

Northeast Today

November 3, 1975

AN ALUMNI RECEPTION AND OPEN HOUSE is scheduled for Thursday in St. Louis in connection with the state teachers conventions. The reception is scheduled from 3:30-5:30 p.m. in the Mayon Room of the Bel-Air Hilton. Everyone is welcome.

HAND IRONS, ANTIQUE KITCHEN UTENSILS and historical costume adaptations from the Division of Home Economics are on display in the main lobby of the library today through Nov. 14. The items are from the collections of Lydia Inman, graduate dean and head of the Home Economics Division, and Rose Shanight of the same division.

Historic costume adaptations and drawings were done by students in Carolyn Siddens Home Economics Draping class. The costumes featured are adapted from the 1700's and early 1800's and are samples of current fashion trends.

THE STAFF OF THE LIBRARY'S CIRCULATION DEPARTMENT extends a "thank you" to the faculty members who responded to their letter of September 30 regarding the return and renewal of library materials.

FACULTY NOTES....Cynthia Phillips and Carolyn Siddens, Home Economics, attended a regional meeting of the Association of College Professors of Clothing and Textiles Oct. 30-31 in Lincoln, Neb. The meeting dealt with communication and clothing.....Jim Barnes, Language and Literature, has had three poems accepted for inclusion in Colorado-North Review, a nationally distributed literary magazine headquartered in Greeley, Colo. Also, a review of Jim's book of poetry, Carriers of the Dream Wheel, appeared in the Nov. 1 issue of The National Observer. The review points out that "the real discovery" of Carriers "is Jim Barnes .. who is already the poet he wants to become." He also will have a poem, "In Rudolph's Cave," included in Volume 11, Number 1, of the Wisconsin Review which is due out in January.....The Speech and Hearing Clinic, under the direction of Jim Sparks, Special Programs, evaluated the speech, hearing and language skills of 39 students at Heat Start Centers in Memphis, Kirksville and Lancaster recently.....Marlow Ediger, Education, has received notification that his manuscript "Architecture Around the World," a unit of study in the social studies, has been accepted for publication in Education magazine.....Research done by Will L. Selser, Science

FACULTY NOTES (continued)

Division, was cited in a recent information bulletin from the ERIC Science, Mathematics, and Environmental Education Information Analysis Center the Ohio State University. The subject was "Impact of the National Science Foundation Teacher Institute Program" and cited his work in the areas of subject matter competence and understanding science, the impact on student cognitive and achievement and their understanding of science....Jack Magruder, Science, made a presentation entitled "Enriching the Quality of Life" at the Third Statewide Conference of the Young Years Oct. 21-25 at Osage Beach. He is assistant director of the Missouri Environmental Studies Approach Project at the University. ....Jim Pauls and Ed McEndarfer, Fine Arts, both had works accepted in the annual Missouri Crafts Council Show which will travel throughout the state for a year. Jim submitted two copper bowls entitled "Intellectual Reification I and II" and Ed will be represented by a piece entitled "Within an Inchworm of Disaster." ....James S. Bailey, Education, attended and participated in workshops at the North Central Association of Counselor Educators and Supervisors Convention Oct. 24-25 in Kansas City. He was responsible for the extended skill building sessions at the convention....Will L. Selser, Science, attended the National Science Foundation Chautauqua Short Course Oct. 15-16 at the University of Missouri-Kansas City. He will return for a second two-day session Feb. 26-27....Eleanor Ellebracht, Odessa Ofstad, Elizabeth Schuetz and Ruth Schutte, Libraries and Museums, attended the 75th annual conference of the Missouri Library Association recently in Jefferson City. The University sponsored a booth in the exhibit area that told the stories of faculty/library cooperation in student learning. Jack Dvorak and Linda Heun, Language and Literature, Leon Karel, Fine Arts, and Robert Schnucker, Social Science, also attended. George Hartje, Libraries and Museums, also presented a paper at the meeting....Lydia Inman, Rose Shanight and Jane Abbott, Home Economics, accompanied 30 home economics students recently on a tour of the Vocational Technical Center and Chester R. Anderson Pre-Vocational School in Kansas City....Charles G. Fast, Health and Physical Education, had his article "A Study of the Health Knowledge of R.O.T.C. Freshmen Students, NMSU, 1972" published in the Sept.-Oct. issue of Health Education, American Alliance for Health, Physical Education and Recreation....The editor of Dog Soldier notified Tomasaki, Language and Literature, that his poem "Home Place" will appear in a forthcoming issue. Tomasaki also had another poem accepted into Blackberry. ....Andrew Grossbardt, Language and Literature, has had three poems accepted for publication in the Slackwater Review published in Lewiston, Idaho. The poems are "In the Tetons", "The Traveler" and "In Its Own Cold." He has also had two poems accepted by Colorado North Review which is published in Greeley, Colo. The poems were "The Uninvited" and "Enough."....Lonny Morrow, Special Programs, spoke to Richard Herholtz's general psychology class at Unionville Oct. 23 on "Personal Assessment." On Oct. 24-25 he attended the annual meeting of the Missouri Assn. For Children With Learning Disabilities at the Lake of the Ozarks....Jerry L. Mayhew, Health and Physical Education, had his article entitled "Prediction of Maximal Oxygen Intake in Preadolescent Boys from Anthropometric Parameters" published in Volume 46 of Research Quarterly....A.J. Copley, Science, had his film "Grand Canyon Adventure" shown on KTVO yesterday....Linda and Dick Heun, Language and Literature, recently conducted a workshop on Implementing Learning Style Mapping in Atlanta, Ga. for 70 directors of basic Speech Communication courses. The workshop was funded by the Southern Regional Education Board.

IN AN EFFORT TO BOOST CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE UNITED WAY, the Safety and Security Division will issue pseudo traffic violation tickets one day this week, according to Olin E. (Swede) Johnson of the division. The force will issue special warning tickets that will state the violation and the charge that normally would have been made. As a public service offenders are being asked to contribute all or a portion of the charge to the local United Way campaign.

The division issued such special tickets last Friday also.