of him, but Sloan believes he possesses the necessary tools to do the job with experience.

Tailback Lenvil Elliott (Richmond), last year's rushing leader, should get able support from several new highly regarded running backs. Wichita State transfer Pete Robertson (East St. Louis, Ill.) was the top Missouri Valley Conference sophomore ball carrier in 1968, making the second all-loop selections. Freshman Tim Hayes (Washington, Mo.) led the St. Louis area in scoring two of the past three seasons, and rolled up 3,748 yards during his four-year career. Other bright prospects are yearlings Marvin Robinson (Monroe City) and Dean Morton (St. Louis Parkway West).

All-conference slotback Charles Blakley (St. Joseph) and fullback Al Fulton (Kankakee, Ill.) are returning starters.

Sloan will be seeking a stand-in for quarterback Don Cummings, (Lombard, Ill.) who accounted for 1,531 yards via the airways in 1969. Bob Gibson, transfer from Wentworth Military Academy, seems to be the best bet for this responsibility, but squadman Jim Holmes (St. Louis) showed improvement this spring.

Regular offensive ends Tom Gerdine (Kansas City) and Mike Berentes (Rock Falls, Ill.) will be difficult to dethrone. Best bets to push them are returning numeral recipient Steve Jurkins (Springfield, Ill.), and freshmen Bob Arthur (St. Louis McCluer), Warren Daniels (St. Louis Lindbergh) and Bob Warren (Mehlville).

Boyd King Resigns Coaching Post at Close of 70-71 Season

NMSC head basketball coach Boyd King 1937 has resigned from the position effective June 30, 1971. Announcement of the resignation was made on August 18th.

In making the announcement Coach King said, "The Board of Regents has honored my request and accepted my resignation at its recent meeting. After 24 great years with this College, I decided it was time for me to step aside as head coach. However, I look forward to the 1970-71 season and expect it to be a banner year for the Bulldogs."

"We are grateful for the services Coach King has performed for the College," President Charles J. McClain said. "Mr. King has fielded some outstanding teams and many of his students have become prominent coaches throughout the country," Dr. McClain noted. "His teams have won better than two thirds of their games in the 24 years Mr. King has been coach and that is a pretty good record in any league," Dr. McClain added. Bulldog quintets, under the tutelage of the mentor, have won 362 contests against only 190 losses and have claimed six MIAA Conference championships.

While a student at the College, King earned 11 varsity letters from 1932 to 1937. Upon graduation, he coached football and track and assisted in basketball for two years at Pittsfield (Ill.) High School. In 1939, he moved to Hannibal High School to become head track and cage coach and assistant football mentor.

King entered the Navy in March, 1943, as an ensign in the V-5 aviation program. At the University of North Carolina, he served as assistant cage coach at the pre-flight school until August, 1945. Beginning in August, 1945, he served as head basketball coach at the U.S. Naval School in Norfolk, Va. After going on the inactive list in January, 1946, as a lieutenant, he returned to Hannibal to become Athletic and Physical Education Director for the school system. At the close of the 1945-46 school year, he resigned there to join the coaching staff at the State College.

BOYD KING

"Procedures to be followed in the employment of a successor to Coach King will be announced at a later date," Dr. McClain said.

When queried about his plans after June, Coach King stated, "At the present time my plans are incomplete. I have the option of remaining at the College as an instructor in the division of Health and Physical Education."

'70 Edition of Cross-Country Team Shows Strong Balance

Coach Kenneth Gardner has not yet marked off the 1970 season as strictly a rebuilding year. However, he is realistic about any possibility of duplicating last fall's dual mark and runner-up finish in the MIAA Conference Meet.

The Bulldogs posted a 6-2 log, losing only to powerful Minnesota and Illinois State, but Gardner must take up the slack left by the departure of his top two runners, Tom Logan and Keith Allen. They placed second and third in the league outing, respectively.

Gardner hopes four returning lettermen—Pat Sullivan, Loren Moes, Tom Walsh and Bill Chickering—can help fill the void. He may get a boost from two other sources, returning squadmen and newcomers. Bob Hunnedosse and John Cowen, who did not earn 1969 monograms, might be darkhorses for top positions. Cowen was the intramural cross-country champion last fall.

Nick Francis, Hardie Smith, Clarence Dottery and Ron Chacey, four track distance men, could help in short races. Two newcomers expected to make their presence felt are Ira Price, a transfer from Meramec Community College, and Linley Lipper, freshman from Kahoka. Price has been clocked at a shade above 20 minutes in the four-mile event. Lipper won the Class M indoor mile title and placed high in the state prep cross-country meet.

"Since we probably won't have many individual winning efforts in our meets, we'll depend on strong team balance this season," Gardner notes. If balance is a prevailing factor, the mentor's 1970 edition could prove a pleasant surprise.
