

NEMOSCOPE

the Northeast Missouri State University alumni magazine

Winter 1981, i.e. 1982
Volume 35, Number 2

Thanks, Wes!

Senior Ron Rommel shows his appreciation of Remington's gift

Inside

'Urban Cowboy' alumni enjoy Homecoming's round-up of activities pages 4, 5

Archaeology at NMSU from 1914 to 1981—learning from the past pages 8, 9

Rebuilt football Bulldogs roll to first MIAA championship since 1976 page 12

LETTERS

100 thanks

I wished to let you know how much my family and I enjoyed the account in the NEMOSCOPE of my 100th birthday celebration and that of Miss Ottie Greiner.

It seems remarkable that two Kirksville girls who grew up together, even living on the same street, and graduates of the same class should share a coming of age at the age of 100.

How I wish we could have been together at this special time. I have lived many years on the Coast enjoying my grand- and great-grandchildren. But even after so many years, I feel the ties of years long past that knit us close together.

Thank you so much for including me in your article.

Martha Hansen ('02)
15 Venado Drive
Tiburon, Ca., 94920

Sales talk

EDITOR'S NOTE: This letter was received in response to our Tel-Alumni campaign.

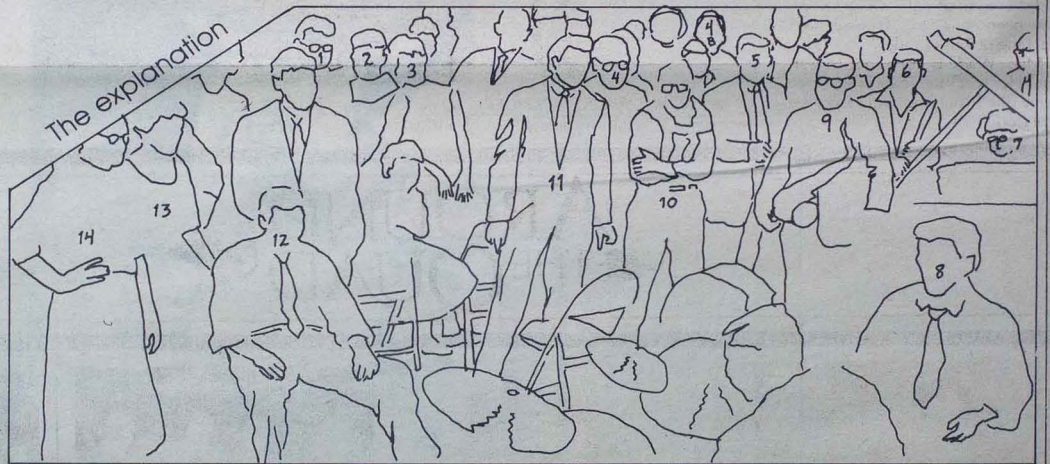

I talked with a very charming and delightful person who gave me a "real sales talk" for the school. If you had 20 of her caliber on your talking committee for a couple of months, you would equal the fund of Harvard or Yale.

In my day, we were just happy to be able to go to college after we spent all previous eight months saving pennies to pay room, board and books. Well, it was our foot on the ladder, at the price of $40 per month in school salary, it took a great amount of real saving to accumulate $150 to come to school in the summer and have our family do our laundry on weekends.

Much success and great happiness to your staff for the holidays from an old grad with love.

Mrs. Leota T. Rothschild ('25)
Orchard Hill Road
Branford, Conn.

Faces in the crowd

NAMING THE FACES—Basil D. Hunt, director of elementary education for the Normandy School District, has identified several of the alumni pictured in the fashion article in the last NEMOSCOPE. 1—J. C. Shelton ('56), 2—Mary Ann Caldwell Schmidt ('57), 3—Nancy Morris ('57), 4—John Mills ('58), 4b—Marvin Russell ('59), 5—Marion Strohman ('56), 6—Erv Neff ('58), 7—Norma Wilson Holzmeier ('57), 8—Henry Poth ('59), 9—Richard Wall ('57), 10—Engin Uralman ('58), 11—John Bragg ('58), 12—James Hedges ('60), 13—Mary Lou Bills ('56), and 14—Charles Günselman ('14).

Perhaps these are incorrect or you can identify others. Let us know.

NEMOSCOPE staff

President: Charles J. McClain
Editor in Chief: Thomas R. Shrout, Jr.
Associate Editor: Les M. Dunseith
Editorial: Joni Spencer, William H. Cable, Helen Bailey, Margaret Easley, John Andrews
Production: Bill Wehrman, Diane M. Davis, Celeste Gibeault, Anita Ward
Photography: Ray Jagger

The NEMOSCOPE is published quarterly by the Alumni Office of Northeast Missouri State University, Kirksville, MO 63501. Telephone 816-785-4125.

Letters may be addressed to:
Thomas R. Shrout, Jr.
Director of External Affairs
30 McKinney Center
Northeast Missouri State University
Kirksville, MO 63501

by Thomas R. ShROUT, Jr.
Editor-in-chief

One of the great teachers in the history of NMSU, professor emeritus of modern languages Nan Wade, died Sept. 21 in Columbia.

Though Miss Wade had lived well into her 90s and had been in failing health for several years, her death was sad. The newspapers had little way of knowing that this was a great woman and carried only a brief notice. Even in the age of instant communication, word didn't reach Kirksville until after the funeral.

No one from Northeast attended. I'll try to make up for that.

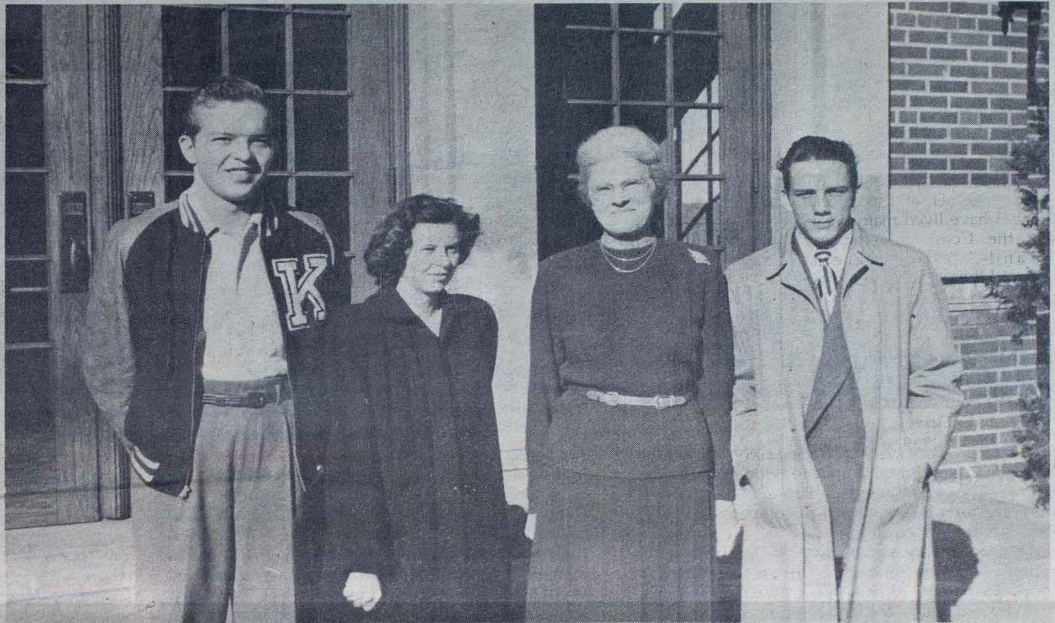

Miss Wade, as she preferred to be called (she held an earned doctorate), told her students that although she was a "Miss" there wasn't anything she had missed in her life. And there wasn't. She lived life to the fullest.

Homecoming after Homecoming, former students return to the campus recalling with admiration this fine teacher who influenced their lives.

In her file, retrieved from the campus archives, there is an evaluation of her World Literature class completed in June of 1939. Comment after comment goes like this: "This has been one of the most outstanding courses I have had. . . undoubtedly a big reason has been due to the splendid teaching of Miss Wade."

Miss Wade is gone, not forgotten. Her position has long since been filled, but she will never be replaced.

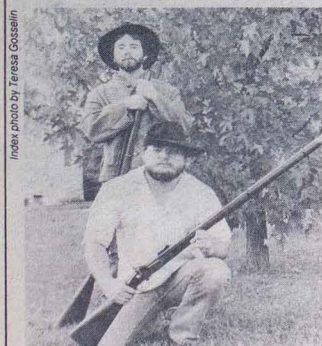

Miss Wade is gone, not forgotten

'48-'49 SOPHOMORE OFFICERS—Officers of the 1948-49 sophomore class pause with their adviser, Nan Wade, in front of Baldwin

Hall. The officers are DeForrest Wiksten, president; Betty Lee Wilcoxsen, secretary-treasurer; Miss Wade; and Paul Anderock, vice president.

AROUND THE QUAD

BLUE AND GRAY

Two students from Northeast have gone to the movies. Jon Shepherd, a graduate student, and Frank Yeckl, a sophomore, will appear this spring in the CBS television movie, "The Blue and the Gray." The two are Civil War buffs and will be helping recreate the Battle of Bull Run. Both are members of the St. Louis-based group called the Civil War Historical Association.

CHESS CHAMP

Rich Jackson, the 1977 reserve section winner of the U.S. Amateur Chess Championship and an NMSU junior, took on all challengers recently in the Student Union Building as part of a fund raiser for the Phi Sigma Epsilon pledges. He started playing chess at 8 and, at 21, he has won 50 tournaments in the past seven years. His goal is to become the United States and someday the World Chess Champion.

MINDPOWER WEEK

"State universities are a public resource" was the message from Gov. Christopher Bond in declaring it Mindpower Week in Missouri in October. NMSU President Charles McClain; Janice Legg, assistant professor of business and office education; and Dr. James Severns, professor of dramatics, took part in the ceremonies at the state capitol to advance the week's theme, "America's energy is mindpower."

MISS MISSOURI

Alumna Terry McDonnell ('81) is doing a series of radio announcements for NMSU in the St. Louis area. Terry is the reigning Miss Missouri and an admissions counselor for NMSU.

HICKORY STOMP

A football relay from Kirksville to Maryville got the Bulldogs off to a running start in winning the Hickory Stick game, 52-0. Dean of Students Terry Smith made the first hand-off, with University President Charles McClain anchoring the team by running the last mile into the stadium. The relay is a new tradition started this year by the Residence Hall Association.

Thank you, Wes Remington!

A former guard on Red Wade's early 1950s football teams returned to campus for Homecoming this year to make a halftime presentation of 8,000 shares of TechAmerica Group, Inc., a company that Wes Remington founded 10 years ago.

The stock Remington gave to the University recently went up for public sale on the American Stock Exchange. It had been valued as high as $100,000, making it the largest gift ever to NMSU.

The firm is engaged in developing, producing and marketing veterinary medicines, including research in the fields of cloning and genetic engineering.

Remington played for Wade while a student at St. Joseph-Central High School. When his coach came to Kirksville as an assistant coach, Remington followed on a football scholarship.

"I was disappointed in his freshman year and did not intend to renew his scholarship. But Wes asked me for another chance, so I gave it to him," Wade recalls. "He showed a lot of determination to make the team and eventually alternated with another player as a starting guard."

Remington's admiration for Wade prompted the gift.

TechAmerica has shown exceptional growth since its founding 10 years ago by Remington, who started the endeavor with one employee—a secretary. The firm now has plants in Elwood, Kan.; Omaha, Neb.; and Fort Collins, Colo., with 315 total employees.

REMINGTON SHARES—President Charles McClain; Red Wade ('52), former football coach; and Ken Gardner ('47), athletic director; accept 8,000 shares of TechAmerica Group, Inc., from former student Wes Remington at halftime during Homecoming.

STEP IN TIME—Tom Duden ('54), former band director and assistant professor of music education, leads members of the Alumni Band past the Administration/Humanities Building as one of the lead groups in this year's Homecoming Parade. Some 75 former band members were on hand for the parade, reunion brunch (see story on page 16) and Alumni Dance. Also with the band were Betty Barker Malone, Chicago; Mary Welch Grossnickle ('77), Kirksville, and Jean Waters ('76), Chicago.

Homecoming 1981

"We wear bifocals, hearing aids, dentures..."

A glance at the past and vision of the future were the two contrasting elements that unified Homecoming 1981.

Wes Remington's gift of TechAmerica shares, the largest gift in the history of NMSU, provided the look to the future. It symbolizes the increased help alumni are giving the University and the students (see related story on this spread).

James T. Craig's ('31) backward glance at the annual Homecoming banquet reminded alumni of those golden days gone by. Craig was assisted by Franklin Greene ('41), Redlands, Calif., and Tom Churchwell ('56), assistant to the dean of instruction, as the featured banquet speakers.

The speakers were natural spinoffs of the reunion brunches held prior to the football game by the band and the classes of 1931, 1941, 1956 and 1971.

Perhaps Craig summed up the feelings of all alumni when he said:

"As we walked across the campus today, we went slower than we did when we were freshmen. We didn't know about jogging then, but many's the time we ran to get to class on time.

"At the parade this morning, I saw some of us sitting on folding chairs or leaning on something. In coming up the stairs here at the Student Union, we didn't skip a step, like we usually did on the stairs back in Kirk Auditorium.

"We wear bifocals, hearing aids, dentures, and our replacement joints really jolt the security buzzers at the airports. Some of us are overweight and a bit bald, and we certainly don't have that athletic look we once had.

"You girls have lost the color in your hair, and your svelte figures are gone. And fellows, your hair doesn't have that brushed-down 'stay-comb' look it did have. You girls have not only changed the way you look, but you've also changed your names. This has bothered me all day."

After the banquet, alumni polished off the evening to the big band sounds of the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonians at the Shrine Club.

Homecoming 1981 was a success in large part due to the alumni Homecoming steering committee: Henry Boucher ('31), Dean Rosebery ('41), Marietta Jayne ('41), Vic Cochran ('41), Martha Ayers ('41), Harold Willis ('41), Tom Churchwell ('56), Al Holzmeier ('56), and Mary Jane Kohlenberg ('56).

MUSICAL QUEEN—Karen Quade, senior music major from Quincy, Ill., served as Homecoming queen. Cheerleaders Denise Johnston, Janie Barry, Dave Sedivec and Ron Rommel helped cheer the Bulldogs to a 20-10 win over Warrensburg.

FRIENDS REUNITED—Vic Cochran ('41), assistant professor emeritus of science, and Betty Stutler Cochran ('43), assistant professor of business education, say hello to Clark Stutler ('29), Englewood, Colo., and James Craig ('31), Clio, Mich., at the Homecoming Banquet.

Photos by Ray Jagger
Story by Thomas R. Shrout, Jr.

Greek life

1981 grads earn Sig Tau awards

Two 1981 NMSU graduates received honors from the Sigma Tau Gamma National Fraternity at the fraternity's national convention in August.

D. W. Cole was named the recipient of the Ellsworth C. Dent "Man of the Year" Award, only the second member of the NMSU chapter to receive this recognition. Craig Towbin received the Stan Musial Sportsmanship Award as the Sig Tau student athlete who best exhibits the traits of sportsmanship and character exemplified by Musial, the former St. Louis Cardinal great and an honorary member of the fraternity.

Cole maintained a 3.5 grade point average at NMSU and served as president of the Student Senate in 1979-80 and was president of the Beta chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma in 1980-81. The only other NMSU student to be recognized as the outstanding senior by the national fraternity was J. Gregory Rumpf ('79), who is now the assistant city manager in Moberly, Mo.

Towbin played quarterback for the Bulldogs for two years, setting school records for most completions in one game (26) and most pass attempts in one game (52).

Both Towbin and Cole are now living and working in St. Louis.

Tri Sig is top chapter

The NMSU chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma was awarded the Chapter Efficiency Award by the national sorority for 1980-81, one of the top two awards given by the sorority.

Kelly Alden, senior and sorority president, said the award was based on the accuracy and timeliness of correspondence with the national sorority as well as on several of their chapter activities. Sigma Sigma Sigma reached its quota last spring and again this fall, she said, making it as large as possible among the NMSU sororities. The group also received the Panhellenic President's Cup for the best GPA last year.

Rush numbers up

Rush for both fraternities and sororities was up this fall over last year. A total of 173 men pledged a fraternity during sign-up while 78 women pledged one of the five sororities during traditional Yell-in ceremonies.

Only Tri-Sig reached quota during Yell-in, but Delta Zeta added three pledges in open rush to reach the 24 pledge quota. Sigma Kappa followed with 13 pledges during Yell-in, then Alpha Sigma Alpha with 10 and Alpha Sigma Tau with seven.

Delta Chi led the fraternities with 37, followed by Alpha Kappa Lambda with 26 and Sigma Tau Gamma with 25. Next were Phi Kappa Theta with 18, Phi Sigma Epsilon and Phi Lambda Chi with 15, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Tau Kappa Epsilon with 11, and Pi Kappa Phi and Alpha Gamma Rho with eight. Alpha Tau Omega did not participate in formal rush sign-up, and it was the first semester for Sigma Phi Epsilon to take part.

Phi Lamb wins. . . again

Homecoming float competition was again dominated by the Phi Lambda Chi fraternity, which this year doubled up with the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity to take first place. They were followed by the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and Sigma Sigma Sigma in second place with the University Players coming in third.

The Phi Lamb's have won the float competition for nine of the last 10 years, usually alternating with a sorority partner each year. They teamed with the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity this Homecoming to construct a float consisting of block NMSU letters topped by a cowboy hat and boots.

Mary Erwin ('57) elected president

Regents elect new officers

NEW MEMBERS—William R. Weber of St. Charles is a graduate of St. Louis University Law School. Helen and Robert Fenlon are partners in a Mexico, Mo., law firm and are NMSU graduates.

In August, Gov. Christopher Bond appointed two new members to the Board of Regents—William Randolph Weber of St. Charles and Robert Fenlon of Mexico. Both are attorneys; Fenlon is a 1965 graduate of NMSU.

Fenlon and Weber replace Marilyn Beck of Fulton and William Kasmann of Columbia, whose terms had expired. Most recently Kasmann had been serving as president of the Board of Regents and Mrs. Beck as vice president.

At the Sept. 22 meeting of the Board, Fenlon and Weber were sworn in as members and new officers were elected.

Elected president of the Regents was Mrs. Mary Erwin of Shelbina. Mrs. Erwin, a 1957 graduate of NMSU, has been a member of the Board since 1977. She had been a Shelby County teacher and school administrator for many years.

Elected vice president of the Board was Hilburn Fishback. Fishback is a Lewis County stockman, farmer and land owner.

Re-elected secretary was Mrs. Marietta Jayne of Kirksville. Mrs. Jayne is a prominent Kirksville civic leader and a former NMSU student.

The sixth member of the Board is former NMSU industrial education faculty member Ralph Shain. Shain is a 1940 graduate.

From circus to coursework

Star of center ring

Getting into the act is nothing new for junior mathematics major Anita Fashing Kiska, a circus performer for seven years. Anita performed in many acts, including unicycle, trampoline, tumbling, teeter board and web rope. Now Anita is in the center ring of activities at NMSU as president of the Pershing Society, vice president of Kappa Mu Epsilon Honorary mathematics fraternity, a student ambassador and a tutor.

The amateur circus in which she performed is an annual event at Triton Junior College in River Grove, Ill., (a Chicago suburb) where her father, Dr. Edward M. Fashing, taught for many years. Presently, Dr. Fashing teaches physics at NMSU.

Anita "joined" the circus in the seventh grade at the urging of her father and continued to perform even while a freshman at Northeast. Her father and sister also performed in the circus, as a clown and a unicyclist.

But it was Anita who literally stole the show and was voted Best Performer in 1977 by the Triton executive board. Her specialty act was on the web rope, which consisted of doing poses while hanging about 30 feet from the ground with her wrist or ankle hooked through a loop in a rope.

Anita says it was very difficult to climb up the rope in a feminine manner but she "had to make it look easy." After doing her poses, the grand finale of her act was a "super spin," which is a fast spin while hanging on from the wrist, so that her body was almost horizontal to the ground.

Anita did not perform with a net in any of her acts; however, she says she was never really scared. The dominant emotion she experienced while performing was a rush of excitement. "The adrenaline was running, and I felt I could do anything. In practice, it's hard to stay up for a long time, but when performing you don't notice the pain. Your whole body is alive—there's nothing so fun as performing!"

In the unicycle act, Anita performed with other unicyclists, including her sister. It was a "fun act" and included riding backwards, "dancing" with a partner and forming "stars" by joining hands in a circle. Anita still occasionally rides her unicycle around campus.

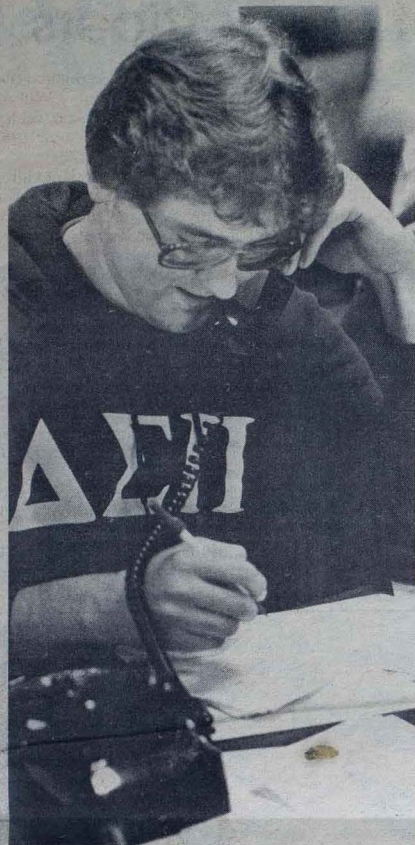

In the tumbling act the performers ran down a long runway, doing back flip-flops, ride-the-waves (several tumblers jump and roll in succession), and side-by-side chase-offs (tumblers do the same feats at the same time).

On the teeter board, one or two men jumped off a platform onto a board (like a teeter-totter) with Anita on the opposite end. She then did a back flip or a double back flip. One of her more spectacular landings was "the swan," with a male performer catching her by the stomach while she arched her back with her arms and legs extended in a graceful position.

A neck injury Anita sustained while working on the family farm in Sturgeon, Mo., prevents her from doing such acrobatics anymore. However, Anita still keeps active with more earthbound pursuits, such as studying, in preparation for a career teaching math or working with statistics.

TOP CALLERS—Delta Sigma Pi members like Rex Evans, sophomore, helped push the Tel-Alumni '81 project past its $60,000 goal. Delta Sig claimed the best organization trophy for the second consecutive year.

After four weeks of calling, Tel-Alumni '81 was in its final minutes. A rush at the end had pushed the total close, but making the goal of $60,000 rode on one final telephone conversation.

Last call for Tel-Alumni '81

It was, to say the least, a dramatic moment.

The Tel-Alumni campaign had been going for four weeks, and last year's best organization, Delta Sigma Pi business fraternity, was trying to retain its trophy. Even more important, the project had topped last year's total, but reaching the goal of $60,000 looked doubtful. As late as 9:25 p.m., five minutes before the campaign was scheduled to conclude, Delta Sigma Pi was still several hundred dollars behind the total set earlier by the Delta Chi fraternity of $3,340. And the overall total was still a bit short of the $60,000 goal.

And then, on the very last call of Tel-Alumni '81, sophomore Colleen Ritchie received a $600 pledge. Final score: Delta Sigma Pi, $3,762; Tel-Alumni '81, $60,228.

The exciting finish topped off four weeks of successful calling by student volunteers to alumni all across the country. The money from the Tel-Alumni campaign will support the University's Operation 1990 project, an effort to raise $2 million for the development fund by the year 1990. It was organized this year, as it was a year ago, by the Alumni Office and the NMSU Student Senate.

The $2 million goal of the program will eventually provide academic support for the University in three major areas: student development, faculty support and unrestricted funds. Student development will include funding of scholarship programs, research stipends and internships. Faculty support will involve support of research projects, as well as the institution of an endowed professorship program where outstanding professors and experts will visit the NMSU campus to lecture or teach courses on a temporary basis. The unrestricted funds will be used to supplement the University's general operating budget, Thomas R. Shrout, director of external affairs, said.

A number of prizes, most of which were donated by Kirksville merchants, were given to student callers during the campaign. Also, the top individual callers received prizes for their fund-raising efforts during Tel-Alumni.

Trophies for the top four organizations were awarded. Delta Sigma Pi was not only the top single-night organization, but was also the best overall group, raising a total of $6,952 in pledges. Delta Chi was second with an overall total of $6,386. Third place went to Alpha Sigma Gamma service sorority with an overall total of $4,697. Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity placed fourth by raising a total of $3,825.

Four individual callers stood out from the rest during the campaign. Jeff Goldammer, a sophomore from Russelville, Mo., raised a total of $1,903 during Tel-Alumni, followed by freshman Tony Lambright of Goshen, Ind., with a total of $1,635, and graduate student Randy Hultz from Madison, Mo., with $1,525. The best one-night total came from junior Ted Rodenkirk of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, who raised $1,095; the second best one-night total was Hultz' $880 on the final night of the campaign.

Shrout said the contribution of the student callers, alumni and the Student Senate made the program a success. "Everyone worked together so we could reach our goal," he said.

*"Somewhere ages and ages
hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood,
and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference."*

—Robert Frost

So begins the opening of the University's new Viewbook publication, the informational bulletin sent to high school students interested in Northeast. With those words, the University picks up on a new—yet very old—image. We may not be very big, but we're a quality university.

This quality image has been increasingly important in the University's recruitment recently, and the new publications carry on this image. In addition to the Viewbook, NMSU recently began distribution of a new poster and a bi-monthly news magazine aimed at potential freshmen.

"The students recognize these publications as superior," Terry Taylor, director of admissions, says. "Quality publications reflect a quality institution."

A major theme of the Viewbook, one that is carried through in the other publications as well, is people. Whenever possible, a photo of someone was used rather than a photo of something. "We have a tradition as a people-oriented university," Taylor says.

The news magazine, known as Purple Pride, began publication last spring and has been sent to as many as 50,000 high school seniors. It attempts to create a multi-faceted University image, Taylor says, contrasting NMSU's rural setting with its accomplishments on a national scope. It contains articles about people and events at Northeast, as well as practical articles of interest to the high school senior preparing to go off to college.

These publications are sent to students who have expressed an interest in Northeast, given out by the admissions counselors during high school visits and sent to a variety of high school teachers and counselors. Any NMSU graduates interested in receiving these publications, especially teachers or those with college age children, should write to Taylor in care of the Admissions Office, NMSU, Kirksville, MO 63501.

Digging into the history of

The Indian Mound Expedition
(from the May 5, 1914, Index)

On Saturday morning the Historical Society, under the skillful guidance of Prof. Otterson, loaded itself into hay racks, buggies, bicycles and other rigs and went on an archaeological expedition to some Indian mounds 12 or 14 miles northwest of Kirksville. It was accompanied by a large number of people from the history classes in school who were interested; the entire expedition numbering close to 50. Arrangements had previously been made, and the consent of the owners obtained, to excavate about several mounds in the vicinity of the Hazel Creek schoolhouse, and the country was reached by 11 o'clock. Already some students who lived in the neighborhood had begun the work, and during the day three excavations were made. In one mound a pit was dug about 10 feet deep by four feet wide and six or seven long, but nothing was found. Meanwhile about a mile away at the crest of the next hill, trenches had been run from the edge of another mound towards the center, and these shortly showed some material had been uncovered. In this grave four or five skeletons were gradually uncovered, but no implements were found in the vicinity. A third excavation was then made a few yards from the first mound investigated, and about six inches under the sod two more partial skeletons were revealed. The finds, as far as their condition would permit, were brought to Kirksville and will later be placed in the Indian collection of the Historical Museum.

Meanwhile the girls who had gone out with the expedition had chosen a place in the vicinity, delightfully shaded by trees, where they had spread a feast for the diggers, and about one o'clock work temporarily ceased and the ex-cavators attacked the material there assembled so vigorously that it also very soon ceased. It was noticed some little time after dinner several of the men seemed to find locomotion a serious problem. A renewal of depredations on the good Indians' honour seemed to limber them up easily.

The object of the expedition was partly to collect material for the museum. It was generally understood that in a grave with the dead it was customary to deposit some of the things a brave would need in the happy hunting ground, such as bows and arrows, pipes, axes, beads and wampum, or various utensils containing food or the like. It was also supposed that the graves would reveal some of the burial methods or customs of tribes in this vicinity. In this respect there was poor success, as the graves showed only skeletons, and more surprising still, they were unprotected by any top covering of stones or timbers. The legend in the neighborhood where the bodies were found has it that there had been a battle not far away, and that this group were therefore hastily buried. In some future expedition we shall attempt to locate a burial mound near some permanent settlement, in the hope that it will contain utensils and implements of various sorts.

Credit for the success of the expedition should first be given to Brothers Roberts, who made arrangements with the owners of the land on which the mounds were located; second, to Mr. Otterson for arranging the transportation and securing the tools for the excavators in such quantity as to keep the work moving rapidly; and Professor Fair and Mr. Ellet for careful work in the getting at the bones when the spade uncovered them, and for the photographs secured "en site"; and to a committee of the Historical Society composed of girls, and to all the rest of the girls for fixing up such a fine lunch.

SEARCHING FOR CLUES—Research archaeologist Roger Boyd surveys a field in the Chariton River Valley for signs of man's life thousands of years ago. A report of his findings will be submitted to the Missouri Department of Natural Resources. Students from Boyd's archaeology class take an active part in surveying historic sites. At the Chariton River Valley site, senior Mike Memmeyer, Boyd and senior Sandy Lewis study two arrowheads unearthed by a farmer's plow and discovered weeks later at the surveyed field.

life in northeast Missouri

"TODAY WE'RE more into trying to preserve our archaeological resources," Roger Boyd, research archaeologist at NMSU, says in comparing his methods to those of 1914. "People are becoming aware that Indians are people, too. Curiosity destroyed a lot in those days; people just didn't understand that it (excavating a burial mound) would be like a group of Indians coming along and digging up your aunt and uncle to see if a ring or two were buried with them."

Boyd says landowners with a burial mound on their property sometimes ask him to dig it up. "I explain it's best to leave it. Generally we don't excavate unless the site is to be destroyed, for instance, if it's in the path of a highway."

Instead, much of Boyd's work consists of surveying the land and analyzing the findings with the assistance of students enrolled in his archaeology class. Surveying involves a close study of the contours of the land and what lies on or near the surface, rather than excavation. Hills, valleys, fire-cracked rocks, pottery, scrapers, bones—these are all clues that can be pieced together to form a picture of the people that once lived there.

"Bone tools can indicate the type of clothes they made and, by their trash, you can tell how many people lived there and for how long," Boyd says. "We can get an idea of their lives just as if these people kept a diary."

A WRITTEN description, if not a diary, of what life was like thousands of years ago is just what the Missouri Department of Natural Resources requested from Boyd concerning the Chariton River Valley west of Kirksville. The Chariton Valley project, which began in spring 1980, is funded by a $25,000 matching grant from the DNR. Boyd "matches" the money with student manpower.

Most of his current archaeological work is done for this project, although Boyd occasionally does work at other sites in north Missouri. He has pieced together a good idea of what life was like for the earlier inhabitants of the area, especially those that settled along the Chariton River.

The valley is a rich Missouri landscape of rolling hills and bluffs overlooking the river; an ideal location for Indian campsites, and more recently, for the first white settlers in Adair County.

The legacy of these early settlers can be found today in as unassuming a place as a freshly plowed field in the valley. Boyd and his students carefully search the ground for rocks, but not ordinary rocks. They look for the influence of man—flakes of stone chipped off while making a tool or weapon, anvil stones used in processing plants, stone scrapers for hide preparation and arrowheads.

"We can get an idea of their lives just as if these people kept a diary."

—Roger Boyd, NMSU research archaeologist

"I LOOK on it (an arrowhead) as an art object, but to them it was a functional tool," psychology major Mike Mennemeyer, senior, says after finding an arrowhead in the field. "It's a real cultural experience."

Mennemeyer, like most students in the archaeology class, are there because they want to be. "A lot of times they're back the next semester," Boyd says. The class includes lectures, expeditions and lab work.

Through Boyd's studies, the story of life in the Chariton River Valley unfolds. It begins in 8,000 B.C.

Evidence, such as spearpoints found in the area, show Boyd that people lived in the region at least 10-12,000 years ago in a climate more like that of north central Alaska today. Bones discovered in the valley indicate that elephant-like mammoths and mastadons roamed the area. This was known as the Paleo-Indian period.

Boyd thinks the climate warmed about 9-10,000 years ago and the people became hunters and gatherers. The large horses and mastadons of the previous age disappeared, leaving in their place smaller animals such as deer and raccoons. Nut trees and tubers also provided sources of food for the residents of the area during this time.

THE ARCHAIC period of hunters and gatherers ended about 3,000 years ago, and the woodland period began, marked by the appearance of larger villages. The people began to raise corn and squash, make pottery and use bows and arrows, rather than darts and atlatl (small spears).

Into this age came the European explorers who soon set the stage for the exploration and settlement of the region by the ancestors of most of today's residents.

Putting together the story of the Chariton River Valley is the work of Boyd and his students, but it also involves many other writers and researchers. The study of a site "brings in a whole range of sciences," Boyd says.

Botanists, for example, help to identify seeds, which in turn may indicate climate and diet of a certain age. A chemist can use the latest techniques to date any artifacts that are found. Several people in NMSU's Science Division help to identify bones.

THE UNIVERSITY'S archaeology lab is proof of the amount of evidence to be considered—hundreds of artifacts are carefully laid out and labeled on trays while dozens of brown paper bags await analysis. And hundreds of water and soil samples are brought back from the sites to be screened in the lab.

The screening process, similar to panning for gold, may reveal gastropods (snail shells), pollen grains or rodent bones, among other things. These seemingly insignificant finds "can reveal a lot more than we can even deal with," Boyd says. Pollen grains, for example, might indicate a type of tree that grew during a particular period, thus lending clues to the climate at that time.

Someday Boyd hopes to compile a pamphlet for people in the area from the information he has gathered in the Chariton Valley, the Hazelcreek watershed near Kirksville, the National Wildlife Refuge at Swan Lake, the Long Branch Lake site near Macon and various other sites.

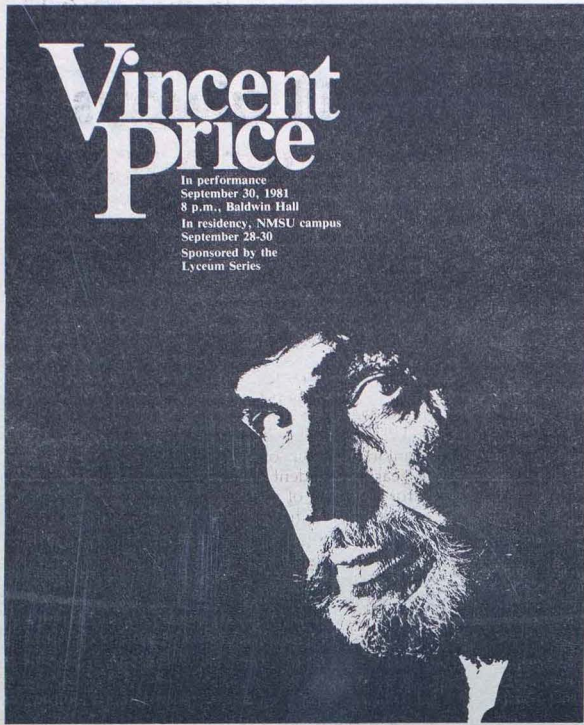

"The northern and north central area of the state is unknown. The reports we've put out are some of the first organized," he says.

Boyd, a 1973 graduate of NMSU with degrees in history and sociology, says he and his students have learned many valuable lessons about life from archaeology. People worked with their environment in the past, he says.

"Some of the things we do now in the name of progress show that we are not working with the environment; we are working against it. We just need to watch what we're doing."

Story by Joni Spencer
Photos by Ray Jagger

Vincent Price
 In performance
 September 30, 1981
 8 p.m., Baldwin Hall
 In residence, NMSU campus
 September 28-30
 Sponsored by the Lyceum Series

"May I have a few of those posters?"

asked actor Vincent Price, well-known for his starring roles in horror movies. The black-and-white posters around campus announced Price's performance and residency on campus Sept. 28-30. Price, who is also an art historian and art collector, was so impressed he asked for several copies to take home and fulfilled many requests to autograph posters.

"This is the best poster ever done at any college for one of my performances," he said enthusiastically while signing one in the Publications Office. The artist, Louis Claps, a senior commercial art major who works part-time in Publications, was disappointed not to get an autographed poster for himself, but was pleased with the compliment from Price.

Meanwhile, the posters, which disappeared quickly from campus bulletin boards and walls, are proudly displayed in many residence hall rooms and apartments.

“
 You have to be in it for the love of music
 —Tom Ritchie
 ”

Index photo by Eric Spande

Premiere opera plays to packed house

From the Index
 Story by John Swann

It's not a sight that's likely to be repeated: 10 or more NMSU students dressed as rats.

Those students danced in the premiere production of a new opera, "The Children of Hamelin."

The opera, written by NMSU music faculty member Tom Ritchie, is an adaptation of the poem, "The Pied Piper of Hamelin," by Robert Browning.

The story is familiar. A town in Renaissance Germany is plagued by rats. A piper appears who says he will rid the town of rats for a fair price. The town officials agree, and the piper pipes the rats into a nearby river.

But when the piper demands his fee, the town officials renege. So, the piper takes revenge by piping away the town's children, who are never seen again.

Ritchie, a music instructor at NMSU since 1965, wrote the opera in the last five to six years. Most of the writing, he says, was done on weekends and during a nine-month sabbatical last year.

Ritchie says he has wanted to write an opera for the last 10 years, and he thinks the finished product can be enjoyed by college students. The production played to a packed house both nights it was performed in Baldwin Auditorium in November.

"I've tried to avoid some of the things about opera that turn people off," he said.

Ten- to 12-minute arias that feature solo voices, an ingredient in many operas, are not present. "There's a place for that sort of thing," Ritchie says, "but the occasion didn't arise here."

Ritchie, a native of Illinois who played the organ in his boyhood church, has written music since his college days, but nothing as involved as "The Children of Hamelin."

"A project of this sort can be such a consuming thing," he says. The complete score has more than 600 pages.

The stage director of the production, James Severns, says he was pleased to be a part of the project. "It's always exciting doing a new work," he says.

"Cooperation from everybody has been wonderful. There's a great deal to be said for the inspiration that the promise of a performance can give," Ritchie says.

In adapting Browning's poem without significant changes, Ritchie encountered the problem of romance. A great many operas have a romantic interest in their story line, but not this one. Ritchie solved the dilemma by sticking to the story.

"There's no romance," Ritchie says. "I was loath to tinker with that. There is definitely a moral to the story. It's the same one found in 'Romeo and Juliet.'"

Will Ritchie write more operas? Unless a particularly inspiring story comes along, Ritchie says, "No, not very soon."

It is difficult to say if the opera will be favored with additional performances elsewhere after the initial production at NMSU, Ritchie says.

"One always has hopes," he says.

Ritchie says he will continue to write shorter pieces and publish some of them. "The Children of Hamelin" might eventually find its way to a publishing company, but Ritchie says that is secondary in importance.

"You have to be in it for the challenge and the love of music," he says, "otherwise you might just as well be out playing tennis."

Dean Eubank—he will always be called dean because the title fit him so well

EDITOR'S NOTE: It is always a pleasure to receive a copy of one of Dr. Paul Owen Selby's writings. His detailed descriptions paint an accurate and interesting portrait of his subject. Yet, his style and wit often show the reader as much about Dr. Selby himself as they do about the subject of his writing. With this in mind, we proudly present the most recent of Dr. Selby's works, a biographical sketch of a former Northeast dean, Louis Allan Eubank.

LOUIS ALLAN EUBANK, 1895-1979
by P.O. Selby

Perhaps this is a bit slow for a publication representing NMSU to be getting around to a biography of the University's former dean, Louis A. Eubank, who died August 12, 1979. Some months ago I suggested that Bob Woods be asked to write this biography. Bob is a former student of mine and as such I thought I could command him, but now Bob is dean of the college of education on the Columbia campus of the University of Missouri, and so he is in command now and doesn't take orders from such as me. However, Bob collected most of the data that goes into this biography, and if he wants to scratch out my name at the top of his copy of this article, and insert his name, that will be all right with me.

The data of Dean Eubank's life, much as it is found in Leaders in Education, Vol. III, is as follows.

He was born in Otterville, Cooper County, Mo., Oct. 6, 1895, son of James Louis and Docia Moore Eubank. In 1921 he married Enna Simms, who survives him and makes her home in the Lenoir Manor near Columbia. They had one daughter, Betty Ann, who married Dr. Richard D. Korns, a dentist. They had three children: Richard E. Korns, J. Barry Korns and Ann Korns Gunn. Betty died October 18, 1970.

When Fair died in 1937, one Board member cast a vote for Eubank to be president.

Dean Eubank (he will always be called Dean because the title fit him so well) attended the State Teachers College at Warrensburg, graduating in 1922, and after teaching in small towns entered the Graduate School at Columbia, receiving a master's degree in 1925. He remained on at the University the next year, and I knew him there, for I attended there in 1925-26. We became friends.

It was my privilege a couple of years later when President Fair was looking for a dean to add my recommendation to others he received. He became dean at Kirksville on Sept. 1, 1927. Here he remained until 1947. Of these 20 years, 10 were while Eugene Fair was president and 10 were while Walter Ryle as president. When Fair died in 1937, one board member cast a vote for Eubank to be president, but other members voted for other candidates.

Eubank had taught in rural schools in Cooper County from 1913 to 1917, sandwiching in his teaching with attendance at Warrensburg and Army service during World War I (Sergeant 1st class). He completed the work for the doctor's degree after coming to Kirksville and was awarded the Ph.D. in June 1931. The summer of 1928 was spent in attendance at the University of Chicago.

Dean Eubank was superintendent of schools at Polo and Cowgill, Mo., 1920-24, and was dean of the Christian College in Columbia, 1926-27. After his years in Kirksville he returned to Columbia where he became a professor, an assistant dean and director of teacher placement.

While in Kirksville, Eubank was an active participant in the affairs of the American Legion, served one year as president of the Kirksville Rotary Club and for a number of years as secretary, was active in the First Baptist Church (deacon in Columbia), held the secretaryship of the Northeast Missouri Teachers Association, was a member of Phi Delta Kappa and Kappa Delta Pi, and attended many national and state meetings of organizations to which he belonged, such as the Department of Superintendence, the National Education Association and the Missouri State Teachers Association.

I regard him as one of the ablest deans of any college in this country.

—President Selke, St. Cloud (Minn.) College

His home in Kirksville for most of his years was at 414 South Halliburton Street. After his retirement at Columbia he lived in a cottage at the Lenoir Manor south of Columbia.

Death came to Dean Eubank suddenly August 12, 1979. Memorial services were held in the First Baptist Church of Columbia and burial was in the Memorial Cemetery, Columbia.

On several occasions men of prominence with whom Dean Eubank was associated were asked to characterize him. President Ryle said that Eubank had a pleasing personality, met trouble well and was a consistent and persistent worker. Professor John L. Biggerstaff wrote that Eubank had a sane and constructive educational philosophy. President Leslie R. Gregory of the State Teachers College, Fredonia, N.Y., mentioned that Eubank had poise both in personality and scholarship. J. C. Miller, president at Christian College, wrote of Eubank's integrity, tireless industry, loyalty and social sense. Dean Irion, University of Missouri, spoke of Eubank's great patience and endurance. Professor Arlie G. Capps, University of Missouri professor and Kirksville graduate, said that Eubank was a first-rate college teacher and administrator and was a man of the finest personal qualities; few men had higher standards of personal conduct. President Selke of St. Cloud (Minn.) College wrote: "I regard him as one of the ablest deans of any college in this country." Bob Woods, who wouldn't write this biography but who collected at the university a sheaf of statements such as the foregoing quotations, has written this as his contribution. "The thing that I remember best about Dr. Eubank was his friendliness toward students and his deep concern for their well-being. He possessed the knack of knowing a great deal about each of the many students with which he came in contact. This ability was a great asset to him as Dean at Northeast."

May I say that there is nothing in the foregoing statements with which I disagree and I would add these three words: A GREAT FRIEND.

With the greatest of ease

NMSU has another All-American. This time it is cheerleader Greg Geels, a sophomore from Schaumburg, Ill.

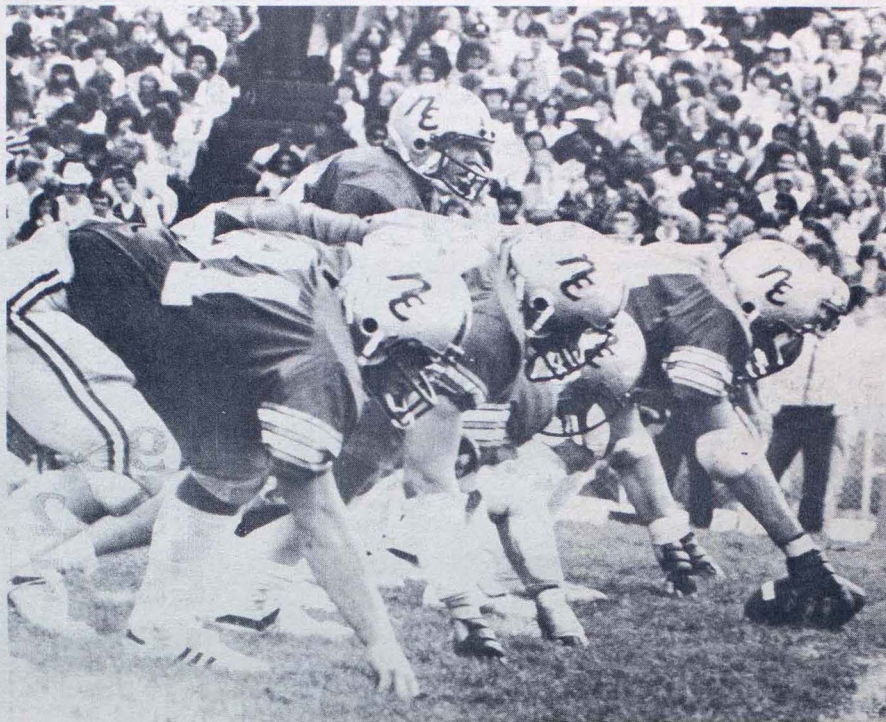

Greg was one of 20 selected by the National Cheerleaders Association from more than 1,500 cheerleaders representing more than 200 colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Greg was selected after attending a cheerleading clinic at Iowa State along with the rest of the NMSU squad. The squad was also judged as one of the best attending the clinic.

Greg's selection to the All-America squad was based upon his overall ability in such areas of collegiate cheering as double stunts, sideline yells, building pyramids and his gymnastic ability. An excellent tumbler, Greg led the football team on to the field before home games with a series of back handsprings, often continuous across the length of the field.

Also nominated but not selected to the final 20 was senior Rich Smith, who has been the Bulldog mascot for three years.

As an All-American, Greg will be conducting clinics during the summer of 1982. That is, if like some of his football counterparts, Greg recovers from an ankle injury that has him sidelined until later this spring.

WE ARE CHAMPS!

Young Bulldogs win MIAA

When members of the Northeast Missouri State football team assembled in early August for pre-season drills, head coach Bruce Craddock was optimistic but cautiously optimistic.

True, the Bulldogs were returning three dozen lettermen from the 1980 squad. However, they were young with only seven seniors on the full roster.

In picking them to finish third in a pre-season league poll, Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association coaches agreed the 'Dogs could be the surprise team in the conference but thought they were probably a year away from being a team of championship caliber.

The first month of the campaign seemed to confirm the coaches' feelings. Northeast was only 1-3. At that point in the season, as the 'Dogs prepared for the MIAA opener against Southeast Missouri State, Craddock decided to promote sophomore Tom Hayes to the starting quarterback assignment, replacing senior Bob Zumbahlen.

Hayes directed the 'Dogs to a 34-19 victory at SEMS. They notched four more successive wins before dropping a 17-16 squeaker to Missouri-Rolla in the finale.

However, the setback to UMR was anticlimactic as far as the MIAA crown was concerned. The 'Dogs had already wrapped up the University's 23rd league championship the week before by crushing Lincoln University, 62-24, in Kirksville.

Hayes was named by coaches as the league's Most Valuable Player after finishing the campaign, with 1,461 passing yards in the final six games.

MIAA coaches were impressed enough with Bulldog personnel this year to name 23 of Craddock's men to the first, second and honorable mention all-conference teams.

Another bright spot was the pass receiving of sophomore flanker Rich Otte, who led NCAA Division II until the final week of the campaign. He caught 68 aerials for 942 yards and six touchdowns and finished second in national statistics (average catches per game).

Altogether, the 'Dogs erased or tied 11 school records, one by Otte (13 receptions in a single game), six by junior kicker Dave Austinson and one by Hayes (four touchdown passes in a single game). Austinson finished second in the Division II field goal category with 12 in 10 games.

Although Craddock's forces didn't break into the top 10 at any time this past season, they received some votes in the final two weekly NCAA Division II national rankings.

Although disappointed with tournament finish

Spikers post best record

The 1981 volleyball season finished on a disappointing note for coach Barb Mayhew and the Northeast Missouri State women, but the campaign was far better than the Bulldogs had ever posted as an intercollegiate team.

"I was disappointed with our third-place finish in the MAIAW tournament," Mayhew comments. "We just didn't play well. However, I was extremely pleased with our 27-7 overall record, the best one ever at Northeast" (since intercollegiate volleyball was inaugurated in 1972).

Mayhew will lose three key starters to graduation. She must replace hitters Sheryl Arnold and Vicky Arp and setter Julie Miller.

"But I think the 1982 team will have the capabilities of taking up where the 1981 team left off," she says.

First NMSU woman in cross country

Runner wins All-America

Sophomore Cindy Springman is the first Northeast Missouri State cross-country woman to earn All-America honors. She finished 20th at the NCAA Division II Championships Nov. 21 at Cape Girardeau with a time of 18:48 in the 5,000-meter event. As late as this past summer, Coach John Cochrane was not sure whether he would have the services of the talented runner this fall. Springman was still undergoing intensive rehabilitation for a fracture in the left hip area she sustained a year ago at the AIAW Division II national meet. When the freak injury occurred during the final 200 meters of the 1980 race, Springman was in eighth place.

CARTER STARTER—LeRoy Carter, senior from Maywood, Ill., could provide the key in the basketball Bulldogs' attempt to return to post-season NCAA action during the 1981-82 campaign. Gone is All-America forward David Winslow and another starter, Kent Hackmack.

But Coach Willard Sims says, "Our new players have picked up our system faster than expected. We seem to have more depth than last year."

LIMITED EDITION PEN & INK PRINT

by Gerald D. Walker

All prints are numbered and signed by the artist.

These 10" by 15" prints are suitable for framing. Prices are $15 or $13 for Alumni Association members Free with contribution of $200 or more to the Scholarship or Development funds.

ALSO AVAILABLE:
Centennial History of Northeast Missouri State Teachers College

by the late Dr. Walter H. Ryle

Plan now for Homecoming 1982
October 8, 9, 1982

Class Reunions

1932,
1942,
1957,
1972

Homecoming Queen
MISS ETTA LOU PROPOST

1941 Homecoming Queen Etta Lou Propst Erskine ('42) appeared in two 20th Century Fox films under the stage name of Lou Prentis after graduation. She married Howard Weir Erskine, a Broadway producer, in 1955. She was living in Patterson, N.Y., in 1974, her most recent contact with the Alumni Office.

FOR SALE:
Echo yearbooks

If you've been interested in obtaining a yearbook you missed while in school (or replacing the dog-eared one you have now), here's your chance!

For $10, the Alumni Office will send the yearbook of your choice. Most dates are available between 1960 and 1980, although supply is limited. Your $10 will be returned if we run out of your year.

The Alumni Office is also accepting gifts of old Echos to be redistributed among alumni.

STIR UP SOME OLD MEMORIES!
Support your Alumni Association.

'14

James B. Rogers of Los Angeles, Calif., recently celebrated his 90th birthday. Mr. Rogers is a member of the NMSU Alumni Association.

'18

Mary Murdock Reagan, retired teacher, lives in Monrovia, Calif. She taught four years in Muskogee, Oklahoma, and 30 years in Monrovia High School. She has a daughter, Elizabeth Reagan Bowen.

'23

Maco B. Whittall is living in Louisville, Ky. Miss Whittall retired in 1968 from Louisville Public Schools, where she taught for 45 years.

'25

Garnett Gow Reed, retired, lives in Waterliet, Mich. She has a daughter, Mrs. Dora Jean Greenwood.

Louvilla Henry, Lincoln, Ill., is a retired teacher.

'26

Chester A. Finney, and wife, Geraldine, live in Jefferson City, Mo. He is retired from the Missouri State Highway Department.

Ruth Gardner Sherard, Richardson, Texas, retired in 1970 after teaching 21 years at The Hockaday School for Girls in Dallas. She has a son, William C. Sherard Jr., and a daughter, Marian Sherard Wilson.

Helen F. Shipman, retired teacher, lives in Hardy, Ark.

Dr. James R. Heffern, and wife, Helen, live in Fayetteville, N.C. He is a retired university professor, and she is also retired.

Rebecca Penick Roepnack, Wheat Ridge, Colo., retired July 1, 1981, as a Blue Cross insurance clerk. Her children are Barbara Pollock, La Vonne Kahre and Ralph Roepnack.

Pearl Wallace Painter is living in Newton, Iowa. She has a daughter, Patricia Painter King.

'27

Doris Zimmerlee Shepherd, retired teacher, lives in Liberty, Mo. She has two children, Jeanette and Charles.

'28

Mary Williamson Freeland and husband, Neil Freeland 1929 are living in Columbus, Mo. She is a retired elementary teacher, and he is retired from UMC. Mr. Freeland has served the past four years as state treasurer of the Retired Teachers Association of Missouri. The Freelands, who have one son, Major Jon Freeland of Tucson, Ariz., celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary in 1979.

J.C. Branaman, Springfield, Oregon, is retired.

'29

Dr. William B. Lomax, retired osteopathic physician, and wife, Alma Joyce, also retired, live in Montrose, Colo. They have a son, Clayton Lomax, and a daughter, Karen Hollenbeck.

'30

Novilla Haines Moore, Kansas City, Mo., retired in 1973 as travel accountant at Farmland Industries Inc.

Bernice George Peterson and husband, Arthur, are retired and living in Clearwater, Fla.

W. Wirt Downing, retired high school principal, and wife, Lucille, retired high school teacher, live in Fairview Heights, Ill. Their children are Dan Downing and Diane Downing Kulczyk.

'31

Zoma Moore, retired teacher, lives in Clayton, Mo.

Harold J. Protiva and wife, Harriet, of Anna Maria, Fla. are retired. They have two married daughters, Frances Kruse and Harriet Foster.

Herbert M. Campbell, is a resident at Kirksville Manor Care.

James T. Craig and wife, Eunice Schnelle Craig 1936, live in Clio, Mich. They are retired teachers. Their children are Thomas, Margaret and Jean Ann.

Helen Dimmitt Brokesh and husband, Frank, are living in Green Castle, Mo. She is retired after 34 years of teaching music and English. Mr. Brokesh is also retired.

Ethel L. Perry, Chillicothe, Mo., is a retired high school home economics teacher.

Cristel E. Robinson Schmidt, Memphis, Mo., is a retired registered nurse.

Luther W. Fristoe, retired, lives in Columbia, Mo.

'32

Zelma Foster Owen and husband, Ellis, live in Fresno, Calif. She is a retired real estate salesperson, and he is a retired engineer. Their children are Margaret and George.

George R. Conner, M.D., and wife, Patricia, live in Columbus, Ga. They have a son, Philip J. A. Willman, M.D.

Alma French Boone and husband, Floy H. Boone 1943, are living in Warsaw, Ill. She is a retired teacher, and he is a retired school administrator and automobile salesman. They have two sons, Harold Boone and Donald Boone 1957.

'33

Velma Atha Rauh and husband, Oscar, of Manchester, Iowa, own and operate a fabric store. Their children are Rebecca, Manfred and John.

Clara Seckler Paxson, Mexico, Mo., is a retired teacher now serving as a teacher's aide and volunteer. She has a daughter, Mrs. Jane Carolyn Farnen.

Juell T. Dougherty Duren, Fayette, Mo., retired from central Methodist College in 1968, taught continuing education in her home for eight years. She taught a total of 52 years. Mrs. Duren comes from a family of teachers and school administrators. Her brother, Dr. James H. Dougherty 1925, deceased, was a professor of education at North Texas State University. Another brother, Raymond Dougherty 1933, of Higbee, Mo., served for 31 years as elementary principal in Normandy (Mo.) School District. A sister, Gladys Dougherty 1938, deceased, taught for 40 years in Harrisburg (Mo) School District. Mrs. Duren's other two sisters, Marjorie Walker and Mary E. Lewis received 60-hour certificates from NMSU and were also teachers. Their father was a rural teacher in early manhood and later became a farmer.

Clarence E. Amen and wife, Ella, are living in Scottsdale, Ariz. Mr. Amen retired in 1969 after 46 years as an educator. He taught every grade level from kindergarten to graduate school at the University, and his administrative positions included elementary principal, junior high principal, high school superintendent, county superintendent of schools, curriculum coordinator and state superintendent, northeast Missouri. Mrs. Amen retired in 1968 after 30 years as a teacher. The Amens, who have one son, Dr. LeRoy Amen, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary July 9, 1981.

'34

Dorothea Grim Morey, San Jose, Calif., is retired.

Leilah Rickus, Farmington, Mo., is a retired secondary teacher.

Dora L. Jourdan, retired teacher, lives in Maplewood, Mo.

Dr. John S. Rinehart and wife, Marion, live in Santa Fe, N.M. He is a consultant, and she is an editor. Their children are Margot and Eric.

Dr. Ted E. Ritze, a dentist, and wife, Oka, formerly of Trenton, Mo., recently moved to Broken Arrow, Okla. Their son, James M. Ritze 1971, D.O., practices in Broken Arrow.

Lorena Dalton Bartlett, retired high school business education teacher, lives in Ft. Madison, Iowa.

'35

Pharis R. Rouse and wife, Mary, live in Phoenix, Ariz. They are retired teachers—he from Creighton School, Phoenix, and she from Osborn School, Phoenix. He has a son, Michael Rouse, a graduate of Washington University.

Christine Burkland Anderson and husband, B.L. Anderson, live in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he is president of B.L. Anderson Inc. Her children are Sara Lange Pinney and Richard Lange.

Orville W. Towers, M.D., and wife, Lois, are living in St. Charles, Mo. He is retired. Their children are Tom Towers, Dick Towers and Sue Towers Brockmeyer.

Leonard M. Skinner, retired high school teacher, and wife, Earlene, retired from the U.S. Department of Justice, live in Tucson, Ariz., after having lived in Washington, D.C. for a number of years.

Glenn E. Tharp, Kirksville, Mo., is retired. He and his wife, Vena, have two sons, Charles and Edward.

'36

William J. Robertson, St. Louis, Mo., is retired after 40 years with Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. His children are Mrs. Mary Chastain, Mrs. Rebecca Gray and Stephen Robertson.

Mildred Meilicke Nichols, retired teacher, lives in Quincy, Ill.

Mary Motter Clarkson and husband, Paul, of Brookfield, Mo., are retired.

Louise Lewis Williams, Longmont, Colo., is retired.

Edward K. Krueger, Wright City, Mo., is on medical retirement as a high school principal. His wife, Helen Nobleman Krueger, died Oct. 11, 1980. Their children are two sons, Don and John.

'37

Ruth Whittom Nighswonger and husband, Thomas, are living in Lago Vista, Texas. They are retired and have two children, Mrs. Carolyn Brann and James Nighswonger.

Eustelle Hayes Kennedy and husband, William, live in Wheat Ridge, Colo. She is a retired high school counselor, and he is a retired civil engineer. They have a son, William II, and a daughter, Mary Ellen.

Nina Bise Hutcherson and husband, Paul, are living in La Crescenta, Calif. She is a second grade teacher, and he is a director of evangelism. Their children are Dr. Robert Hutcherson, a surgeon, and Janice Hutcherson Harris, a Metropolitan Insurance executive.

Lula Kimberley Rothweiler, Hannibal, Mo., retired in 1973 after 42 1/2 years teaching in Marion County rural schools. Her husband, Dan, is also retired.

'38

The Howard and Mildred Gross family of Kirksville received the Family of the Year award at the annual meeting of the Becky Thatcher Area Girl Scout Council held in May 1981. The Gross family has been involved in Scouting for over 30 years. Dr. and Mrs. Gross were among the originators of the Council-owned Day Camp, Pioneer Ridge. Mrs. Gross has served on the Council Board of Directors and as a Special Service Adult and Troop Consultant. Their daughter, Pam, was a Girl Scout and as her children came of age, she served as Troop Leader. During Girl Scout Week 1980, Dr. and Mrs. Gross were honored with a plaque from Kirksville for their outstanding contribution to Scouting in the community.

David W. Brunberg of Kirksville is a member of the Education Division faculty at NMSU.

'39

Vera Ramsey Bailey and husband, Ivan, are living in Brookfield, Mo. They retired from farming in 1979. Their children are Martin R. Bailey 1947 and Anita Bailey Littrell.

Birney Collins and wife, Alveta, are living in Lancaster, Mo. He is a retired teacher and school administrator.

Martha Epperson Marsh and husband, Aden, live in rural LaPlata, Mo. She retired May 23, 1981 from Atlanta C-3 Schools, where she was a mathematics teacher. She received the award as Outstanding Retiring Teacher from the Missouri Council of Teachers of Mathematics. Mr. Marsh is a retired farmer. They have two married daughters, Mary Ellen Dearthington and Jean Keegan, and two sons, Paul and Richard.

Hildreth and Virginia Burns Moody live in Lake Charles, La. He is retired from International Harvester Company. They have two children, Charles Moody and Margaret Moody Bogard.

O. Burke Workman Jr., St. Louis, Mo., is an attorney and C.P.A. His son, O. Burke Workman III, graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy on May 27, 1981.

Division Update: Business

Delta Sigma Pi: A three-year rise to the top

Three years ago a new chapter of the Delta Sigma Pi professional business fraternity was chartered on the NMSU campus. Only three months ago they brought home the Most Outstanding Chapter award from the fraternity's national convention, the highest possible award.

In the short time that Delta Sig has been on campus its growth has been impressive. At 76 members, the NMSU Iota Nu chapter is recognized as one of the fraternity's fastest growing of more than 154 active chapters around the world.

"One of the main reasons we won the award was because of the people in the chapter," senior

Larry Lunsford, past president, said. "But the basis for the award is the chapter efficiency index, which is basically used to gauge how efficient the chapter is."

Delta Sigma Pi centers its activities around six major areas of interest: community service, membership, scholarship, finances, professional activities and general activities. Some of the fraternity's recent projects, the type of activities which helped earn the award, include work at a local nursing home and the children's ward at the Kirksville Osteopathic Health Center; a business tour to Houston, Texas; monthly speakers; and participation in the Tel-Alumni campaign, during which the group placed first for the second year.

Randy Hultz, president of the chapter, said, "Right now, our biggest project being planned is Monopoly night." This activity will be a formal coat and tie affair for which participants will pay $100 to enter the game, and $10 to watch. It will be held at the Kirksville Country Club with proceeds going to benefit the fight against Cystic Fibrosis.

Delta Sig's choice of games is appropriate for the young organization that hopes to keep a monopoly on its outstanding chapter award.

'40

Lula McGlohan Allen, Ayden, N.C., is retired.

Christel Ebbe Tanquary and husband, Norman, live in Prairie Village, Kan. He is president and she is vice president of Tanquary and Associates Inc. Their children are Kristen, Kevin and Kara.

Eleanor Pattinson Ferguson, Wayland, Mo., is a commercial teacher in Revere, Mo. Her children are Joanne Moon, Janet Ryan, Joyce Campbell, Harold, Donald, Gale, Linda and Larry.

Joe Crabtree of Kirksville was selected as one of the nation's top five alumni advisers for Delta Chi fraternity at the August 1981 national convention in Indianapolis, Ind.

Wanda M. Millsap Barrett, Wichita, Kans. is a retired elementary teacher. She and her husband, Larry, a rancher, have three children, Mike, Dan and Ann.

'41

Sarah Penn Wenrick, retired teacher, and husband, George, retired military, live in Piqua, Ohio. They have two daughters, Capt. C. Mathilda Wenrick, USMC (Air Force), and Georgene Wenrick.

Richard C. White, Elkhorn, Wis., is retired from Oak Industries Inc. He and his wife, Nancy, have a daughter, Colleen.

Virginia McCollum Matthews, Memphis, Tenn., is a fifth grade teacher in Memphis Public Schools. Her husband, Louis, is a retired Greyhound bus driver. They have one son, Louis Jr.

Hope Greene Blaine and husband, Loran, of Webster Groves, Mo., are retired. They have two children, Carol Blaine Veessaert and Don Blaine.

Luella Hardy Attebery, Kirksville, is employed at Huston-Leeper Agency in Kirksville.

Alice Hazzard Nunn, Victoria, Texas, is a retired director of social services. She has a daughter, Mrs. Carolyn Vasterling.

'42

John E. Ligon, Arlington Heights, Ill., is in sporting goods sales. He and his wife, Billie, have three children, Richard, Kenneth and Kathy.

Velda Simler Shipman, Watsonville, Calif., is retired after teaching 30 years.

Dorothy Christy Shatto and husband, James, live in Milan, Mo. She retired in 1976 from North Kansas City High School as a business education teacher. Mrs. Shatto taught 42 years. Mr. Shatto is a farm implement dealer.

Sammy Oliver Mudd of Silex, Mo., retired in May 1981 after 42 years of teaching, the last 21 years as an elementary teacher in Clopton Schools. Mrs. Mudd was honored at a luncheon by the Clopton Community Teacher's Association. The Clopton elementary teachers held a tea in her honor.

'43

Geneva Frances Keen Judkins and husband, Harmon, are living in Des Moines, Iowa, where she has been an elementary teacher for 26 years. Mr. Judkins is an attorney. They have four grown children, two daughters and two sons.

'44

Elma Kemp Dossey and husband, Edgar, live in Moberly, Mo. He is a farmer and commercial apple orchard owner.

'45

Mabel Trotter Hall Des Moines, Iowa, is a retired elementary teacher and principal.

'46

Gus Lamar and wife, Maurine, live in Webster Groves, Mo. He is a counselor at St. Anthony High School, and she teaches at Eureka High School. They have two daughters, Mary and Beth.

Richard W. Rinehart, Lancaster, Calif., retired in 1977 as an accountant for the Los Angeles Community College District. He has a daughter, Mrs. Jan Tonti.

Margaret Taylor Campbell and husband, Julian, live in Bloomfield, Iowa, where he is a real estate broker. Their children are Constance, Julian Jr., Steven and John.

'47

Elaine Carroll Rash, Raytown, Mo., is an elementary music instructor, Raytown Consolidated District 2. She is also a private piano teacher. She has three married daughters, Janet, Judy and Jennifer.

Naomi McFarland Knight, Stillwater, Okla., is a retired teacher. Her husband, Homer L. Knight 1933, is deceased.

Patricia Ludden Kesler, North Hollywood, Calif., is hematology supervisor at St. Joseph Medical Center in Burbank, Calif.

Hurdling Old-age Obstacles

Story by Les Dunseith

Claude Hills took up jogging 13 years ago and even ran in two Boston Marathons before he discovered that sprints, hurdles and similar track and field events were his forte. Since then he has won two gold, two silver and 10 bronze medals in international track and field competition.

Not bad for a man who will turn 70 this June.

When he received his B.S.E. from Northeast in 1933, Hills had been a member of the tennis team but was not a star athlete at the college. In fact, his college track experience consisted of only one meet. "I went out for the track team my freshman year," he remembers, "but after the first meet I quit because I did so poorly."

Although he stayed in good shape throughout his further education and career, 36 years of which he spent as a research chemist for the Department of Agriculture, he did not begin competition in track again until he was almost 60. Then he became involved in the Masters track and field program.

His accomplishments in the Masters program are certainly impressive. In addition to his U.S. competition all across the country, he has traveled to several track events in other countries.

In his first World Masters Track and Field Championship in Montreal, Canada, in 1975, Hills brought home four bronze medals. He followed this two years later in Gothenburg, Sweden, with a gold medal in the pentathlon and as part of a mile relay team. He added two silvers and three bronze medals that year and three more bronze medals when he competed in Germany in 1979. He couldn't attend the 1981 championships in New Zealand, but is concentrating now on the U.S. Championships in Kansas and the National Sports Festival near his home in the Philadelphia suburb of Flourtown, Pa., both this August.

He holds the world records for several events and for several different age groups. He holds the record for the pentathlon among 63-year olds, the decathlon for 59-year olds and 66-year olds, and the 110 meter high hurdles at age 61, 65, 67, 68, and his most recent record, the 400-meter hurdles at age 69.

Hills runs about two hours a day, five days a week. In addition, he must train for the other events in which he competes for the pentathlon and decathlon. This means he must keep sharp with the javelin, discus, hurdles, pole vault and other events.

His training is more intense now because he will enter a new age group this summer. The Masters championships are held in age brackets, so at 70 he will leave behind the 65-69-year-olds against which he had been competing to take on the 70-74 age competitors. For a couple of years he will be younger than much of his competition.

Hills, who grew up on a farm four miles southeast of Kirksville and graduated from Kirksville High School, retired from the Department of Agriculture five years ago. Well, semi-retired. He has continued to remain active by substitute teaching at a local high school. He also helps out as the assistant track coach.

And, even though his frequent travels to Europe, California and various points in between cost him at least $1,000 a year, he has no regrets about his hobby. "Lots of guys spend that much on cigarettes and alcohol."

'48

James W. Singley and wife, Marguerite, live in Kahoka, Mo., are self-employed.

Benjamin B. Rockwell, Oskaloosa, Iowa is head of the Business Department at Oskaloosa Senior High School. He and his wife, Lula Mae, a private piano teacher, have two children, Jane and Douglas.

Norma S. McAfee Sankowski, Connersville, Ind., is an elementary art teacher. She and her husband, Edmund, a pharmacist, have two sons, Alan and Paul.

'49

Donald R. Hevel and wife, Marguerite, live in Kahoka, Mo. He is a retired superintendent of schools. Their children are Donald R. Hevel 1964, Kerry W. Hevel 1974, Robert W. Hevel 1976, Stephen Hevel and Irene Hevel.

Loyal E. Scott retired teacher, and wife, Gertrude, live in Alton, Ill. Their children are Ronald, Carolyn and Nancy.

'50

Darold "Tiny" Davis, of Hannibal, Mo., continues as architectural draft ing instructor at Hannibal Vocational Technical School. He is chairman of Citizens for Human Rights, a committee near Hannibal working for the right of people outside the city limits to vote on annexation issues. He is a charter member of Missourians for Constitutional Rights, a 16-area group which has been working for passage of House Bill 1110. Daughter Mary Beth 1978 teaches second grade at Palmyra Elementary School. Oldest son, David Martin 1978 is an assistant manager at Long John Silver's Seafood Shoppe in Kirksville, and his wife, Diane Marie 1980, is employed in the Publications Office at NMSU.

Division Update: Education

NCATE gives education high marks

The visitation team for the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education in November reached the consensus that the NMSU teacher education program met all standards.

The council is expected to take final action on NMSU's reaccreditation during spring 1982. NMSU was evaluated for its regular 10-year accreditation visit.

Following the visit, NMSU was cited by officials of the State Department of Elementary and Secondary Education for writing an "exemplary institutional report."

"The report is beautifully done—the best I have seen," said R. V. Wilson, director of teacher education and certification for Missouri, in a letter to President Charles McClain. "If you have no objections, I would like to use this institutional report as a kind of model when I am asked to show what an exemplary institutional report should look like."

"You and your staff are to be commended for the very positive image that the out-of-state members of the NCATE team now have of teacher education in Missouri."

The report was edited by Margarita Heisserer, assistant to the dean of instruction, with help from Dr. Herman Wilson, professor of education. The team visit was organized by Dr. Judson P. Martin, head of the Division of Education.

NCATE TEAM: (front) Pres. Charles McClain, Joan Donley, Dorothy Robinson, Josephine Johnson, chairman Lillian Herndon, William Grady, (back) Clifford Pfeltz, Harry Kujath, Alvin Morris, Edgar Krieger, Fred Hat-tabaugh, Howard Koser, Lawrence Johnson, Robert Baker, Judson Martin.

Richard B. Locher and wife, Nan, live in Panama City, Fla. He is an elementary principal, and she is an elementary teacher.

Arthur E. MacIntyre, D.O., and wife, Alberta, live in Seattle, Wash. She is a bookkeeper.

Mabel Hunter Davis, Trenton, Mo., is retired.

It was incorrectly stated in the last NEMOSCOPE that W. T. (Tom) Cooper is an instrumental music teacher in West Burlington (Iowa) Schools. He lives in West Burlington and teaches in Burlington.

Neva Garvin Ponitz, Brunswick, Mo., is a Title I remedial mathematics teacher at Brunswick Elementary School.

'51

Dr. Glen N. Pierson and wife, Mary, live in San Diego, Calif., where he is administrator of Pupil Services, Department of Education, San Diego County. Mrs. Pierson is a resource specialist, San Diego City Schools. They have two children, James and Betty.

Robert N. Thomas, Bismarck, Mo., is retired. He and his wife, Lillie, have two children, Robert and Vickie.

Louise Bronestine Allen and husband, Russell, are living in Lake Ozark, Mo. She is on permanent disability retirement from teaching; he is a retired school superintendent. They have a son, Gene Allen.

Charles W. Horstmeier, wife, Joanna, and children, Christopher and Gina, are living in St. Charles, Mo. He is supervisor of Juvenile Court Services, 11th Circuit Court, and she is a realtor associate.

Ilene Guffey Drennan and husband, Eldon, are living in Columbia, Mo. She is an educational resource teacher at Jefferson Junior High, and he is Dean of Students at Columbia College. Their children are Timothy, Tristen, Todd, Tyler and Tony.

James M. Drake, Hutchinson, Kan., is business manager, Harris Enterprises. He and his wife, Anita Page Drake 1952, have two sons, Douglas and David.

'52

Cora Lou Potter O'Brian and husband, Earl, live in rural Harrisburg, Mo., where he farms. They have one son, Kenneth E. O'Brian, and four grandchildren.

'53

John P. McGovern and wife, Joanne, live in Riverside, Ill. He is principal of Herzl Elementary School in Chicago, and she is in real estate sales. Their children are Mary, Brian, John, Kerry and Ann.

Patricia Mogg Campbell and husband, Myers Campbell III 1954, are living in Midwest City, Okla. He is chairman of the board, American National Bank. Their children are John, Mike, Susan and Matt.

Marilyn Peterson Miller and husband, John, live in Birmingham, Ala. She is a receptionist at Shades Valley YMCA, and he is executive director, Alabama Medical Review Board. Their children are Melanie Powers, Melinda Miller and John Miller II.

'54

Loree Clapper Shaw, retired teacher and principal, lives in Greentop, Mo. She has two married daughters, Kathryn Thomas and Theresa Hewitt.

Katherine Bledsoe Epperson, Independence, Mo., is a retired elementary teacher. Her children are Craig Epperson 1962, Sharon Epperson 1963 and Robert Epperson.

Barbara Pate Moore and husband, John, live in Lee's Summit, Mo., where she is an eighth grade history teacher and he is a postal clerk. They have two children, John and Kathy.

Keith K. Pollock and wife, Linda, are living in Lee's Summit, Mo. He is a part-time teacher at Penn Valley Community College and she is a sixth grade teacher.

'55

Bertha Ann Jones, retired teacher, lives in Milan, Mo. She has a daughter, Meribelle Jones Porter 1953.

'56

Anita White King and husband, Fred L. King 1959, D.O., live in Greentop, Mo. Dr. King is a radiologist at Laughlin Hospital in Kirksville. Their children are Vincent, Christopher and Phyllis.

George P. Anastasoff and wife, Beverly Altrogge Anastasoff 1981, live in St. Louis, Mo., where he is a teacher at Cleveland High School.

James L. Cornelius and wife, Betty, have an overseas address, CMR Box 5245, A.P.O., N.Y. 09132. He teaches German, French and English, and she is a librarian.

Mary Jane Kohlenberg and husband, Dr. Gilbert Kohlenberg, live in Kirksville, where she is an assistant professor of mathematics, and he is a history professor, both at NMSU. They have two married daughters, Gail Sponaugle 1979 and Mary L. Paulner.

Thomas G. Crawford Jr., wife, Marijo, and sons, Mark and Scott, live in Shelbina, Mo. He is a merchant, Crawford's Men's Wear.

'57

Erwin J. Mueller, Independence, Mo., is an archivist, Truman Library-National Archives/Records Service.

Donald W. McAfee and wife, Wanda, live in Emid, Okla. He is director of personnel for George E. Failing Company.

Louis Moss, Rolla, Mo., is director of student activities at the University of Missouri-Rolla. He and his wife, Jeanne, a medical secretary, have three children, Doug, Steve and Lori.

Warren H. Dennis and wife, Linda, live in Tempe, Ariz. He is director of choirs and chairman of the music department at McClintock High School in Tempe, and she is a secretary. They have a son, Kirk, and twins, Shannon and Patrick.

Hugh A. Ward and wife, Norma, are living in California, Mo. He is principal, South Elementary School, Holden, Mo., and she is an elementary learning disabilities teacher in California. Their children are William, Mary, Nancy, Howard and James. They have seven grandchildren.

Carroll G. Overturf, Decatur, Ill., is owner of three skating rinks (Great Skate Inc.). He also owns Wholesale Distribution Company (Sportsmaster Inc.) and Skelly Skate Company Inc. (a manufacturing firm). He and his wife, Judy, a college instructor, have three children, Lisa, Natalie and Todd.

Donald A. Boone, Coral Springs, Fla., is manager of applications systems for Burroughs Corporation. He and his wife, Sharon, have a son, Bradley.

Bonnie Randsell Patten, Iowa's first woman air traffic controller

"We had to prove ourselves. . ."

Story by Les Dunseith

The air traffic controller's strike, and its effect on the airline industry, has received an abundance of media attention over the past few months. Watching the day-to-day developments in the story has been a 1943 NMSU graduate who should have a good understanding of the issues involved—Bonnie Randsell Patten, the first woman air traffic controller in the state of Iowa.

Although she has not been actively working as an air traffic controller for many years, Mrs. Patten still keeps a close eye on the business and stays in contact with many friends still involved in the airline industry. From this contact, and her observations, Mrs. Patten has formed an opinion of the current strike.

"I sympathize with the strikers; I know they hope to improve their working condition, but they signed a contract when they took the job that said they would not strike. I really feel they should have honored that," she says from her home in DeBary, Fla.

Mrs. Patten got her start in the air controllers' business shortly after graduation. In fact, during her final quarter at Northeast, a distant cousin contacted her from St. Louis about the possibility of becoming an air traffic controller. World War II had been declared shortly before and many of the men who had been employed by the airlines were drafted.

"The field opened up to girls for the first time," Mrs. Patten remembers. "I thought it sounded just great."

So, upon graduation, she applied and was accepted. Mrs. Patten attended air traffic control school in Kansas City, Mo., and was on her way in her new career. "It was a six-month course, but they were in such a hurry to replace the men leaving for the war, they ran us through in three months," Mrs. Patten says.

Soon she was working in the air control tower in St. Louis, but when it came time for another promotion she declined. As a result, she was sent to the only civilian control tower in Iowa at the time, in Des Moines, and earned her distinction as the first woman to work as an air traffic controller in the state. Unfortunately, she hadn't really wanted the honor. "It was considered the Siberia of air controllers," she said.

As one of the first women in a male-dominated job, Mrs. Patten said she experienced her share of discrimination. "The pilots didn't like us," she recalls.

When it came time to scrub the floors or wash the windows, she and the women who followed her to Des Moines were usually assigned to duty. "We had to prove ourselves. We were eventually accepted, at least by the pilots."

Today, Mrs. Patten and her husband, Ralph, a retired telephone company employee, are enjoying their retirement in Florida where they have lived for more than 20 years. Mrs. Patten suffered heart problems about eight years ago, and has had to curtail her activities somewhat, but she remains involved in church activities. "I'm living a very happy life," she says.

And, as she enjoys the leisurely pace of her present life, Mrs. Patten sometimes recalls the hectic days she spent as an air controller. The stress, she says, was great at the time and she expects it must be even greater on today's air traffic controllers.

"A person feels the responsibility of that many lives. You don't dare make a mistake," she says. "You just can't."

Division Update: Fine Arts

Band reunion brings back 80 former students

Presentation of a portrait of the late Paul Strub ('39) to President McClain by Jim Strub ('46) highlighted the brunch held by alumni band members during Homecoming.

Paul Strub was band director at NMSU from 1947-62. He later became dean of music at Eastern New Mexico University. Dr. Strub died in 1972.

The portrait originally was given to Jim Strub (Paul's brother) last year by the Missouri Band Masters Association and now will hang in Baldwin Hall.

About 80 former band members attended the reunion, marching in the parade as well as performing with the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonians at the Alumni Dance.

Rosalia Nicoletti Meyer, husband, Donald and children, Bradley, Melody and Crystan, live in Columbia, Mo. She is a part-time adult education teacher, and he is on the staff of Missouri State Teachers Association.

James O. Kelliker and wife, Beverly Nixon Kelliker 1966, are living in Brunswick, Mo. He is retired from the business education department of Brunswick High School. She is a fifth grade teacher in Carrollton, Mo. They have a son, Doug.

'58

Jack F. Mann and wife, Sandra Barnett Mann 1962, are living in Belle Plaine, Iowa, where he is an industrial arts teacher and co-owner of Belle Plaine Car Wash. She is co-owner of Lollipop Land Kids Clothing Store. Their children are Jill, Dana and Kurt.

Jerry L. Bradshaw and wife, Mary, live in Murrayville, Ill. He is a teacher.

M. Nadean Smoot Tarbet and husband, William, of Shelby, Mo., are retired. They have two sons; Dr. Denton Tarbet 1961 and John C. Tarbet 1969.

'59

Sharyl Mogg Mills and husband, Dale "Paley" Mills, are living in Buffalo, Mo. She is a second grade teacher, and he is a coach and teacher. Their children are Scott, Lance, Trisha, and twins, Dale and Debra.

Kathleen McCartney and husband, Lindell, live in Glenwood, Mo. She is director of special services at Schuyler R-1 Schools in Lancaster. He is county executive director, ASCS.

Elizabeth Ewald Whitesell, husband, Harry, and children, Regan, Ryan and Rebecca, live in Scottsdale, Ariz. He is with the circulation department of the Phoenix Gazette.

Mary I. Sanders Shives, retired teacher, lives in Clifton Hill, Mo. Her children are a son, Vergal Jr., twins, Barbara and Bernard, and a son, Ronald.

Barbara Irving Guile, Trenton, Mo., is a director-teacher, Chillicothe (Mo.) High School.

Margaret Berry Payne, husband, Jon, and sons, Matt and Derek, live in Lisle, Ill. Mr. Payne is editor of Nuclear News Magazine.

Glady's DeNayer, Union, Mo., is retired.

'60

Edward R. Polovich, Novinger, Mo., is owner of Polovich Electric Service. He and his wife, Margaret, have three children, Mark, Bradley and Cathy.

Miriam Gottman Savidge, former teacher, is living in Palmyra, Mo.

Dale A. Kutzner, Storm Lake, Iowa, is store manager, J.C. Penney, in Storm Lake. He and his wife, Susan, a teacher, have two children, Catherine and James.

Jack M. and Lucita Green Perrin live in Grand Junction, Colo. Mrs. Perrin, a French and Spanish teacher at Central High School in Grand Junction, was recently elected chairman of the Colorado Commission on Teacher Education and Certification for 1981.

Lawrence M. Wantland, Chariton, Iowa, teaches high school drafting electricity and electronics.

Dr. Donald R. Kelly, Jefferson City, Mo., is supervisor of school finance, State Department of Elementary and Secondary Education. His wife, Ruth, is a secretary, Public School Retirement System of Missouri. Their children are Lana and Scott.

Laura Rodgers Bergmann and husband, La Verne, live in St. Charles, Mo., where she is a primary teacher and he is self-employed. They have two children, Vernon and Jesse.

Marvin L. Losey and wife, Evelyn Toops Losey 1961, live in Virginia, Ill. He is a teacher and she is a home economics teacher, both at Beardstown (Ill.) High School. They have four children, Linda, Lee, Lynn and Chris, and two foster children, Dale Yost and Donna Yost.

Arthur L. Carter and wife, Juanita, live in University City, Mo. He is assistant principal, Madison Senior High, and she is a personnel supervisor, Monsanto Company.

William R. Miles, Hannibal, Mo., is principal of Hannibal High School.

Chizuko Yaguchi and husband, Mitsue, live in Paris, France, where he is Director of Industry for the Japan Trade Center of the Japanese Embassy.

'61

Lawrence W. Parks Jr. and wife, Mary, are living in Independence, Mo. He is a teacher at William Chrisman Junior High School and director of the alternative learning center. Mrs. Parks is a medical records technician. Their children are Daniel and Elizabeth.

Joyce Akagi Nagata and husband, Alvin, live in San Diego, Calif. She is a teacher, and he is a hair stylist.

Adele Eversmeyer Jones, St. Peters, Mo., is business education and data processing department chairman at Florissant Valley Community College. Her husband, Bobby, teaches at Fort Zumwalt Senior High School.

Marilyn Lawson Potts, husband, Harold, and son, Jeff, live in Blue Springs, Mo. She is an elementary physical education teacher, and he is with the Kansas City Star.

Richard G. Geith, Ottumwa, Iowa, is superintendent of Ottumwa Community Schools. He and his wife, Kitty, have three children, Richard Jr., Lori and Robert.

Robert L. Barnhart and wife, Won Yon, are living in Glen Carbon, Ill. He is a supervisory computer systems analyst.

Lewis E. Sporer and wife, Gwenna Hunsaker Sporer 1979, live in Brookfield, Mo. He is elementary principal in Brunswick, and she teaches third grade in Meadville.

Robert O. Snyder and wife, Joyce, live in St. Louis, Mo. He is an elementary counselor in Parkway School District, Chesterfield, Mo., and she teaches at a Magnet School in St. Louis. They have two children, Judith and Dennis.

Kenneth L. Carter and wife, Sharon, live in St. Charles, Mo. He is an industrial arts teacher at Normandy (Mo.) Senior High, and she is an R.N. at St. Joseph Hospital in St. Charles. Their children are Rebecca Carter Strong 1981, Andrew and Cathy.

Larry L. Crowell and wife, Karen, live in West Des Moines, Iowa. He is sales manager, Hicklin GM Power Company. Karen is comptroller, Iowa Spring Manufacturing. Their children are Scott and Cindy.

'62

Dennis Wigal and wife, Iris, of Phoenix, Ariz., are the parents of a daughter, Amanda Michelle, born May 15, 1981.

Jan McDonald, wife, Lynn, and son, Jaret, live in Espanola, N.M. He is director of bands at Los Alamos (N.M.) High School, and she is an audiologist.

Virgina Durden and son, Thomas Durden Jr., of Kirksville, recently opened the J and K Sample Bag gift shop in Kirksville.

Donald M. Warren, wife, Barbara, and sons, Keith and Kevin, are living in Trenton, Mo. He is executive director of Green Hills Human Resources Corporation, and she is an abstractor with Trenton Abstract Company.

James D. Henry, wife, Carol, and children, Lisa and Todd, live in Chesterfield, Mo. He is assistant treasurer, Emerson Electric Co., and she is a teacher, Parkway School District.

Pushpa Dalal Ramchandran and husband, Dr. S. Ramchandran, live in Longwood, Fla. She owns and teaches a Montessori School, and he is a realtor.

Ben Averbuch, Webster Groves, Mo., is a U.S. probation officer. He and his wife, Mary Ann, have two children, Michelle and Nikol.

Suzanne Green Shettle and husband, Dr. Philip Shettle, ophthalmologist, live in Clearwater, Fla. They have three sons, Lee, Scott and Todd. Lee is a sophomore at NMSU.

Gary W. and Sandra Collins Merringer live in Naselle, Wash. He is a counselor for juvenile delinquents, and she is a high school instructor. Their children are Michael, Christopher and Allison.

William A. Kreutzer and wife, Betty, a registered nurse, live in Kirksville, where he is manager of Wright Tire and Appliance. Their children are Charles Kreutzer 1978, Ruth Kruezer, Robert Bahr, Donna Kreutzer, Terry Kreutzer, David Bahr 1978, Susan Kreutzer and Judy Kreutzer.

Gerald E. Clifford and wife, Elaine, live in Key Largo, Fla. He is a carpenter and sub-contractor/builder of sailing yachts.

William R. Perkins and wife, Mada, live in Hazelwood, Mo. He is assistant principal of Hazelwood Junior High School, and she is a cookbook author. Their daughter and son-in-law, Debra and J. Scott Sportsman, both 1979 NMSU graduates, live in Champaign, Ill. Debra teaches in Champaign schools, and Scott is a teaching assistant at the University of Illinois, working toward a Ph.D. degree.

'63

Larry V. McCarty, Ottumwa, Iowa, is a driver education instructor and department chairperson, Ottumwa High School. He is also president of Ottumwa Federation of Teachers and president of Ottumwa Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

Ross E. Littrell and wife, Frances, live in rural Mendon, Mo. He is in farming and construction work.

Dr. John N. Dinsmore and wife, Julie, live in Kearney, Neb., where he is a professor of art at Kearney State College. She is office manager, Office of Student Affairs.

Richard L. and Karen Van Meter Sharp and sons, Paul and Michael, are living in Daytona Beach, Fla. He is a computer programmer, and she is a teacher.

Sandra Grotjan, Kaawaa, Hawaii, is a teacher.

Rick Beaman, Corpus Christi, Texas, is a regional sales manager for Magnavox. His wife, Connie, is a social worker.

Lydia Terry Ricketts, retired teacher, and husband, Thomas, also retired, live in Trenton Mo. Her children are E. Dale Tharp, Virgil Tharp and Dennis Tharp.

Carl C. Altrogge, Manchester, Mo., is principal of Brennan Wood Elementary School in High Ridge, Mo. He and his wife, Sondra, a teacher, have three children, Todd, Julie and Andy.

Anita Sue Wilkins, husband, James, and sons, Dirk and Scott, are living in Monrovia, Liberia, West Africa, where they are Southern Baptist Missionaries.

Forest L. Elliott Jr., wife, Nasim, and children, Michael and Moniove, are living in Huntington Beach, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott are both attorneys—he is deputy public defender, Los Angeles County, and she is self-employed.

Robert C. Johnson, Troy, Ohio, is chief of the maintenance performance section, Air Force Human Resources Laboratory. He and his wife, Sarah, have three children, Ken, Jerry and Mandi.

William L. Sanders and wife, Dolene Smith Sanders 1969, live in Kirksville, where he is a vocational resource educator and she is a junior high biology teacher. Their children are Kelly and David.

Marshall F. Thayer, Minot, N.D., is a freelance author and cartoonist and designer draftsman. He is also a student at Minot State College. His wife, Asrun, is craft director at Trinity Medical Center.

Donna R. Brantner Newman, Massena, Iowa, is an art teacher, grades 1-12.

'64

Bill M. Olinger and wife, Nancy, live in Brookfield, Mo., where he is a realtor and she is city manager. Their children are Marcie and William.

Eileen Drescher Morgan, husband, John, and daughters, Deanna and Melissa, are living in Ballwin, Mo. She is an elementary teacher, Francis Howell School District, and he is an engineer, Manchester Fire Department.

Gerald and Sondra Fitzgerald Liebhart and sons, Michael and Eric, are living in Union, Mo. He is a teacher at St. Francis Borgia High School in Washington, Mo., and she is self-employed.

Larry D. and A. Jeanette Wester Johnson live in rural Meriden, Iowa. He is a counselor for the Iowa Department of Education. Their children are Kendall, Kevin, Kerwin and Kenric.

Karl D. Rogers, St. Charles, Mo., is a systems analyst. He and his wife,

Division Update: Health, Physical Education and Recreation

Competency tests challenge P.E. majors

The first graduates of a three-year-old competency program for physical education majors will receive their degrees soon, and William Richerson, head of the Division of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, thinks they are but the first of a line of NMSU graduates who will be better prepared to teach physical education.

The competency program requires physical education majors to successfully complete tests and activities designed to measure their ability in reading, writing, fitness, cardio-pulmonary resuscitation and various sports. Much of the measurement is done in courses, known as analysis and teaching classes, chosen by the student. These courses include analysis and teaching of basketball, volleyball, swimming and 16 other sports.

Students are given a pre-test in each analysis and teaching course, followed by a post-test to determine their learning during the class instruction. Any students failing to achieve a 75 percent score on this final test are required to attend a skills laboratory until they can raise the score. If the students score between 75 and 85 percent, the skills lab is optional. Most majors enroll, however, because they are tested again in all areas during their senior year in PE 450, Seminar in Physical Education, Richerson said.

Students are also expected to achieve proficiency in reading and writing, and those who do not must attend the reading and/or writing laboratories until competency is developed. The fitness component requires the student to perform several activities.

"If a student is unwilling to make a commitment to better himself, then that person does not belong in the program," Richerson says. So far, the best students seem to have welcomed the challenge of the competency program, he says.

18 Alumni Notes

Joyce, a bank teller, have three children, Kirstina, Jeffrey and Kevin.

Dennis Sisson, wife, Lana, and children, Kirk, Scott and Todd, live in St. Louis, Mo. He is a teacher, and she is a secretary.

John D. Lundgren, Burlington, Iowa, is social studies department chairman, Burlington Community High School.

Velma M. Flowers Laughlin, husband, John, and children, Steven and Angela, live in Louisiana, Mo. She is a business education teacher at Bowling Green (Mo.) Senior High, and he is a senior auditor, The Singer Company.

Beula P. Anderson and husband, James, live in rural Kirksville, Mo. She is a clerk at Kirksville Osteopathic Health Center, and he farms. They have a son, Gary.

Michaela McClure Kursar and husband, Gerald, an ophthalmologist, live in St. Louis, Mo. They have two children, Jonathan and Michele.

Barbara Lee Mulligan, husband, Raymond, and daughter, Megan, live in Webster Groves, Mo. She is a children's theater director and teacher, and he is a teacher.

Carolyn Watson and husband, Harold, are living in Wellsville, Kan. She is an R.N./staff nurse at Research Medical Center in Kansas City, Mo. He is a construction job superintendent in Kansas City, Kan. They have a son, Greg.

Constance Terry Pratt and husband, Larry E. Pratt 1968, live in Noblesville, Ind. She is a teacher. They have two sons, Lance and Aaron.

Charles W. Silvey, wife, A. Anne Middleton Silvey 1969, and children, Garth and Roth, live in Lancaster, Mo. He is director of Adair County Family Services in Kirksville, and she is a speech pathologist at AEA 15 in Ottumwa, Iowa.

Anthony O. and Donna Coleman Jones are living in McHenry, Ill. He is a program facilitator (special education) and psychotherapist.

Esther Whitaker Pridey, husband, Vonley, and children, Rosie, Curtis and Vonley (Chip), live in Ft. Scott, Kan. She is a data coding clerk for Western Insurance, and he is a carpenter.

Dennis L. Holmes, Lexington, Ky., is a sales representative for United States Gypsum Company. He and his wife, Judy, have a daughter, Wendy.

Lois Ann Teasley Powell, Plymouth, Mich., is an industrial relations analyst with Ford Motor Company. Her husband, Thomas, is a recruiting specialist, also with Ford.

Mary Ann (Mariah) Mabee Zust and husband, George, live in rural Unionville, Mo. She is a fiber artist, and he is a college instructor.

'65

Randall H. Relford, wife, Barbara, and children, Robertson, Bradley and Thomas, are living in Cameron, Mo. He is elementary principal, Cameron R-I School District, and she owns a Sears catalog store.

Karen Huckabee King and daughter, Andrea, live in Washington, Mo. She is a social science teacher.

Brian E. Barkley, wife, Marilyn, and children, Ann Elizabeth and Brenna, live in Westlake Village, Calif. He is a film editor.

David L. Siglin, D.O., recently opened a family practice in Macon, Mo.

Claude M. Lynch and wife, Nancy, are living in Leadwood, Mo. He is superintendent of schools, and she is a substitute teacher. They have two children, Tracy and Kristin.

Russell F. Hollowell, Monroe City, Mo., is corporate personnel manager, Die Makers, Inc.

Jean Utterback Welliver, husband, John, and son, Paul, live in San Diego, Calif. She designs Title 7 programs for refugee studies, and he is a machine tool manager.

Bryan J. Gruber Jr., Mexico, Mo., has been elected secretary of the Missouri Society of CPAs Central Chapter. The chapter is one of five statewide affiliates of the society, an organization serving nearly 4,000 members of the CPA profession in Missouri and several adjacent states. Gruber has been a solo CPA practitioner in Mexico since 1975 and previously served 11 years with local CPA firms. He and his wife, Patty, have a son, Scott.

Vernon E. Barns, Houston, Texas, is a contractor. He and his wife, Pauletta, have four children, Nicole, Patrick, Heidi and Bridget.

Boyd Jeffries and wife, Sue, live in Lebanon, Mo. He is a national product and sales manager, and she is a secretary at Commerce Bank. They have twin sons, Brian and Scott.

Arnold L. Espe and wife, Irene, live in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he is a physical education teacher and she is a registered nurse. Their children are Ann, Mark and Mary.

Ralph Stevener Jr., Crestwood, Mo., is in sales work. He and his wife, Marie, have four children, Julie, Renee, Tim and Cathy.

Nola Bartholomew Chapman, husband, David, and daughters, Christina, Heather and April, are living in St. Charles, Mo. Mr. Chapman is a salesman.

Margaret Tuley Disselhorst, Palmyra, Mo., is a first grade teacher in Hannibal Public Schools. She and her husband, Howard, a machinist, have two children, Jennifer and Dunstan.

Russell M. Broadwell, D.O., wife, Sharon Wescott Broadwell, and children, Heather and Scott, live in Myrtle Beach, S.C. He is chief, aerospace medicine, Myrtle Beach Air Force Base, and she is a customer service agent for Piedmont Airlines.

Major Clyde W. Johnson Jr. recently completed the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College regular course at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. The 10-month course at the Army's senior tactical school is designed to produce graduates who are competent military problem solvers. Emphasis is on career development for the officer's future duties as a senior commander staff officer. Major Johnson is now serving a three-year assignment in Heidelberg, Germany.

Gladys Lou Hagan Wright, Marshalltown, Iowa, is a junior high school vocal music department head and humanities teacher. She is also in real estate sales. Her daughter, Lou Ann Anderson 1973 and husband, Arnie, live in Red Oak, Iowa, and her son, Louis Wright, received a B.S. in psychology from NMSU in May 1981. Mrs. Wright's mother, Cleo McCully Hagan 1927, lives in Centerville, Iowa.

Donald D. Siegrist, wife, Charlene Buswell Siegrist 1969, and son, Dean, live in Platte City, Mo. He is assistant superintendent of Platte County R-III Schools, and she is sixth grade teacher in the same school system.

John D. Phillips, Fresno, Calif., is a supervisory internal auditor with IRS. He and his wife, Georgia, have a son, John.

Eileen Gentry Smith, Louisiana, Mo., is a retired teacher, now a doctor's receptionist. Her husband, A. D. Smith, is retired.

'66

Donald A. Pekarek, wife, Phyllis, and son, Tim, live in New Orleans, La. He is director of the New Orleans Diagnostic Center, and she is a teacher of the gifted.

James R. Struttman and wife, Joyce Kuhlman Struttman 1972, are living in Hannibal, Mo. He is acting director, Hannibal Regional Center, and she is a primary EMR teacher at Pettibone School in Hannibal. Her children are Jennifer Spurling and Joshua Spurling.

Julian M. and Irene Leopold Kite are living in Muscatine, Iowa. He is a teacher, and she is an accountant.

Marian Ruth Beal, Quincy, Ill., is a guidance counselor at Quincy Senior High II and an adult education supervisor.

Carol B. Irvin, Columbia, Mo., is an instructor in the College of Home Economics-Child and Family Development Department at UMC. She expects to receive the Ph.D. degree in December 1981 from Kansas State University.

Faye Ewing Anastasoff, Clayton, Iowa, is a teacher, Clayton Public Schools, and is an author, Milliken Publishing Company. She has two daughters, Julie and Joan.

Donald G. Lincoln and wife, Harriet, are living in Aurora, Colo. Their children are Larry, Russell and Berinda.

Nancy Peterson Leak and husband, E. C. Leak, live in Lawrence, Kan. She is in real estate sales and he is an area supervisor, Cooperative Farm Chemical Association.

John E. Mathis, Marion, Iowa, is a systems engineering manager for IBM in Cedar Rapids.

Jerry L. Seward and wife, Sharon Wohlert Seward 1968, live in Arnold, Mo. He is a teacher, C-6 School District. Their children are Diane and Steven.

Dr. Penny Ware Ashby, Denver, Colo., received the Ph.D. in 1980 from the University of Colorado and is a teacher. She has a daughter, Felecia.

James W. Cole, D.O., Cranston, R.I., is a pathologist. He and his wife, Raylene, have two children, Christa and Cameo.

Glenn F. Ulrich, wife, Iona Fleagle Ulrich 1968, and children, Christopher and Alison, live in Charleston, S.C. He is a marine biologist with the South Carolina Marine and Wildlife Resources Department, and she is a speech clinician for the Charles County Hearing Impaired Program.

George E. Thompson, Arlington, Va., teaches English grammar on computers at Northern Virginia Community College in Alexandria. He also writes poetry and fiction, both of which have been published.

Charles W. Mertens, Warrenton, Mo., is credit manager, The Binkley Company of Warrenton. He and his wife, Marlys, have two children, Scott and Laura.

L. Anne Bryant Schock, husband, Murry, and daughter, Jennifer, live in Kahoka, Mo. She is a salesperson with Realty World, Keokuk, Iowa, and he farms and is employed at Hubinger Company in Keokuk.

Shirley Jourdan Cook, husband, Ray Stanley Cook, and daughter, Lynn, live in rural Seymour, Iowa. She teaches at Wayne Community School, Corydon, Iowa, and he is a farmer and carpenter.

James W. Gilmore, Bradford, Ill., is a director of guidance and a football and track coach. He and his wife, Donna, have three children, Jamie, James and John.

Dee M. Klopfenstein, West Point, Iowa, is a grain and livestock farmer. He and his wife, Laurel, have two daughters, Julia and Susan.

Wilma Mettes Yarrington lives in Jefferson City, Mo., where she is a music teacher at Southwest Elementary School. She has a daughter, Brenda.

Susan Hammack Evans, husband, Dr. Gary W. Evans 1971, and children, Bradford, Charles and Marla, live in Higginsville, Mo. He is superintendent of schools and she is a teacher, both at Lafayette County C-I School District, Higginsville.

'67

Linda L. Elsea, Macomb, Ill., is a counselor at Rushville (Ill.) High School.

William J. Mertens and wife, Joyce Rhodes Mertens 1970, live in Cantril, Iowa. He is principal of Fox Valley Schools and she is a representative for Dormac Inc. Their children are Debra, Billy, Michelle and Jimmy.

Vernon D. Kirkendoll, Warrenton, Mo., is COE Coordinator, Warrenton High School. He and his wife, Ellen, have two daughters, Jennifer and Jolene.

Wanda M. Mettes, St. Paul, Minn., is manager of a K-Mart Apparel Department.

Richard W. Lundgren, Eagle Bend, Minn., is principal and project director of communications at Eagle Bend High School. He and his wife, N. Kay Singleton Lundgren 1968, have two children, Lesley and Sherrie.

Gary D. Bush, wife, Patricia Hughes Bush 1968, and children, Mike, Amanda, Jennifer and Aaron, are living in Moberly, Mo. He is owner of Bush's House of Color in Moberly and she is a fourth grade teacher, Moberly Public Schools.

Anthony Di Grazia and wife, Carol, live in Avon, Conn. He is an elementary music instructor, and she is a health aide. Their children are Vincent, Rose Marie and Kelly.

Cornell C. Bowen, St. Louis County, Mo., is assistant principal at Riverview Gardens Senior High. He and his wife, Christian, have two children, Clint and Kelley.

Division Update: Home Economics

FRIENDLY FACE—Dr. Lydia Inman, head of the Division of Home Economics, also serves as graduate dean. Dean Inman was among several faculty and staff who met with alumni at the annual Missouri State Teachers Meetings in St. Louis in November.

Board meets

An alumni advisory board for the Home Economics Division held its first meeting this fall on campus, electing officers and setting goals. Those elected were Deena Tade Fowler ('75) of Columbia, Mo., president; Cheryl Lock ('72) of LaPlata, Mo., vice president; and Kathaleen MacKenzie Hill ('67) of Knox City, Mo., secretary.

Dr. Lydia Inman, division head, said the purpose of the board is, among other things, to advise the division on curriculum matters and to give present students the benefit of experience through alumni.

Other members appointed to the board are Phyllis Young Jobe ('62), Green City, Mo.; Carol Hoeman ('57), St. Louis, Mo.; Frances Wait Jones ('57), Kirksville; Nancy Jo Plowman ('74), Bloomfield, Iowa; Linette Stelplugh ('75), Kansas City, Mo.; and Ann Barclay ('77), Maywood, Mo.

The faculty representative is Dr. Charlotte Revelle, and the two student representatives are seniors Bev Hall and Becky Applebury.

Dear Coach:

Remember. . .

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter was forwarded to the Alumni Office by University President Charles J. McClain. It was received by Athletic Director Ken Gardner from one of his former track men, 1958 graduate Dr. Richard C. Kunkel. The letter was written on stationery from the University of Nevada, Las Vegas College of Education. Coach Gardner had scribbled a note to the president near the logo which said, "Kinda proud of some of our former track men." Mr. Kunkel's letter read:

Dear Coach:
I just received a letter . . . (which) claims you somehow remember a skinny, stumbling sprinter of 25 years ago. . . . You might be interested to know that, even though along with working here at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, I am back again competing and last week competed in the Pan American Masters at USC. I'm really enjoying it and have been working quite regularly at it. I ran the 100- and 200-meters—didn't win much but had lots of fun.

I've been working with my weight and am now almost to a running weight of 145 pounds, only about 10 pounds different than 25 years ago. It was really exciting to get down in the starting block with the gun up and have good competition on each side. That feeling 25 years ago still really comes back; the smell of ointment and the theater of the sprinters are nuances that are buried in one's life that the recall and nostalgia really solicit. . . .

Sincerely,

Richard C. Kunkel
Dean

Wendell E. Holman, Des Peres, Mo., is an industrial arts instructor at Brentwood Junior-Senior High School. He is serving as president of the St. Louis Suburban Industrial Education Association. He and his wife, Emily, have four children.

Dr. Michael Bourne, Bloomington, Ind., is a producer and arts critic for WFUI, the NPR affiliate in Bloomington.

Herbert L. and Beverly Cunningham Webster and sons, Kevin and Brian, live in Holt, Mo. He is a driver education teacher and varsity girls basketball coach at Kearney High School. Beverly is a sixth grade teacher at Kearney Middle School.

James N. Brice Jr., wife, Susan Kay Brice, and daughters, Melissa and Angela, are living in Willow Springs, Mo., where he is pastor of the United Methodist Church.

Sheila Johnston, husband, Kenneth and children Dana, Greg, and Jeff, live in Seymour, Iowa, where she is a fourth grade teacher. He is a farmer and part-time postal employee.

Janice Bayse Jogerst, husband, Donald, and daughters, Elaine and Anita, live in Marion, Iowa.

Richard K. Riley, former librarian at Trenton (Mo.) Junior College, recently assumed duties as assistant director for library services at the University of Texas of the Permian Basin in Odessa, Texas.

Sarah Vaneta Kullmer, husband, Robert, and children, Robert and Rebecca, live in Ottumwa, Iowa. She is an elementary teacher and he is an insurance agent.

Judy Winn Riether, husband, Robert J. Riether, D.O., and children, Sasha, Tonya and Acacia, live in Massillon, Ohio. Dr. Riether is chief radiologist at Doctors Hospital.

June Degeneff Mueller and husband, Thomas, live in Lombard, Ill. She is coordinator, psychiatric-liaison nursing, Cook County Hospital in Chicago. He is inventory purchasing supervisor, Birmingham and Prosser. Their son, Michael, was born Dec. 4, 1980.

James R. Neifert, St. Peters, Mo., is a controller. He and his wife, Linda, a secretary, have two daughters, Amy and Deanna.

Paul W. Middeke, St. Charles, Mo., is principal, Arthur Young and Company, CPAs. He and his wife, Donna Danielsen Middeke 1969, have a son, Jason.

Ellen S. Bertram Morice, and husband, Wilfred, are living in Fenton, Mo. She is manager of corporate accounting, Pet Inc., St. Louis. He is assistant controller, Interco.

Richard E. Peters and wife, Roberta, live in Des Moines, Iowa, where he is principal of Junior High School, Douglas Learning Center. She is a teacher's aide. Their children are Lynnette, Gary and Stephen 1971.

H. Burton Young Jr., D.O., of Kirksville, is acting chairman of the department of ophthalmology at KCOM. He was recently notified of his certification in ophthalmology by the board of trustees of the American Osteopathic Association. Dr. Young has been in practice at the Kirksville Osteopathic Health Center since completing his residency and is presently in general ophthalmology practice at Laughlin Osteopathic Clinic. He is an associate physician of the Missouri Crippled Children's service.

Richard W. Elliott, wife, Jennifer, and son, Bret, live in Carson, Iowa. He is business instructor at Carson Macedonia School, and she is an elementary teacher.

Carol Wilson Whitaker, husband, Jerry, and children, Shawn, Chaille and Scott, are living in Hamilton, Ill. She is a day care home operator and he is a maintenance clerk, Cheveron Chemical Company.

James E. North, Blue Springs, Mo., is a mathematics teacher. His wife, Vivian, is an art teacher.

Rex E. and Bette Brown Miskimins are living in Kellogg, Iowa. He is an elementary principal in Newton, Iowa.

Jerry C. Redmon, wife, Virginia Miccio Redmon 1972, and daughters, Gina and Jennifer, live in Syracuse, N.Y. He is a counselor, New York State Division for Youth, and she is a worker's compensation examiner, state of New York.

M. Kathleen Dawkins Foley, Macon, Mo., is a fifth grade mathematics teacher, Macon County R-I School in Macon. Her husband, James, is an attorney.

Gerald Kusek, Schaumburg, Ill., is divisional chairman of physical education at Elgin High School. His wife, Karen, is a real estate agent.

Terry M. Pinkerton, wife, Sandra Tribley Pinkerton 1969, and children, Todd and Susan, are living in Pontiac, Ill. He is in the construction business, and she is a part-time teacher.

Jean L. Adams, Edina, Minn., is a teacher in Minneapolis Public Schools.

Margaret Herring Gibb, husband, David, and children, Christopher and Jennifer, are living in rural Piper City, Ill., where he is an Angus cattle breeder and farmer.

Gary W. and Linda Smith Thomas and daughter, Carrie, are living in West Des Moines, Iowa. He is executive vice president of Iowa Automobile Dealers Association, and she is vice president of Midland Printing Inc.

Robert E. Schraft Jr. and wife, Janice Mark Schraft 1969, live in Lombard, Ill. He is vice president of election systems for Frank Thornber Company, and she is a part-time R.N. at Elmhurst Memorial Hospital. Their children are Aaron, Blake, and twins, Callie and Carrie.

Jerry L. Richeson, wife, Ardella Engle Richeson 1969, and daughter, Lynn, live in Randallstown, Md. He is senior program analyst for the office of the Commissioner of Social Security Administration.

'69

Gary C. Nuhn, wife, Priscilla, and children, Kristine and Matthew, live in rural Novinger, Mo., where he farms.

Robert S. (Sid) Maxwell and wife, Ruth, live in Ottumwa, Iowa. He is service center manager, Farm Service Company of Wapello County, and she is a stocker at Warehouse Market. They have four daughters, Robin, Tracey, Bobby and Julie.

Theola Davenport Lake, husband, Jim, and children Christine and Justin, live in Kansas City, Mo. She is a tax examiner, Internal Revenue Service, and he is a nurse technician at Menorah Medical Center.

Diane M. Shupert, husband, Dan, and children, Jennifer and Julie, live in Broken Arrow, Okla. He is manager, JA's Hush Puppies Shoes, in Tulsa.

David Kutzner, Galesburg, Ill., is a senior sales representative, The Upjohn Company. He and his wife, Pamela, have three children, Kristin, Rebecca and Michael.

Jacquelyn Roberts, St. Louis, Mo., is a supervisor of marketing for Southwestern Bell.

Ann Bunch, Lancaster, Mo., is editor of the Lancaster Excelsior weekly newspaper. She and her husband, C. W. Bunch, a farmer, have three children, Rebecca, C. W. Jr., Jennifer and Laura.

Frank E. Fleagle and wife, Sue, live in Ottumwa, Iowa. He is trades and industry coordinator, Ottumwa Public Schools, and she is employed in the office, John Deere, Ottumwa. Their son, Timothy, and his wife, Debra, are enrolled at NMSU for fall 1981.

S. Katherine Shelton Turner and husband, Samuel Kenneth Turner Sr., live in Kirksville. She is travel agent-owner, International Tours Travel Agency, Kirksville. Mr. Turner is Charles F. Sherertz, Columbus, Neb., is a teacher and coach. He and his wife, Carolyn, a teacher, have four children, Sunny, Charles, Jennifer and Samuel.

Gerald W. Yarrington, Jefferson City, Mo., is with the Department of Budget.

Steven B. Barger, Des Moines, Iowa, is marketing coordinator, Hawkeye Bancorporation. He and his wife, Marilyn, have three children, Brenda, Grant and Scott.

Svea Wikstrom Nuyttens, husband, George, and son, George Jr., live in Hoffman Estates, Ill. He is assistant manager, Walgreens Drugs.

Craig Guinn, Denver, Colo., is a teacher.

Sara Thompson Fowler, husband, Joe, and daughters, Cheryl and Cathy, live in Newtown, Mo. She is a business education teacher at Newtown-Harris School, and he is a rural mail carrier.

Louise Schwaner Kriner, Kirksville, is a private duty registered nurse.

Sharalyn Noland Johnson, Winfield, Iowa, is a substitute teacher. She and her husband, Gary, a farmer, have three children, Krista, Kerri and Karmen.

Paul J. Klote, Kansas City, Mo., is a real estate appraiser with General Services Administration, Region 6.

Division Update: Language and Literature

New instructors guide changing communication program

Leave it to the mass communication field to change quickly. Not only has the number of mass comm majors grown rapidly, but the number of full-time instructors has grown from two last year to three, and two of those are new instructors.

Over the summer Dr. Jack Dvorak, who had guided NMSU's mass communication program since its inception, left Northeast to take a job with the University of Iowa. Al Edyvean, who had helped build up a successful radio and television curriculum in his two years, also left and is working with cable television in the Indianapolis, Ind., area.

So that left Jim Pokrywczynski, who was hired last spring as instructor of advertising and public relations, as the mass communication professor with the most experience at NMSU.

Replacing Dvorak as the chief instructor of the journalism courses is Jim King, who has completed requirements for the MA degree in journalism at Michigan State and also worked for a newspaper in Joplin, Mo., since his graduation from Oklahoma City University in 1976. He is joined by Craig McKenzie, who has a BA from Western Illinois and a master's from Purdue and is the director of radio and television. He has the responsibility of overseeing KNEU, the campus radio station, and Campus View, the on-campus TV news show, which will resume production after laying off a semester.

The new instructors are meeting the challenge head-on of training the students who will be putting together the campus newspaper and yearbook—award winners for the past several years. The Index, a weekly newspaper, has received the prestigious All-American rating from the Associated Collegiate Press eight semesters in a row.

The Echo has also been rated All-American for the past two years. In addition it was one of only two university yearbooks in the nation selected for special recognition as a Pacemaker in 1980. The '81 yearbook is still in the running for the award.

20 Alumni Notes

president of the First National Bank, Kirksville. They have two children, Samuel Kenneth Jr. 1979 and Sarah.

Sheryl Keeran Mayes, Boulder City, Nev., is a third grade teacher in Henderson, Nev. Her husband, Ed, is an equipment operator and warehouseman at TIMET.

Stephen Lowenberg, wife, Mary, and children, Rebekah and Michael, are living in Thornburg, Iowa. He is a secondary resource room teacher, and she is a part-time registered nurse.

Douglas F. Anderson, Carrollton, Texas, is manager of the information processing customer support center, Xerox Office Products Division, Dallas, Texas.

Linda Clair Fowler, husband, Terry J. Fowler 1970, and children, Roy and Mary, live in Moberly, Mo. She is a first grade teacher at South Park School, Moberly, and he teaches social studies at Moberly Junior High School.

John W. Kauzlarich, D.O., and Deborah Szuca, a graduate of Texas Christian University, were married May 17, 1981. They are living in Largo, Fla., where Dr. Kauzlarich is in private practice and sports medicine. He is affiliated with University General Hospital.

Carolyn Christian Couchman and husband, Steve, live in Corpus Christi, Texas. She is a second grade language arts teacher, and he is in public relations for sales with Motorola.

Sharon E. Kröpf, husband, James, and children, Melissa and Carri, live in Mexico, Mo. She is a public school substitute teacher, and he teaches science at Mexico Junior High.

Susanne Nugent Neely, husband, Rick Neely 1977, and son, Bradford, live in Kirksville, where she is assistant director of Financial Aids at NMSU. Rick recently graduated from the Law Enforcement Academy in Jefferson City, and is a trooper with the Missouri State Highway Patrol, stationed in Macon.

Dr. Craig L. Paul, Avon, Minn., is a high school administrator. He and his wife, Teresa, a tax consultant, have three children, Emily, Christopher and Ian.

Paula S. Porter, Wilmington, Del., is owner and manager of a Fred Astaire Dance Studio.

Noaleen K. Motter, Freeport, Ill., is an English teacher.

Nancy Farmer Foglesong, husband, Richard Foglesong 1972, and daughters, Diane and Katherine, live in Festus, Mo. She is a teacher and he is a developer, general contractor and co-partner, Action Realty Inc.

Susan Peterson Dougherty, husband, Jack, and children, Amy and Timothy, live in Beardstown, Ill. She is a sixth grade teacher, and he is office manager, Kent Feeds.

Linda McCoy Chornock and husband, Thomas O. Chornock 1973, of Alexandria, Va., are the parents of a daughter, Laura Frances, born Feb. 16, 1981. They have one other child, a son, Ryan, 3.

Larry and Dena Boone Anderson and sons, Jay and Derek, are living in Hiawatha, Iowa. He is athletic director, football coach and wrestling coach at La Salle High School in Cedar Rapids. She is a kindergarten teacher, Cedar Rapids Community School District.

Paul B. and Sherry Ellis McCray live in Eldon, Mo. He is with the Missouri Department of Parks and Recreation at Ozark State Park, and she is sales manager, Lodge of the Four Seasons.

Thomas O. Rusert, Los Gatos, Calif., is manager of executive services with Memorex Corporation.

Larry L. Reed and wife, Donna, live in Eldora, Iowa. He is an elementary principal, and she is youth director, United Methodist Church. They have two daughters, Lynnae and Amber.

Sharon Zeigler Pasley, husband, Fred, and daughter, Angela, live in Wichita, Kan. She is an elementary learning disabilities teacher, and he is assistant chief engineer at the VA Medical Center.

Lawrence J. (Larry) Minnis, Morning Sun, Iowa, is assistant manager, Morning Sun Grain Company. He and his wife, Karen Wilderman Minnis 1971, have two sons, Ryan and Bret.

Michelen Mahler, St. Louis, Mo., is a rehabilitation counselor in private practice.

Deborah Graff Kilian and husband, Gary Kilian, D.O., live in 29 Palms Calif., where he has a family practice. Their children are Michael, Kristen, Allen, Philip, Joshua and Dana.

Earl E. Johnson, Emmetsburg, Iowa, is a district sales manager, Pfizer Genetics. He and his wife, Carol, have three children, Tony, Tyler and Trisha.

Sharon L. Jones Arndt and husband, James, live in San Diego, Calif. He is a radioman chief in the U.S. Navy. Their children are Andrew and Aletha.

William C. Durow, wife, Janet, and son, Justin, are living in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He is assistant librarian at Iowa Masonic Library and Chairman, Masonic Education in Iowa. Janet is with the Iowa Department of Social Services.

Martin R. Bailey of St. Louis, was recently promoted to senior manager in the audit department of Price Waterhouse and Company, public accounting firm. Bailey joined the firm in 1970 and is a member of the AICPA, Missouri Society of CPAs and the National Association of Accountants. He and his wife, Carolyn, have two daughters, Melissa and Debra.

Richard S. Harvey, Springfield, Ill., is a district manager, Burger Queen Corporation of Ft. Myers, Fla.

Ron Bielinski and wife, Debbie, are living in Chicago, Ill. He is an agent, State Farm Insurance, and she is an accountant.

John M. O'Day, Wichita, Kan., is an agency manager, State Farm Insurance Companies.

Karla Megehe Long, husband, Larry and son, Darek, live in Shoreview, Minn. She is a reading specialist at Anoka (Minn.) Senior High Reading Center. Larry is an operations superintendent with Sears in Maplewood, Minn.

Mary Jeanne Kunzler, Bronx, N.Y., is a chairperson of religious studies at Cabrini High School, New York, N.Y.

Ronald and Virginia Duckworth Rowland and sons Robert and James are living in O'Fallon, Mo. He is a director of advanced underwriting.

James R. Brouwer, wife, Cherry, and son, Andrew, live in Fairfield, Iowa, where he is service manager and she is an accountant, both at Fairfield International Inc.

B. Lienell Rhoades Richardson, husband, Charles, and children, Tara, William and Matthew, are living in Brunswick, Mo. She is librarian at Brunswick R-II Schools, and he is a farmer.

Terry J. Smith and wife, Kathleen Glasgow Smith 1975, of De Soto, Mo., are the parents of a daughter, Manda Jo, born July 13, 1981. They also have a 4 1/2 year old son, T.J.

Rita L. Johnston, husband, Steven D. Johnston 1971, and children, Bethany, Kimberly and Gretchen, are living in Oskaloosa, Iowa. She is a first grade teacher, Albia (Iowa) Community Schools, and he is purchasing agent for Mahaska County Hospital.

Glenn and Patricia Trent Fast are living in Roswell, Ga., where he is a marketing executive for a new photography process corporation.

'71

Ann M. Wright Ousley, Brunswick, Mo., is a business teacher at

Robert and Helen Fenlon

Can two members of the Pre-Law Club fall in love. . .

Can two members of the pre-law club fall in love, be successful and find happiness as working partners?

Bob Fenlon ('65) and Helen Breidenstein Fenlon ('64) did. Bob is a new member of the Board of Regents (see story on page six). He and Helen practice law together in Mexico, Mo., in the firm of Fenlon, Fenlon and Melahn.

Both knew when they came to Kirksville that they wanted to be lawyers, so naturally they sought out the pre-law club, where they later met each other.

Helen was among the first women graduates of NMSU to pursue a career in law. "My father was a lawyer, and having been around a small town law office all my life, I naturally wanted to be a lawyer, too," she said.

"What's it like working with your spouse all day and then going home together?"

"So far, so good," laughs Helen, a native of Kahoka, Mo. "We've been married 14 years and have two children, Laura Marie and William Edward."

"It has not created any problems," Bob, who grew up in LaPlata, says. "Actually, we see so little of each other at the office that we often have to go home and discuss what happened during the day over a cup of coffee after the children have gone to bed."

The Fenlons add that their differences in likes and dislikes compliment each other in the kinds of cases they handle.

"A lawyer has to have a logical way of thinking. I learned that from Duane Norman in the Math Division, and Bob from Earl Cunningham in logic and philosophy," Helen said. "Two different personalities both helped prepare us for our law careers. I thought Duane Norman was great, and Bob liked Dr. Cunningham."

Both agree, however, that their undergraduate education at Kirksville prepared them well for law school and their careers.

"We were able to compete in law school with those students from the so-called prestigious institutions; in fact, I believe some would have done well to have gotten their undergraduate educations from Kirksville," Bob said.

"Now, as a member of the Board, I see that the school has improved its physical plant—there are fine facilities. The administration is doing a good job, and I am sure the product must be good."

"I think one of my strengths is common sense. If I can bring this to the Board and thereby help the University achieve its quest for a quality education, then I think I have done my job."

Brunswick High School. She and her husband, Myron Ousley 1973, a farmer, have a daughter, Stephanie.

Perry and Diana Newquist Parson and son, Luke, are living in Troy, Mo., where he is a science teacher at Lincoln County R-III Schools. She is administrator, Community Pre Schools.

Neil Moritz, wife, Sheryl, and sons, Michael, Mark and Matthew, live in Independence, Iowa. He is a high school principal, and she is receptionist, Independence Newspapers.

Bill D. and Ruth Evans Sheehan are living in Altoona, Iowa. He is a technical service representative, and she is a product manager.

Patricia Huff Klesner and husband, Robert, live in Evansville, Ind. He is an accounting supervisor at Chebron Chemical Company. Their children are Jeff, Jason and Tricia.

Robert L. Grundstad and wife, Pamela Simpson Grundstad 1974, are living in Marshalltown, Iowa. He is with Smith Music Company, and she is a vocal music instructor, Mar-

Division Update: Libraries and Museums

Statesman donates collection

An extensive collection of Austrian and German literature has been donated to the Division of Libraries and Museums and will be housed in the Special Collections area of Pickler Memorial Library.

A gift from Dr. E. Wilder Spaulding of Boston, Mass., the collection consists of more than 350 volumes and many manuscripts. Dr. Spaulding, educated at Dartmouth and Harvard, acquired the materials in his years as cultural affairs officer for the U.S. Legation in Vienna and cultural attache for the U.S. Embassy in Bonn during the 1940s and 50s.

A longtime friend of the late professor emeritus of art William Unger, Dr. Spaulding decided that "the collection would do more good at Northeast State," George Hartje, head of the Division of Libraries and Museums, said.

Born in Boston in 1899, Dr. Spaulding authored several books, including "New York in the Critical Period," "His Excellency George Clinton," "The Continued History of the State of New York," and "The Quiet Invaders," some of which are included in the Spaulding collection.

Dr. Robert Schnucker, professor of history and religion, flew to Dr. Spaulding's home in Washington, D.C., at the request of President Charles McClain, to view the collection and to thank Dr. Spaulding personally for his contribution.

shallowtown Community College. They have three daughters, Emily, Angela and Cynthia.

H. Ann Garrett Cook, husband, Gary, and sons, Michael Struttman and Matthew Struttman, are living in Des Peres, Mo. She is project manager, Basic Four Corporation, St. Louis, and he is vice president, Carondelet Savings and Loan.

Michael L. Bielic and wife, Dana, are living in Lockport, Ill. He is a truck driver (water market), and she is a pharmacist at Walgreen's.

John J. Maiers, Sioux City, Iowa, is a counselor and head football coach at Hinton (Iowa) High School.

Jim L. McNeilus, Charles City, Iowa, is a high school mathematics teacher. He and his wife, Jean, have two children, Cora and Leslie.

Patricia Jacobs Smith, Tempe, Ariz., is a secretary. Her husband, John, is a commercial real estate appraiser.

Kenneth T. Castagna, Creve Coeur, Mo., is a BD/LD teacher, Special School District of St. Louis.

Bruce D. Moore and wife, Judy, live in Osceola, Iowa. He is a product specialist for Anchor Labs of St. Joseph, Mo.

Loretta Hale Clithero, Columbia, Mo., is an administrative secretary.

Elizabeth Fedak Dresko, husband, John, and son, Christopher, live in Rochester, Mich. She is an elementary physical education teacher, and he is an orthodox priest.

Nee Leau, Muscatine, Iowa, was recently promoted to vice president of S. J. Hoffman and Sons Inc. and general manager of Hoffman-Rochester Products. He and his wife, Vicki Houston Leau, have two children, Nee and Callie.

Roleigh H. Martin, Hood River, Ore., is a programmer/analyst. His wife, Miranda, is a registered nurse.

Michael W. Yager, Ft. Collins, Colo., is a parts manager.

Bill D. and Ruth Evans Sheehan are living in Altoona, Iowa. He is a technical service representative for AM International, and she is product manager, Syntex Agri-business. Their son, Brett Alan, was born in April 1981.

James F. Elliott, Roseville, Minn., is an assistant claims manager, Travelers Insurance Company. He and his wife, Linda Delaney Elliott 1972, have two children, Kathleen and Daniel.

Richard E. Brooks, St. Charles, Mo., is director of community services, City of St. Peters, Mo. He and his wife, Mary, have three children, Heather, Jeremy and Amanda.

Drew F. Mitchell and wife, Amy live in rural Buckingham, Iowa, where they farm.

Janice Ritter Carter and husband, Thomas, are living in Maywood, Mo. She is an elementary physical education and health teacher, and he farms and drives a school bus. They have one child, Jana.

Nettie McCoy Lewis, Lucerne, Mo., is administrator of the Putnam County Health Department and a community health nurse. Her children are Kimberly, Karyn and Daniel.

John W. Shanks and wife, Pamela, are living in Kennesaw, Georgia. He is a prosthetist for J. E. Hangr Inc. of Atlanta, and she is a computer designer/programmer.

Dr. Martha Rapp Haggard Oakland, Calif., is a visiting professor at the University of California-Berkeley. She has one son, John.

Becky J. Boal Church, Marion, Iowa, is a procedure writer for Collins-Rockwell. She has a daughter, Phaedra.

Donald A. Peck, wife, Susan E. Lyle Peck 1972, and children, Bryan and Brittany, are living in Corydon, Ind. He is a district sales manager, Johnson Corporation of Columbus, Ohio.

Lynn A. Paustian, Camanche, Iowa, is an employment service manager. He and his wife, Patricia, a typist, have four children, Melissa, Laura, Mike and Tom.

David S. Paulsen, wife, Barbara, and children, Sarah, Neil and Jay, are living in Centertown, Mo. He is a quality assurance chemist with the Department of Natural Resources, Jefferson City, and she is a nutritionist at Lincoln University.

Steve Jurkins, Florissant, Mo., is a physical education and driver education teacher and head basketball coach at Hazelwood West High School. His wife, Jean, is a guidance counselor.

Marcia Lushbaugh Schmitt and husband, Richard, live in Dallas, Texas. She is associate producer and he is president and producer, both with Bioscience Communications of Dallas.

David L. Schmidt, Clinton, Iowa, is a cutter operator. He and his wife, Deloris, have three children, Kim, Mike and Matthew.

William Pauls, Bethany, Mo., is a soil scientist, Soil Conservation Service, Gentry County. He and his wife, Kristy Hermens Pauls 1972, have two children, Jeffrey and Kelly.

Lou Ann (Annie) Clark Ware, Blue Springs, Mo., is a learning disabilities teacher at Hall McCarter Junior High.

Arthur Embree Hutton, Fairfield, Iowa, is a counselor and coach at Fairfield Community High School. His children are Geoffrey, Shelli and Curtis. Geoffrey is a student at NMSU.

Loren M. Hnizda, Dakota City, Iowa, is an assistant manager.

Jerry M. Phipps and wife, Sharon, of Kirksville, are the parents of a son, Jeffrey Scott, born July 18, 1981. They have two other children, both daughters, Tina Marie and Lisa Lynn. Mr. Phipps is an American Family Insurance agent.

James L. Compton, D.O., Joplin, Mo., is in general practice. He and his wife, Connie, have two children, Cori Lee and Cara Nichole.

Betty Ann McEwen Hunerdosse, Shelbina, Mo., is teaching K-6 special education at Shelby County R-IV School, Clarence, Mo.

William A. Ronecker, Overland, Mo., is a budget analyst (civilian) with the U.S. Army.

'72

Marla Mundell, Springfield, Mo., is coordinator for Area VI Developmental Disabilities.

Carole Kennedy Nash and husband, Jess, live in Belton, Mo. She is a sixth grade teacher at Meadowmere School, Grandview, Mo., and he is leasing manager at Ben Hicks Chevrolet in Raytown, Mo. Her children are Jana Miller, James Miller and Christy Miller.

Alan U. Harman, Salisbury, Mo., is a former teacher, now farming. His wife, Virginia Anderson Harman 1973, is teaching in Keytesville, Mo.

Frank Swingler Jr., Mount Morris, Ill., is a physical education and health teacher and coaches football and track at Mount Morris High School.

Annette Titus, Reno, Nev., is a nurse.

Richard and Judy Wilhoit Lagemann and children, Jennifer and Derek, live in Hannibal, Mo. He is a teacher/coach, and she is a second grade teacher.

Margaret Grace Robinson and husband, Jack, are living in Davenport, Iowa. He is a welder.

Earlene Barnes Ash, Sperry, Iowa, is director of personnel and training at Holiday Inn, Burlington, Iowa. She and her husband, a maintenance supervisor, have one child, Cale Ryan.

Matthew B. Stallings, St. Louis, Mo., is a teacher, St. Louis Board of Education.

Howard L. and Beverly Browning Hawkins and daughters, Julie and Barbara, are living in Lake Mary, Fla. Both are teachers.

Geneta Maloney Timmons, husband, James W. Timmons 1974, and daughter, Amy, live in Vinitia, Okla. She is a business education teacher, and he is reclamation manager, Peabody Coal Company, Mid-Continent Division.

Gregory M. Tracy and wife, Mary Anne, live in Pendleton, Ind. He is field representative, Ohio Casualty Insurance, and she is a music teacher.

Barbara A. Brown, Salt Lake City, Utah, is office manager, Oriental Rug Distributors.

Gary A. Lease, D.O., of York, Pa., is chief of staff at Memorial Osteopathic Hospital. He and his wife, Cynthia, have a daughter, Amy.

Omar E. Hammond and wife, Nancy, live in Holt, Mo. He is major projects manager at Design Space International in Kansas City. Nancy is a student nurse.

Robert K. Bohrer and wife, Mary Lou, live in Mexico, Mo. He is an accountant at the University of Missouri Hospital, and she is an X-ray technician. They have one child, Robyn Leigh.

Elaine C. Koch, Florissant, Mo., is a fourth grade teacher, Francis Howell School District.

Lois Mayes Epperson and husband, Glen, live in Kansas City, Kan., where she is a first grade teacher. He is a pipe fitter at Phillips Petroleum.

Michael J. Sisul, Centerville, Iowa, is a sixth grade teacher in Moravia, Iowa, and manages Motel 60 in Centerville. He and his wife, Dorothy, have a son, Jeffrey.

Jim D. Summers, Plainview, Tex., is an auctioneer and cattle buyer. He and his wife, Sharon, have a daughter, Michelle.

John D. Parsons, Novelty, Mo., is a farmer. He and his wife, Sherry, have two sons, Brad and Wesley.

Jacqueline Wilson, Chicago, Ill., is a claims representative, Social Security Administration.

Cynthia A. Bailey Murphy and husband, Ronald, are living in Wellsville, Mo., where she is a sixth grade teacher at Wellsville-Middletown Schools. He is employed at Wellsville Agri Center. They have one child, Casey.

Dr. A. John McBee and wife, Maridyth, live in Oklahoma City, Okla. He is president of Behavior Systems Programming Inc. and vice-president of Health Programming Consultants Inc. Mrs. McBee is a senior research associate and planner, Oklahoma City Public Schools. They have one child, Brandon.

Mary Etta Quigley and husband, David, are living in Houston, Texas, where he is a plant engineer for Alamo Linen Co.

Christine Catron Carter, husband, John O. Carter 1973, and son, John N., live in Maywood, Mo. She teaches in Quincy (Ill.) Public Schools, and he teaches in Hannibal Schools and also farms.

Dr. Robert M. Dawley, assistant professor of Music at Purdue University, has received a $2,000 grant under the auspices of the Purdue Research Foundation to develop audio-visual materials in American folk music and jazz history at Purdue University. Six of Dr. Dawley's musical compositions have been performed by the Lafayette (Ind.) Symphony String Quartet.

Jennifer Young Sensel and husband, Bill, are living in Columbia, Tenn., where she is an interviewer for the Tennessee Department of Employment Security and he is an engineer for Stauffer Chemical.

'73

Charles W. Reighard, Wapello, Iowa, teaches junior high mathematics and physical education and is head football coach and junior high boys track coach. He and his wife, Susan Krieger Reighard, have two children, Sam and Anna.

Lewis and Judith Hays Rains and son, Brian, are living in Excelsior Springs, Mo. He is an insurance underwriter.

Rhonda J. Shearl, West Los Angeles, Calif., is a sales associate, Los Angeles Insurance and Financial Services Corporation.

Randy Rogers, Urbandale, Iowa, is a supervisor, John Deere Ottumwa Works. He and his wife, Cheryl, have two children, Amy and Richard.

John C. Roberts Jr., wife, Audrey Cadigan Roberts 1975, and children, Angela, John and Dolbia, live in Marceline, Mo. He is a purchasing director, and she is a teacher.

Gordon B. Jones, wife, Sharon, and children, Sara, Matthew and Molly, are living in Keosauqua, Iowa. He is a history teacher, head football coach and assistant basketball coach at Van Buren High School. Sharon is a medical technologist at Van Buren County Hospital.

Nancy McElfresh Copenhaver and husband, Paul C. Copenhaver 1973,

Division Update: Mathematics

Math division head to retire; Nationwide search underway

The Mathematics Division faculty is currently conducting a nationwide search to find a replacement for the retiring Dr. Dale Woods, head of the division.

Dr. Woods has been at NMSU since 1959. Prior to that he taught at North Dakota State University, Idaho State University and Memphis State University.

Dr. Lanny Morley, associate professor of mathematics, is serving as the search committee chairman. He is being assisted by Dr. Joe Flowers, associate professor of mathematics, and Sid Bradley, instructor in mathematics.

The committee has received a number of applications and will continue to do so until early spring, when interviews will begin.

The division is advertising for candidates with a strong background in mathematics and/or computer science.

RESPECTED MATHEMATICIAN—Dr. Dale Woods, long-time head of the Mathematics Division, plans to retire this summer. Dr. Woods guided the introduction of computers in the mathematics curriculum.

22 Alumni Notes

live in Moberly, Mo. She is a business education teacher and he is band director, both at Moberly Public Schools.

William L. Rubel, Des Moines, Iowa, is an office clerk, Vehicle Operations, U.S. Postal Service.

Gerald L. (Jerry) Burkhalter, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., is a special agent, Office of Inspector General, Organized Crime and Racketeering, Miami, Fla.

Rebecca A. Sanderson, Magnolia, Ark., is an assistant dean of students.

Karen C. Satterlee, Puxico, Mo., is a teacher for the Department of Interior, Mingo Job Corps.

Larry J. Schmitz and wife, Connie Dyer Schmitz 1974 live in Ottumwa, Iowa. He is a trust officer at Union Bank, and she is an instructor.

John J. Bickers, Jefferson City, Mo., is a trooper with the narcotics section, Missouri State Highway Patrol.

Audrey Elaine Millett Wedeking, Clarinda, Iowa, is a church organist, piano teacher and secretary at Iowa Western Community College Library. Her husband, Bill, is a vocal music teacher at Clarinda Junior and Senior High.

Robert F. Anderson, Lancaster, Mo., is a teacher, Ottumwa (Iowa) Community School District. He and his wife, Patricia, have six children, Twila, Patricia, Kenneth, Rachel, Deana and Susan.

Beth Gutekunst Austin and husband, John, live in Okawville, Ill. He is supervisor at Monterey Coal Company, Albers, Ill.

Glenda Vlahovich Madden, husband, Richard L. Madden 1975, and children, Adrienne and Lindsey, live in Hope Mills, N.C. She is a former teacher, and he is a maintenance supervisor.

A meeting of the national board of directors of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity was held in northeast Missouri in April. Keith C. Dinsmore of Unionville, national president of Sigma Tau Gamma, hosted the meeting of the eight member board, which governs the programs of the 40,000 member organization. Dinsmore, editor of the Unionville Republican and president of North Missouri Newspapers, was installed as national president of the fraternity in August 1980 for a two-year term. He served as executive director for the fraternity from 1966 to 1973 before entering the newspaper business.

Philip T. Ayers, wife, Julie Ann, and children, Martin and Jessica, are living in Macks Creek, Mo. He is county executive director, ASCS, Camden and Hickory counties.

Dee Swanson Greter, husband, Duane, and son, Matthew, live in Broken Arrow, Okla. She is credit manager, Seifert's Clothing, and he is vice president, Robert Half Inc.

Cathrine L. Cartwright, Camarillo Calif., is a program specialist for special education.

David Hagerman, former businessman, is a biology teacher in De Soto, Mo.

Thomas E. Wagner, Muscatine, Iowa, was recently promoted to controller and office manager at S. J. Hoffmann and Sons in Muscatine. He and his wife, Kathy, have two sons, Tony and Jeff.

Darlene McCoy Hart, husband, Ken, and children, Amber and Nathan, are living in Orange, Calif. He is a printer.

Thomas D. Stanek, Ottumwa, Iowa, is a partner, Zimmerman, Stanek and Fisher CPAs. His wife, Melinda, is program assistant, Wapello County ASCS.

Charles N. Geddes, Boulder, Colo., is a teacher at Boulder Junior Academy.

Dennis W. Anderson, Des Moines, Iowa, is a detective, Polk County Sheriff's Department. His wife, June, is a data entry operator.

Beverly Jo Lauer, St. Joseph, Mo., is a speech pathologist, St. Joseph Public Schools, and he is a part-time instructor at Missouri Western College.

Bruce Kozozenski, Hazelwood, Mo., is director of risk management and assistant to the divisional vice president of loss prevention, Venture Stores.

Ronald Kubik, Traer, Iowa, is a farmer. He and his wife, Ise, have two children, Darrin and Michelle.

Michael R. Monical, Burlington, Iowa, is assistant material manager with Burlington Northern Railroad. He and his wife, Sherry, have a daughter, Karen.

Suzanne Moxley Thomas and husband, Michael, live in St. Joseph, Mo. He is MCS coordinator for Carnation-Pet Foods Division.

Beverly I. Edwards and husband, Gordon C. Edwards 1976, are living in Edina, Mo. She is an assistant principal and teaches first and second grades at St. Joseph Catholic School in Edina. He is a mechanical technician operator for Early's Inc.

Steven J. Van De Walle, wife, Sally, and son, Bart, live in rural New Liberty, Iowa, where they farm.

Craig E. Derby, Des Moines, Iowa, is a technical writer, John Deere Des Moines Works. He and his wife, Marcia, have one child, Erin.

Phyllis Tindal Greiner, husband, John, and sons, Justin and Aaron, live in rural Keota, Iowa. She is a store owner and he farms.

Linda S. Wilson Van De Walle, husband, Dr. Michael Van De Walle, and son, Alexander, live in Austin, Texas. She is a special education teacher and he is a chiropractor.

Leslie Bridges Kohler and husband, Gary, live in Glendale Ariz., where he is a police officer. Their children are Frank, Missy, and twin daughters, Leslie and Mayme.

Pamela Jones and husband, Charles, of Queen City, Mo., are the parents of a daughter, Amanda Leigh, born Jan. 19, 1981. They have two other children, Tracy Ann and Tysen James.

Edward L. and Kathleen Bowman Wynne and daughter, Kristin, are living in St. Charles, Mo. He is a management analyst and she is a teacher.

Sharon Bailey Reed, St. Louis, Mo., was recently installed as a member of the Harris-Stowe College Board of Regents. Miss Reed, St. Louis Public School psychologist, was appointed to the Board by Governor Christopher Bond for a six-year term.

David M. Osbelt, Porterville, Calif., is a family nurse practitioner at Tulare County Clinic, Lindsey, Calif.

Tarry L. Parrish, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is physical education and recreation coordinator, head women's basketball coach and softball coach at Kirkwood Community College in Cedar Rapids.

Dennis J. Schreck, Bloomfield, Iowa, is a district manager, Ralston Purina Company.

Janell Schwennen Dignan, husband, Jerry, and son, Shaun, live in Hampton, Iowa. She is a secondary resource teacher of learning disability students at CAL Community Schools, Latimer, Iowa. He is assistant manager of Denny's Restaurant.

Richard P. Lenger, Epworth, Iowa, is a preschool consultant; Keystone Area Education Association. He and his wife, Terrie, have a son, Shannon.

Max A. King and wife, Sharon Stevenson King 1976, are living in St. Charles, Mo. He is a Fox Photo store manager, and she is an elementary teacher, Francis Howell School District.

Terry F. Rigdon, Mountain Home, Ark., is a dentist.

Merlin Rosenthal and wife, Valda, live in Lake Charles, La. He is a safety engineer for Conoco, and she is a lab analyst.

James A. Brown, wife, Nancy, and son, Nathan, are living in Marshalltown, Iowa. He is employed at Fisher's Laboratory, and she is a lab technologist.

Wendy Barrows Larson and husband, Kenneth, live in Aspen, Colo. She is a middle school social studies and drama teacher, and he teaches high school vocational automotive.

Barry A. Firstenberg, D.O., Amherst, N.Y., is a fellow in oncology. He and his wife, Gayle Diane Firstenberg 1977, have two children, Keri and Devin.

Craig C. Wilson, Sandy, Utah, is a junior high teacher, Jordan School District.

Dixie Wilson Peci and husband, Franklin, are living in Galesburg, Ill. She teaches first grade in ROVA School District 208, and he is with Burlington Northern Railroad.

Dr. Steven W. Bremer, St. Clair Shores, Mich., has a private practice in podiatric medicine and surgery in Detroit and is a clinical instructor at Kern Hospital. He and his wife, Sally, have two sons, Barry and Kenneth.

Elaine Keefe Brown, husband, David E. Brown 1975, and daughters, Kate and Carrie, are living in Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. He is a secondary English teacher, Mt. Pleasant Community Schools.

Curtis Leon and Peggy Grillion Bailey live in Carlinville, Ill. He is a professor of sociology at Blackburn University, and she's a second grade teacher at Northwestern Elementary School in Palmyra, Ill.

Carol Yowell and husband, Jimmy Yowell, D.O., live in Carrollton, Mo. Their daughter Delaine Marie, was born March 6, 1981.

Betty Lange Morris and husband, Telly, live in Dayton, Ohio. She is a social worker, Adult Protective Services, and he is a minister.

Donald D. Thomas, wife, Diana, and sons, Brian, Jon and James, are living in Elizabethtown, Ky. He is a factory accountant with Bussmann Manufacturing Company.

Linley J. Lipper, Kahoka, Mo., is farming.

Mark A. and Jo C. Wood Seip are living in White Bear Lake, Minn. He is a civil engineer.

Linda D. Scolaro O'Brien and husband, Dennis, live in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where she is a substitute teacher. He is Manager of Maintenance at Quality Inn Roosevelt in Cedar Rapids.

Thomas H. Bouch Jr., wife, Ruby, and daughter, Cynthia, live in St. Louis, Mo., where he is a police lieutenant. She is a payroll clerk.

Robert W. Erwin, wife, Chu K-Yin, and daughter, Rebecca, are living in Troy, N.Y. He is with Sterling Medicine Company in Troy.

Kathy Folker Hood, Bonaparte, Iowa, is a fourth grade teacher, Harmony School District, Hillsboro, Iowa. She and her husband, Steve, a farmer, have one child, Erin.

Mary M. Bayles, Palatine, Ill., is vocational coordinator and teacher for the Secondary Work Experience Program at Hoffman Estates (Ill.) High School.

Thomas E. Bueker, Des Moines, Iowa, is supervisor of field services, Marketing Department, John Deere Des Moines Works.

Connie Graham Connor, West Linn, Ore., is an instructor at Clackamas Community College and managing senior distributor for Sasco Company.

David R. Smith, Gladstone, Mo., is a claims representative, American Family Insurance. He and his wife, Deborah, a receptionist, have two children, Heather and Stacie.

Gregory G. Barlow, Sikeston, Mo., is a state bank examiner, Division of Finance.

Katherine M. Welch Jipson and husband, Eugene, live in Olathe, Kan. She is a receptionist-processor at Cookbook Publishers Inc., Lenexa, Kan.

Roger A. and Lonna Wiseman Potter live in Kansas City, Mo. He received the J. D. degree from UMKC in May 1981 and is a law clerk for the Small Business Administration of Kansas City. Lonna is a medical technologist at Veterans Hospital. Their son, Graham, was born Nov. 29, 1980.

Thomas and Ann Gaydosh Voorhees are living in Davenport, Iowa. Both are teachers of the emotionally disturbed, he, at Davenport West High, and she, at Davenport Central High. Their daughter, Beth Ann, was born May 19, 1981.

Randy J. Clark, wife, Janice, and children, Jamie and Jay, live in Indianapolis, Ind. He is a merchandise specialist for J.C. Penny, and she is a jazzercise instructor.

Deborah Dawson Intveld and husband, Bruce, live in rural Moberly, Mo., where he farms. Their children are Julie, Emily and Joshua.

Candace Olson and Robert Whittet were married May 2, 1971. They are living in Columbia, Mo. She is a student activities adviser at UMC, and he is executive director of the Mental Health Center in Jefferson City.

Division Update: Military Science

ROTC finds new home in Hardman Building

Since the ROTC program at NMSU began in 1969, the Military Science Division has been located in Nason Hall. Many ROTC cadets remember the comfortable confines of that hall.

But, as of the start of the fall semester, today's cadets are getting used to a new home. The division has moved to the Hardman Building on Patterson Street, near Grim-Smith Hospital.

Even though the division is a little cramped for space and the building is in need of some repair, it seems to be a popular place. "The students look at it as a fraternity house of sorts," LTC Homer Ledbetter, head of the division, says.

The move was precipitated by the continued housing shortage at NMSU. Nason Hall was originally designed as a residence hall, and rising enrollment eventually forced the University to seek a new home for the Military Science Division. Nason is now used as resident housing once again.

Some problems surfaced for the division shortly after the move, in addition to the smaller space and older surroundings. Although the University did a good bit of refurbishing, Ledbetter says, some problems still exist. The basement of the building, for example, is too wet to use as storage space needed for much of the division's equipment. There is also the problem of location, since the Hardman Building is not as accessible to the residence halls as was Nason Hall.

There are advantages of the new location, however. Ledbetter says it is nice to have a place of their own, and the division is looking at the Hardman Building as a permanent location. Because of its separation from the mainstream of campus, the new location allows the division to maintain a relaxed, informal atmosphere which the students prefer.

Donna M. Packer, husband, David A. Packer 1976, and daughter, Bethany, live in Le Grand, Iowa. She is office education coordinator, Marshalltown (Iowa) High School, and he is a counselor at South Tama County Schools.

Marcia Kinkade Munford, husband, Richard, and son, Joshua, are living in West Burlington, Iowa. She is a Head Start education coordinator, and he is an investigator, Public Defender's office.

Jay C. Shartzler received the D.D.S. degree in 1980 from the University of Missouri-Kansas City. He is living in Cape Coral, Fla., where he is a dentist.

Becky Othmer McAlexander and husband, Arnold McAlexander 1977, are living in Downs, Kan. He is a fisheries biologist for the Kansas Fish and Game Commission.

Michael W. Crass, wife, Barbara and children, Mandy and Caleb, live in McCook, Neb. He is a Sears catalog store manager.

Connie J. Dye Clark, husband, Le Vern, and children, Lesia and Gina, live in Columbia, Mo. She is a student at the School of Law, UMC, and he is a builder.

Daniel and Susan Singley Poland are living in Phoenix, Ariz. He is a project engineer, Sperry Flight Systems, and she is a science teacher at Rancho Solano Private School in Phoenix.

Betty J. Lindsey, Sedalia, Mo., is a conservation agent, Pettis County.

Joan McDonald Massaro and husband, Kevin, live in Denver, Colo. She is a part-time nurse and he is an electrical engineer. Their son, Justin, was born Aug. 15, 1980.

Ann Burghoff Howard, husband, Timothy, and children, Elizabeth Ann and James, live in St. Louis, Mo.

Nancy Wickless Steele and husband, Joe Steele 1976, of Unionville, Mo., are the parents of a daughter, Heather Jeanette, born April 4, 1981. They have one other daughter, Shannon Nicole, 3.

Dana K. Pulsis, Jefferson City, Mo., is counsel, Labor and Industrial Relations. She received the J. D. degree from UMC in 1979 and was admitted to the Missouri Bar in April 1980.

Douglas and Paula Preston Clark and daughters, Angela and Jessica, live in Niota, Ill. He is a psychologist at Hancock County Mental Health Center in Carthage, Ill. Paula is a special education teacher.

Marion L. Miller, wife, Kathy, and daughter, Julie, live in Paris, Mo. He is an instructor, Evening Studies Division, Columbia College, and is a real estate broker, Miller Realty, Paris. Kathy is a student at Columbia College.

Joseph G. Dunning and wife, Rebecca, of Quincy, Ill., are owners-managers of Quincy Health Club.

M. Bridget O' Rourke Shimkus and husband, Jeff, live in Miami, Fla. Both are flight attendants, she with Eastern Airlines, and he with United Airlines.

Richard and Joan Mahoney Wigger and son, Eric, live in Midwest City, Okla. He is an assembler with General Motors, and she is a substitute teacher.

Randy Dearing and wife, Drynda, live in Brookfield, Mo., where he is a police officer. They have one child, Weston.

Chaovaleert Boonyapricha and wife, Martha, of Kirksville are the parents of a son, Timothy Joe, born June 10, 1981. They have one other son, Mickey, 3.

Deborah A. Rainer, Adel, Iowa, is a first grade teacher.

Roger W. and Sandra L. Norfolk live in Ft. Knox, Ky., where he is a captain in the U.S. Army. They have two sons, Christopher and Sean.

Sue Ann Vaughn Van Ness, husband, Wally, and sons, Chad and Joshua, are living in Agency, Iowa. He is vice president of Vaughn Chevrolet.

Linda Jones Dunlap and husband, Raymond, live in Midland, Mich. He is an engineer.

Melodie Rissler Duple, husband, Steve, and children, Phillip and Meagan, are living in Shawnee Mission, Kan. He is in sales service, Leslie Paper Company.

Richard A. Johnson, Kansas City, Mo., is a district sales representative, Weavever Pen Corporation.

Kevin M. and Diana (Dee Dee) Anderson Baker and son, Timothy, live in Bradley, Ill. He is a senior financial analyst with Armour Pharmaceutical Company, a division of Revlon Inc.

Barbara Wigdahl Hansen and husband, Dr. Elmer Hansen, live in Gainesville, Fla. She is a part-time elementary school speech therapist, and he is a professor of engineering at the University of Florida.

Donald L. and Janice Heitzman Lewis and children, Kimberly and Brett, live in Bettendorf, Iowa. He is a credit union examiner, and she is a teacher in Davenport (Iowa) Schools.

Jan Ellen Merrick, Louisiana, Mo., is an elementary school librarian.

Thomas A. Jepson, Clarence, Iowa, is vice president of Clarence Savings Bank. He and his wife, Kathleen, an elementary teacher, have a son, Ryan.

Doris Rigel Sickles and husband, Mark, of Le Claire, Iowa, are the parents of a son, Braden Kyle, born Aug. 11, 1981. She is a records clerk for Deere and Company, and he is an account executive, United Stationers.

Johanna Johnson, Flagstaff, Ariz., is a hardware store clerk and a graduate student at Northern Arizona University.

Nancy Dial Porter, husband, Douglas Porter 1977, and son, Jason, live in Kirksville. He is an agent with Heritage House Realty.

Jon A. Odle and wife, Carol, of La Plata, Mo., are the parents of a daughter, Kristen, born March 5, 1981. They have two other daughters, Elizabeth and Rebecca. Mr. Odle is a school principal, and Mrs. Odle is a registered nurse.

When Glen Hocker ('21) was attending Northeast Missouri State University, he really didn't know if he wanted to be a farmer, a doctor, a teacher or a businessman. In a sense, he ended up pursuing all these careers.

Hocker was admitted to both the University of Missouri-Columbia and the University of Chicago medical schools, though he never attended either. He served as a teacher and school superintendent and director of admissions, and through the years he has owned several farms.

"Perhaps it was my experiences working on the college dairy that provided me with my most valuable background for later life," he says. Hocker was the moving force behind Dairy Queen that turned a single store in the Michael E. Leech and Monica M. Taubel 1978 were married May 8, 1981, in Winnweiler, Germany. He is a 1st Lt. in the U.S. Army and she is a 2nd Lt. in the U.S. Air Force. Both are stationed in Germany. Their overseas address is PSC Box 2593, APO N.Y. 09130.

David T. and Beth Ford Steele are living in Lakewood, Colo., where he is contract administrator with Green International Construction, Building Division. Their daughter, Ann, was born Feb. 4, 1981. They also have a son, Michael.

R. Kent Stone, wife, Martha Blessing Stone 1981, and children, Adam and Erin, live in Mascoutah, Ill. Both are teachers.

Steven and Dolores Mason Fawks are living in Richmond, Mo., where he has a private dental practice and she is school nurse. Their daughter, Stephanie Renee, was born March 27, 1981.

O. Glen Hocker: Mister Dairy Queen

Quad Cities into a world-wide operation. His Dairy Queen was the pioneer of the fast-food franchise business.

One of the parents of a cadet at the Missouri Military Academy, where Hocker was director of admissions from 1924-48, had invented a new-fangled machine that manufactured a high quality, soft-serve ice cream with very little effort.

Dairy Queen was one of the first fast-food franchise operations. Under Hocker's guidance, nationwide product standards were developed for soft-serve ice cream, and the familiar Dairy Queen logo became known world-wide.

Hocker served as president of the Dairy Queen National Development Association during 1955 and 1956, as well as president of the Dairy Queen National Trade Association in 1951.

"The people at McDonalds watched our operation closely," Hocker said. "We made some mistakes by not getting into the sandwich business early enough. McDonalds learned from us. They took what we did right and discarded our mistakes, and you can see for yourself their success."

Diane Pickens, Kirksville, is a teacher-coach at Putnam County R-I Schools, Unionville, Mo.

Gregory S. Miller, Aberdeen, S.D., is director of New Beginnings Center.

Deborah J. Rutledge Rivera and husband, Frank, live in Des Moines, Iowa, where he is an electrician. Their son, Nathan, was born July 26, 1980.

Sabra Ruppert Rieck, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is a fourth grade teacher in Shellsburg, Iowa. Her husband, Leland, is a design engineer at FMC Corporation in Cedar Rapids.

James McConnell, Shelbina, Mo., received the J.D. degree from UMC in 1979. He is a partner in the law firm of Bollow, Wallace and McConnell in Shelbina.

Division Update: Nursing

Nursing Career Day attracts 50 recruiting agencies

"The health field is rich with opportunities," Dr. Grace Devitt, head of the Nursing Division, says. And opportunity knocked at NMSU's door when over 50 agencies and hospitals sent recruiters to the first annual Nursing Career Day held during Student Nurse Week.

More than 250 participants attended Career Day in the Activities Room of the Student Union Building and talked to representatives from as far away as the City of Faith Hospital in Tulsa, Okla., and as close as the Kirksville hospitals.

The Nursing Career Day was modeled after NMSU's annual Career Fair, with booths set up for recruiters to visit with students and give out information.

Dr. Devitt credits the success of the event to the expertise of the Career Planning and Placement Center and to the initiative of the Student Nurses Association. "When students are as busy as our nursing students, they have to really want to do something, and they did."

But the student nurses feel the time spent in planning paid off because both students and recruiters felt they gained from the event. "Several recruiters have already written in to say how well coordinated it was," Devitt says, adding that the SNA plans to hold a Nursing Career Day again next year.

Devitt says recruiters are always anxious to come to the University to look for potential employees. "The school has grown; we have gained accreditation, and the word has spread that the people employing our people are happy with them. Our students have realized they have a lot of options open to them," she says.

"There are many, many opportunities for nursing majors. On a national level, the field is tighter because more credentials are required now. A baccalaureate education is more expected. The health field is such a big industry, and so much leadership is needed," says Devitt. "I think our graduates can provide that leadership."

David B. Shoush, Kirksville, is a housing rehabilitation estimator-inspector.

Linda Sinklear Lessman, husband, Ronald, and children, Abbey and Brook, live in Topeka, Kan. She is an insurance agent and he is self-employed.

Terri Barnes Emel and husband, Danny, of Downing, Mo., are the parents of a son, Aaron Brooks, born May 11, 1981. They have one other son, Evan, 16 months old. Mr. Emel is a farmer and Mrs. Emel is a teacher.

Gladys Booher, husband, Stephen and children, Michele and Douglas, are living in Pryor, Okla., where she teaches first grade at Lincoln Elementary School. He is an apprentice embalmer and funeral director.

Dr. Janis E. (Jan) Northup, Alexandria, Virginia, is an independent educational and organizational consultant.

William J. and Christine Lott Davidson and son, Paul, live in St. Louis, Mo. He is with the St. Louis Police Department.

David L. Bowers, Hannibal, Mo., is a water plant operator.

James R. Watkins, Elsberry, Mo., is an elementary principal. He and his wife, Mary Ellen, a teacher's aide, have two children, Timothy and Ellen.

Mark L. Reagan, Marina, Calif., is a special agent with U.S. Army Intelligence. He and his wife, Michelle, a civil service worker, have two children, Gina and Brian.

Patricia Parker Scott, husband, Bruce C. Scott 1977, and daughter, Breckenridge, live in Des Moines, Iowa. He is a criminalist, Division of Criminal Investigation, and she is a teacher.

Sheila A. Barker, Leavenworth, Kan., is senior buyer, Dart Truck Company. Her husband, Ronald, is a trust officer, Leavenworth National Bank and Trust.

Barbara J. Waddell, Columbia, Mo., is a detective with the UMC Police Department.

Phillip L. Dearing and wife, Judy, are living in North Kansas City, Mo., where he is employed by Kansas City Southern Railroad.

John Ben Grossnickle and wife, Mary Welch Grossnickle 1977, of Kirksville, are the parents of a son, John Andrew, born May 18, 1981.

Daniel R. De Martin and wife, Judi, are living in Mason, Mich. He is an educator at Starr Commonwealth, Albion, Mich., and she is an occupational therapist.

Denise Norman Comstock and husband, Dick, of Kirksville, are the parents of a son, Adam Brice, born June 27, 1981. They also have a daughter, Sarah. Denise is a speech therapist for Putnam County R-I School, and Dick is with Southwestern Bell.

Ron Wilhoit and wife, Rebecca Christensen Wilhoit 1978, live in Hannibal, Mo. He is a mathematics teacher, and she is an elementary learning disabilities teacher.

Joseph W. and Dixie Fiester Hyde and son, Justin, live in Ames, Iowa. He is a correctional worker and she is a registered nurse.

Kathy D. Linn, Tucson, Ariz., is a pharmaceutical salesman, hospital territory.

Katherine McInnes Arciago and husband, Daniel, are living in Manila, Philippines. She is a missionary and he is executive director, Translator Committee of the Philippines.

Pamela Cullen Ahern, husband, James W. Ahern 1977, and daughters, Mandi and Meagan, live in House Springs, Mo. She is a learning disabilities teacher at Cedar Hill Middle School, and he is operations manager, Site Oil Company.

Margaret Bozesky, Murphysboro, Ill., is director of an alternative elementary school. She has one child, Gabriel.

William J. Kunkel, Macon, Mo., is employed by Kunkel Oil, Inc.

'77

William C. Correia and wife, Jane, of Columbia, Mo., are the parents of a daughter, Kellen Leilani, born Feb. 15, 1981.

Mary Galligher Rice, St. Joseph, Mo., is a learning disabilities teacher at North Platte High School in Dearborn, Missouri. Her husband, Greg, is with Star Blends in St. Joseph.

Lisa Ooten Reilmann and husband, Warren, are living in Festus, Mo. She is an income maintenance caseworker, Missouri Division of Family Services, and he manages Long John Silver's in Crystal City.

Lois L. Sandner, Arvada, Colo., is assistant manager, Denver West Truck-Auto Plaza.

David K. Miller, Dallas, Texas, is a planning and control analyst. His wife, Janet, is a teacher.

Kathy Riley Miller and husband, Kevin V. Miller 1978, are living in Norway, Iowa. She is a speech pathologist at Grantwood Area Education Agency, and he is a designer/draftsman, Rockwell Collins, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

2400 degree artwork

Alumni show displays varied talent

Story by Joni Spencer

Some evenings, the glow from Rick Coram's kiln on a hill southwest of Kirksville can be seen for miles around. That's when the kiln is fired up to 2400 degrees Fahrenheit to bake stoneware made by Rick and his wife, Nora, both NMSU graduates in art. Rick, a 1972 graduate, and Nora, ('71), specialize in handmade functional dinnerware sold under the name "Thousand Hills Pottery."

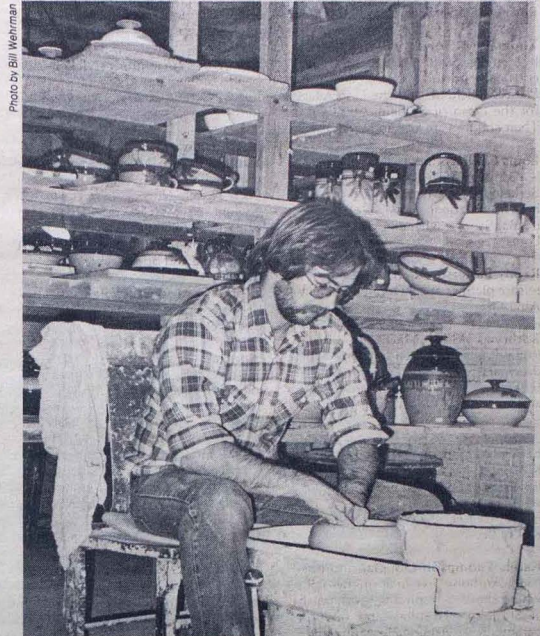

Rick, who considers his work an art as well as a craft, said that pottery making today is "refined, and it's aesthetically pleasing. The techniques I learned in college are part of an art form, and my work is very much an extension of my education," he said, adding that the recent Alumni Show gave him the opportunity to show the University how much he has learned since he first took Introduction to Ceramics as a sophomore. "It was a good show, but I would like to see more participation," Rick said.

The juried competition, held in the Baldwin Hall Gallery in October, gave 21 alumni artists the chance to exhibit their talents. The juror this year was Douglass Freed of Sedalia, Mo., who is an art instructor at the State Fair Community College.

The Division of Fine Arts plans to make the Alumni Show an annual competition in conjunction with Homecoming.

Artists selected for this year's show teach art, create works in their free time, have jobs in an art-related field or make their living by selling their works. Rick Coram falls into the latter group—he makes pottery on a full-time basis. Nora, whose work was also in the Alumni Show, works part-time in Kirksville, and part-time on the pottery.

"The amount of time you put in dictates the amount of money you get out of it," said Rick. Luckily, Rick doesn't mind putting in long hours on his work because he finds it enjoyable and satisfying.

EARTHY ART—Rick Coram ('72) throws a pot in his studio southwest of Kirksville. Rick and his wife, Nora, were two of 21 alumni artists whose juried works were accepted for the annual alumni art show held during Homecoming.

"The thing about pottery is that although you may need a feeling for it, it just takes practice to do it well. But, you have to want to do it—to have a love for it," said Rick, who is enthusiastic about the whole artistic process of creating pottery.

"Everything starts from nothing," he said, explaining the steps involved. He begins by mixing the clay and throwing (shaping) it on the potter's wheel in his basement studio. He then fires it, glazes it and then fires it again. Rick says it takes about 10 minutes to throw a piece, but takes 12 hours to bake it, requiring Rick to tend the fire in the kiln every 20 minutes all day long. Since Rick usually fills the kiln to capacity (300 pieces), it takes two to three weeks to complete a project.

The finished product is ovenproof, dishwasher safe and microwave safe and is sold at retail outlets and at art shows, such as the Plaza's art show in Kansas City or at the Red Barn Arts and Crafts Festival in Kirksville.

Division Update: Practical Arts

Scholarships offered in new plastics program

Two $400 scholarships are now available for students in the newest program in the Practical Arts Division, the plastics option of the industrial technology degree.

The St. Louis section of the Society of Plastics Engineers has made the scholarships available—one per semester to students enrolled in the two-year-old plastics program. The group has also provided $100 worth of books and two molds for use in the University's injection molding machine. Dr. Ron Bagley, professor of industrial education, says

The scholarship applicants will be screened by professors in the industrial technology program, and the winner will be approved by the St. Louis group, Bagley said.

Although enrollment in the plastics degree program is "light," Bagley says it should pick up as more area manufacturers become aware of the plastics program. Five people from Kirksville's Hollister Inc., plant will be enrolling in Bagley's industrial plastics class next semester, for example.

These people are full-time operators or supervisors for Hollister, which makes medical supplies, most of which are plastic products. "When it comes to injection molding, they can teach me," Bagley says. Their knowledge of other means of plastic manufacturing is limited, however, and that is why the company has suggested they enroll in the course.

Bagley says he knows of "over 30 plastics industries within 100 miles of Kirksville," and he expects the NMSU program to supply supervisors for those plants in the near future. Most of these local industries are now aware of the new program, and almost all have expressed an interest in NMSU interns to work in their companies for academic credit.

David C. Lockridge, wife, Gail Thomas Lockridge 1980, and daughters, Erin and Amy, live in Russell, Iowa. He is a social studies teacher, head football coach and assistant boys basketball coach at North Mahaska High School, New Sharon, Iowa. Gail teaches home economics at Russell High School.

Thomas M. Jones and wife, Rinda, live in Kirksville. He is a physical education instructor and coach at La Plata R-2 School, and she is secretary for the Dean of Students at KCOM. Their children are Eric and Emily.

Louis E. Charboneau, Berkeley, Mo., is a Major-Inspector of Police with the Berkeley Police Department. He and his wife, Darlene, have five children, Diana, Sandra, Michelle, Theresa and Louis.

Randy Patterson, Cerritos, Calif., is a release planner at McDonnell Douglas Aircraft.

Kathryn Willis Martin, husband, Ronald, and children, Ronald, Andrew and Ann, are living in Knoxville, Iowa. She is a substitute teacher and he is a telephone company draftsman.

Monte K. Hanson and wife, Glee, of Kirksville, are the parents of a son, Josiah Kent, born June 1, 1981. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson are owners of the Faith Center Christian Store in Kirksville.

Karen Thompson Douglas and husband, Anthony, live in Springfield, Ill. where she is a respiratory technician at St. John's Hospital, and he is a paramedic, America Ambulance Company.

L. Max Schuster, wife, Judith, and daughter, Carisa, are living in Hannibal, Mo. He is a staff accountant with Wade, Stables, Schanbacher and Walker.

Timothy E. Carter, wife, Wyvonna, and daughter, Michelle, are living in Florissant, Mo. He is assistant principal at Hazelwood East High School, and she is a distribution specialist, IBM Corporation.

Mark R. Cook and wife, Janice, are living in Rockford, Ill. He is an application engineer and she is a dental assistant.

Scott M. Norwood and wife, Peggy Llewellyn Norwood 1978, live in Jefferson City, Mo. Both are teaching counselors for Cole County group homes for the handicapped.

Roberta Donaldson, St. Louis, Mo., is an area sales manager, J.C. Penney.

Stanley E. Johnston, Ft. Madison, Iowa, is a control chemist with Armour Dial Inc. His wife Debra, has a two-year secretarial certificate from NMSU and is an abstracter, Ft. Madison Abstract Company.

Rebecca Coleman Auxter and husband, Tom, of Kirksville, are the parents of a daughter, Arianna Marie, born March 26, 1981. They have two other children, Thomas and Jane.

Debra Kerby, De Kalb, Ill., is a student and teaching assistant in the accountability department at Northern Illinois University.

Lisa M. Wormhoudt Nickel, husband, Stephen, and daughter, Kari, live in Ottumwa, Iowa. He is a pilot in the USAF.

R. Lucille Long and husband, George, live in Macon, Mo., where she is director of social services at Loch Haven Nursing Home. He is a geologist with Missouri Department of Highways and Transportation. Their children are Carol Long, Robert Long 1978 and Brian Long.

Gloria E. Hoover Walker, Broomfield, Colo., is a security inspector, Rockwell International.

Patricia Ann Casady, Holland, Mich., is a payroll programmer/analyst at Haworth Inc.

Karen A. Flanagan, D.O., recently opened a new office practice in Huntsville, Ohio.

Byron G. Klemme, Maryville, Mo., recently graduated from the Missouri Highway Patrol Academy and is a patrol trooper headquartered in Maryville. He was with the Jefferson City, Police Department before joining the patrol. Byron and his wife, Donna, have two children, Elizabeth and Mathew.

Jennifer C. Haines and husband, Roger, of Kirksville, are the parents of a son, Ryan Clinton, born Jan. 25, 1981.

Tony R. Harris, Columbia, Mo., is ECA director at Oakland Junior High School in Columbia.

'78

Robert F. Redinger, Des Moines, Iowa, is a teacher at Harding Junior High School.

Max W. Richardson and wife, Mary, are living in Ukiah, Calif. He is a staff accountant with Western Lumber Division, Masonite Corporation.

Mark P. O'Reilly, St. Louis, Mo., is general manager of Arts Works, St. Louis and Kansas City.

Lt. Ronald M. Schrock and wife, Brigitte, live in Radcliff, Ky. He is a battalion support platoon leader, U.S. Army. Brigitte is a student at the University of Kentucky.

Richard D. (Rick) Sharp, Austin, Texas, is administering physical examinations for insurance companies. His wife, Linda, is a staff nurse.

Ted W. Roberts and wife, Debra, live in Ottumwa, Iowa. He is an employment counselor.

Ralph and Brenda Jenkins Manning are living in Pella, Iowa, where he is head wrestling coach at Central College. Brenda teaches journalism and English at Pella High School. Their daughter, Katie, was born June 23, 1980.

Franklin J. McKeenan, wife, Sue, and daughter, Niki, live in Leon, Iowa. He is county executive director, Agricultural Stabilization and Construction Service of the USDA. Sue is a student at Graceland College, Lamoni, Iowa.

Dennis M. Meek, wife, Becky, and children, Christopher and Melissa, live in Knox City, Mo. He is a research specialist at the University of Missouri Lee Greenley, Jr. Memorial Research Farm.

Lea Ann Cook Thomas, Hazelwood, Mo., is an ophthalmic technician with St. Louis Eye Clinic.

Susan M. Wells, Ann Arbor, Mich., is a staff nurse in the neonatal intensive care unit at the University of Michigan Hospital.

Terrizena M. Mobley, St. Louis, Mo., is a probation and parole officer, State of Missouri.

Pamela L. Heinze, Kahoka, Mo., is a graduate student in chemistry at the University of Iowa.

Elizabeth Siefer Lonberger and husband, Danny, are living in Kirksville. She is director of nursing at Laughlin Unit of KOHC, and he is with Midwest Companies.

Donna C. Tanzey Dowell and husband, George, are living in Monroe City, Mo. She is employed at Monroe City Diecasting, and he is a foreman for Norfolk and Western Railroad.

Michael R. Sandheinrich, O'Fallon, Mo., is office manager for Complete Auto Transit.

James D. Seewoester, Ballwin, Mo., is with the St. Louis County Police Department. His wife, Kim Donnell Seewoester 1979, is with Jaccard's Jewelers.

James L. Hart, Columbia, Mo., is a supervisor with State Farm Insurance. He and his wife, Donretta, have two children, Toni Marie and J. Christopher.

Suzanne M. Conran, Bloomfield, Iowa, teaches the mentally handicapped at Centerville (Iowa) High School.

Dennis W. Grillo, Flint, Michigan, is a student at KCOM in Kirksville.

Michael and Sheryl Gowing Anderson and son, Ryan, are living in Keokuk, Iowa, where he is an accountant at Hubingers.

Linda L. Chamberlin and husband, Willard L. Chamberlin, D.O., live in Pensacola, Fla. She is a registered nurse with the medical intensive nursing unit at Baptist Hospital, and he is a family practice resident.

Lt. Robert A. Kahn and wife, Carol Rogers Hahn 1980, are living in Louisville, Ky., where he is assistant operations officer, Louisville Recruiting Command. Carol is in promotion work.

Leigh Shutts Kampschmidt and husband, Donald Kampschmidt, M.D., live in Lebanon, Mo. Their son, Luke, was born Feb. 15, 1981. Leigh is a former registered nurse.

Donald W. and Marilyn M. Hamilton are living in Bowling Green, Mo., where he teaches secondary vocal music and she is an elementary teacher and aids in music.

Milly Dimmitt Rash and husband, Tim, live in Shelbina, Mo., where she is a junior high English teacher and he is a barber-stylist. Their son, Trent Joseph, was born Jan. 17, 1981.

Patricia While Glisan and husband, Michael T. Glisan 1980, of St. Charles, Mo., are teachers.

Wilbern Grove, St. Louis, Mo., is a sergeant with the St. Louis Police Department. He and his wife, Kathleen, a teacher, have two children, Linda and David.

Gary L. Krambeck, Kirksville, is self employed in farm forestry.

Walter E. Pollard Jr., Kirksville, is an industrial arts teacher.

John and Diane Sisson Mitalovich live in Bowling Green, Mo., where she is a junior high mathematics instructor. John is a police officer in Hannibal.

Gary P. Lamer, St. Louis, Mo., is a computer operator at Distronics Corporation.

Sonya L. Smith Miller and husband, Jim, live at Spring Lake, Kirksville. She is a surgical registered nurse at KCOM-KOHC, and he is an American Family Insurance agent.

Brian K. Danner, Des Moines, Iowa, is a police officer.

Patrick H. Morrison, Aurora, Colo., is a graduate student at Colorado University-Denver. His wife, Donna Johnston Morrison 1979, is technical lead, engineering logistics at Martin Marietta Data Systems.

David A. Hill and wife, Dulcie, a teacher, live in Ocean, N.J. He is on the technical staff at Bell Laboratories. Their son, David Kyle, was born June 14, 1981.

Coreen Campbell Prindle and husband, Vincent, live in Breckenridge, Mo., where she is school librarian K-12. He is a farmer.

Terrance J. O'Rourke and wife, Collette, are living in Hazelwood, Mo. He is a business programmer/analyst for McDonnell Douglas Corporation, and she is a clinical registered dietitian nutritional support service, Northman-Osteopathic Hospital North.

Carroll E. Johnson is living in Kansas City, Mo.

Nancy L. Orf, Houston, Tex., is an internal auditor for Gulf Oil Company.

'79

Christopher A. Norton, Palatine, Ill., is a teacher at Winston Park Junior High School. His wife, Valorie, is an account representative.

Cheryl Parman, Hattiesburg, Miss., is coordinator of residence life programs at the Housing Office of the University of Southern Mississippi.

Deborah Nowlin Parnell and husband, Michael D. Parnell 1981, are living in Edina, Mo. She is a teacher and he is a substitute teacher.

Mark Minor, Columbia, Mo., is a senior agricultural research technician.

Dennis W. Middleton, Pella, Iowa, is a methods and standards analyst at Rolscreen Company, Pella.

Ronald W. Middleton, wife, Cynthia, and daughters, Tara and April, live in Bethalto, Ill. He is an elementary physical education teacher, assistant high school basketball coach and head high school baseball coach. Cynthia is director of a vocational workshop for handicapped.

Michael A. Bopp and wife, Patricia of Branson, Mo., are staff registered nurses at Skaggs Community Hospital. Their daughter, Christine, was born Jan. 29, 1981.

Terri Matthews King, husband, Donald, and daughter, Michelle, live in Andalusia, Ala. He is a poultry and cattle farmer.

Barbara Hunziker Toops and husband, Stephen, of Kirksville, are the parents of a daughter, Jessica Ellen, born March 26, 1981.

Steven V. Scalise, Kirksville, is a student at KCOM.

James D. Schmitz and wife, Lisa, are living in Kirksville. He is a student at KCOM and she is a learning disabilities teacher.

Vicki Blanchard, Nevada, Iowa, is an accountant for Allen Kockler Company P.C.

Sheila Isacson Holder and husband, Blane, live in Chatham, Ill. She is employed in the office of Management Information Systems and Computer Services at Sangamon State University. He is a foreman carpenter for Wick Homes.

Division Update: Science

Shark mystery solved by science professor

For more than a hundred years, fishermen and scientists have been baffled by a mystery only recently solved by NMSU professor of science, Everet C. Jones.

It seems that from time to time, for at least the past century, fishermen and biologists have been catching tuna fish, porpoises, whales and even sharks with small round or oval wounds on their bodies. No one had any idea what caused the wounds, although there was much conjecture on the subject.

In 1971, Jones published a research paper about a small species of shark known as Ististius Brasiliensis that is today believed to be the aptly named, mysterious "cookie-cutter shark," as reported in the August 1981 issue of National Geographic.

Jones was a professional oceanographer/marine biologist in Hawaii for more than 20 years. "At the time of my discovery, I was senior scientist on a research expedition to the central Pacific. We were trolling for baby tuna fish and were catching instead a small species of shark. They were about 16 inches long; that's as big as they get. The sharks had very large, peculiar teeth, and of those that came up alive, we decided to hold one up to the skin of a dead fish, and it (Ististius) bit out a piece, making a wound like that in the tuna fish we had been catching. We then cut open some of the dead sharks and found the (missing) hemispheres of tuna and porpoise flesh." Ististius is described as a foot-long pelagic shark with a circular mouth and rather feeble swimming ability. How could such a small, weak swimmer attack something so much larger and faster than itself?

After careful study of fresh specimens, Jones came up with the probable answer. Ististius, he believes, lies in wait in the open ocean and meets its monstrous prey head-on. As the two come together, Ististius takes a quick bite with razorlike teeth, hanging on briefly with its fleshy lips and a tongue that creates a vacuum. The flow of water past the victim swivels the small shark around in a circular motion and pulls it free with a neat, cookie-shaped tuna or porpoise steak in its mouth.

Jones left Hawaii in 1973 and began teaching at NMSU in fall 1974.

26 Alumni Notes

Daniel D. Meek, wife, Diane, and son, Darron, live in Lawrence, Kan. He is a sales representative for a chemical company, and she is a nursing student.

Martha R. Key Neil and husband, Donald, are living in Marshall, Mo., where he is a teacher at the state school. Their son, Christopher, was born May 21, 1981.

Philip W. and Katherine Minear Livesay live in Hannibal, Mo. He is a deputy juvenile officer and positive peer culture coordinator. Katherine teaches at Mark Twain Elementary School in Hannibal.

Gloria Nord Roth, Edmond, Okla., is manager of Sherman Clay Music, Quail Springs Mall, Oklahoma City. Her husband, Kenneth, is on the faculty of Central State University in Edmond. Their children are Jo Angela and Corey.

Deborah A. Carter, Kirkwood, Mo., is a high school resource teacher, girls head track coach and assistant field hockey coach.

Rich A. Krenz, wife, Debby, and children, Shannon and Amanda, are living in Bloomfield, Iowa. He is director, Parks and Recreation, and she is director of Davis County Day Care Center.

Michael V. Meyer was accepted into the Missouri State Highway Patrol on Jan. 5, 1981, and graduated from the Patrol Academy June 5, 1981. He is a trooper stationed in Troy, Mo., where he lives.

Jesse J. Rodriguez, Ankeny, Iowa, is a V.A.M.C. police officer. He and his wife, Ruth, a pharmacist, have a son, Robert.

Barbara S. Harris, Walton Beach, Fla., is a physical education instructor, department chairperson, and girls' volleyball, basketball, and softball coach at Walton Senior High.

Carol Plassmeyer Steffensmeier and husband, David Steffensmeier 1980, live in Ft. Madison, Iowa. He is a parks and recreation director.

James and Laura Manton Towe are living in Enterprise, Ala. He is a first lieutenant in the U.S. Army Flight School.

Herbert and Peggy Smith Childress of Kirksville, are the parents of a son, Nathan Joseph, born July 20, 1981. They have one other son, Christopher, 6. Herbert is a student at KCOM and Peggy is a teacher in Gorin, Mo.

Kathryn R. Watermann, Rochester, Minn., is an associate programmer.

Dana and Judy Talley Ferguson live in rural Mexico, Mo., where he is a self-employed livestock and grain farmer. Judy teaches home economics at Wellsville-Middletown Schools.

Ronald L. Gibson, Hannibal, Mo., is a draftsman at American Cyanamid. His wife, Lisa, has a two-year certificate from NMSU, and is a computer operator.

Julie Ann Evans, Morning Sun, Iowa, is a third grade teacher.

Joni Elmore, Kansas City, Mo., is a feed formulations specialist at Farmland Industries, Kansas City.

David M. Barringer, Springfield, Ill., is a patrol officer, Decatur (Ill.) Police Department.

Richard L. Gibson, Hannibal, Mo., is a drafting engineer at American Cyanamid in Palmyra. His wife, Judith, a two-year certificate holder from NMSU, is a medical assistant.

Randy A. Johansen, Chariton, Iowa, is an internal audit manager.

Sandra K. Johnston, Irving, Texas, is working toward an M.S. in nursing at Texas Women's University in Dallas and is a staff nurse in cardiac rehabilitation and intensive care.

Shirley Shoemyer, Kirksville, Mo., recently passed the C.P.A. examination. She is a temporary assistant professor of accounting at NMSU.

Theo Homeyer Fox, Florissant, Mo., is a teacher in St. Charles School District. She has two daughters, Karyn and Laura.

Walter M. Leslie and wife, Rose, live in Crete, Neb. He is a loss control representative and she is a special education teacher. Their children are Robert, Jay, Tracy and Scott St. Clair, David Leslie, Diane Leslie, and twin sons Doug and Don Leslie.

Greg Rumpf of Moberly, Mo., has been named to the 1981 edition of "Outstanding Young Men of America."

'80

Steven Elefson, Kirksville, is assistant director of the Physical Plant at NMSU.

Kevin Small, Horton, Kan., is a student at Washburn University School of Law.

Sheri Lynn Ritter, McLouth, Kan., is a fourth grade teacher.

Deborah Lewis Richard and husband, Rick, live in Mexico, Mo. Deborah passed the CPA examination in the fall of 1980, and is employed as an auditor in the Missouri State Auditor's office. Rick is a carpenter.

Mary Rhodes, Columbia, Mo., is a law student.

Richard A. Persoon, Missouri Valley, Iowa, is principal and teaches at St. Patrick's Elementary School in Missouri Valley. He and his wife, Barbara, have two children, Rebecca and Michael.

Karen M. Olsen, Kirksville, is a TPTAI in the Language and Literature Division at NMSU.

Mildred Rose Parmley and husband, S. Warner, live in Green Castle, Mo. He is retired. Their children are Jeffrey and Lucinda.

Gregg D. Nesbitt, Hannibal, Mo., is a physical education instructor and coach at Hannibal Junior High School.

Becky Osborn, Lawrence, Kan., is a graduate student in speech pathology at the University of Kansas.

Jennifer Sparks, Greenfield, Iowa, is a sixth grade teacher.

Verlyn D. Jackson, wife, Mary Ann, and daughter, Julie, live in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He is a seventh grade social studies teacher and she is a high school home economics teacher.

Cindy M. McMahan, Dillon, Colo., is a team captain of lift operations.

Brad L. Borgstede and wife, Theresa, are living in St. Louis, Mo. He is a staff accountant with the Audit Department of Price, Waterhouse and Company. Theresa is a secretary at E and M Furniture.

Debra M. Hultz, Kansas City, Mo., is assistant manager, Spencer Gifts.

Richard (Rick) Caldwell, Hazelwood, Mo., is with McDonnell Douglas Astronautics Procurement.

Cindy J. Layman and husband, John, are living in Florissant, Mo. He is an engineer.

Janet M. Royer, Farmington, Mo., is a probation and parole officer, Missouri Board of Probation and Parole.

Lisa A. Thompson Horn and husband, Lonnie P. Horn 1981, are living in Mobile, Ala. He is a captain with Air South.

Lt. James H. Cheatham IV, Ft. Rucker, Ala., is a pilot in the U.S. Army.

William R. Dickey, Woodward, Iowa, is a specialist I at Woodward State Hospital and School.

CLASS OF 1931: (front row) Martha Hurliman Ritter, Leila Hurliman Larimore, Anni Groseclose Sorrell, Hazel Pryor Snyder, Wayne T. Snyder, Dorothy Jones McAllister, Maurine Ballance Anderson, Marian M. Morelock, Nina Starbuck McArtor, Marie Mason Kraus. (back row) Madeline Allen Boucher, Henry M. Boucher, Elaine Williams Eveland, Anna Lemen Valentine, Ann McCampbell Swann, James T. Craig.

CLASS OF 1941: (front row) Helen Harrington Spees, Geraldine Baugher Yagel, Charline Miller Erdman, Marjorie Barb Hiding, Martha D. Brockman, Nellie Alexander Weger, Martha Ayres, Marian Porter Sunnen, Elaine Wagner Roberts, Joyce Wisman Rollins. (back row) Royal Beecher Spees, Milo Yagel, Loren Estes, Max Freeland, Wayne Kraus, Harold W. Willis, Wilma Opel Wade, Franklin Greene, Lowell Priebe, Harvey B. Young Jr., Alberta Priebe, Wallace Earner, Austin Miller, James Mudd, Harold Sparks, Victor Cochran, Clifton Cornwell, Luella Attebery, Dean Rosebery, Marietta Jayne

Division Update: Social Science

A cultural exchange: students go to Japan

Thirteen students experienced the Japanese way of life firsthand during their summer vacations when they spent 25 days in Japan as part of an exchange program with Tokyo's Hosei University.

The students studied the Japanese language and cultural mores for eight weeks before traveling to Japan July 4-31. Each earned 15 credit hours and invested $2,000 in the trip.

It was "not just a visit to Japan like you would normally make," said Fran McKinney, international student adviser and Japanese Language and Cultural Studies Committee member. In addition to visiting the cities of Tokyo, Hakone, Muira Beach, Kyoto and Nara, the group spent several days living in private Japanese homes. They toured Japanese industrial centers, such as Nikon and Sony, and heard lecturers while guests of Hosei University.

JAPANESE EXCHANGE—With cameras poised, NMSU students arrive at Narita Airport in Tokyo, Japan.

Committee chairman Walter H. Ryle IV, professor of history, and McKinney accompanied the students on their trip.

Twenty-six students from Hosei University visited NMSU and other areas in the United States during the summer, as well.

The program was sponsored "to give our students a better understanding of a foreign country, a better understanding of the Japanese people and culture," said McKinney. "It was a marvelous time for them, really."

Jackie Baner Fagerlin and husband, John, live in Dixon, Mo. She is a remedial reading teacher, Dixon Public Schools, and he is a student at NMSU.

Janet R. Bell, Kirksville, is a student.

George F. Voorhees, Peoria, Ill., is with the Department of Juvenile Service.

Bruce E. Castle, Warrensburg, Mo., is a second year law student at UMC.

Stephen L. Wolf, Chillicothe, Mo., is district scout executive for the Pony Express Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Robert D. Leckbee and wife, Jennifer, of Swedesburg, Iowa, are the parents of a daughter, Christina Marie, born May 8, 1981. They have three other children, all sons, Gregory, Joshua, and Steven.

Marjorie A. Clepper, St. Louis, Mo., is a staff nurse at De Paul Community Health Center.

Laura Jo Thudium, Hannibal, Mo., is a teacher.

Anita Sagun and Russell S. Boyd were married June 20, 1981. They are living in La Plata, Mo. She is an elementary teacher and he is a research technician.

Deanna Gatchell Rudolph and husband, Christopher Rudolph 1981, are living in Macon, Mo., where she is a special education (EMR) teacher.

Pamela Gaffield, East Moline, Ill., is an internal auditor for Deere and Company.

Beth Ann Craig, Trenton, Mo., is a manager trainee at Bostwicks (Salkin and Linoff Inc.).

Carol J. Flowers, Indianola, Iowa, is a business teacher, Southeast Warren Community School District, Liberty Center, Iowa.

Antony Howard Aberson, Ossining, N.Y., is aquatic coordinator at Yonkers (N.Y.) YMCA.

Connie S. Stephens, Davenport, Iowa, is reference librarian at Scott County Library in Eldridge, Iowa.

Mary Jo Sharp, St. Louis, Mo., is a laboratory technician for Ralston Laboratory Company.

Shing Seung So and wife, Carmen, live in Kirksville. He is a Ph. D. student in the mathematics and statistics department, University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Jeffrey P. Burger is living in Clinton, Ill., where he is a high school industrial arts teacher.

Ellen J. Haegele, Tulsa Okla., is director of public relations, David Livingstone International Foundation, Tulsa.

C. Ruth Selby, Kirksville, is employed at KTVO in Kirksville, where she writes and produces commercials in the production department.

James L. Mott, and Jeanne M. Uhlmeier were married June 6, 1981. James is a layout inspector at International Harvester Farmall Plant in Rock Island, Ill. Jeanne is attending Augustana College in Rock Island, serving an internship in medical technology. They are living in Milan, Ill.

Ronna J. McClanahan and Kevin R. Henderson were married May 23, 1981. They are living in Kirksville, where she is a graduate student and he is an undergraduate student, both at NMSU.

Michael L. Collins of Macon, Mo. has been awarded a $9,000 academic scholarship and a teaching fellowship by Purdue University. Collins, who began school at Purdue on Aug. 23, 1981, is acting and directing at the school's theatre department while working on a Master of Fine Arts degree. Collins' acting experience includes three years in Guam while serving in the U.S. Navy, three years at the Ice House Theatre in Hannibal and one summer at the Black Hills Playhouse in Custer, S. D. He is married to the former Cindy McBeth.

David L. Ewigman, Brookfield, Mo., is an operations officer for Brookfield Savings and Loan Association.

Miriam J. Fischer and Darryl Egly were married May 23, 1981. They are living in Kirksville, where she is employed at Pickler Memorial Library and is a student. Darryl is a student at NMSU and is employed by Country Kitchen.

Larry Hottelman is living in Wellsville, Mo., where he is principal of Wellsville-Middletown High School. He had taught mathematics and physics at Orchard Farms School in St. Charles, Mo. for six and one-half years before receiving his M.A. from NMSU in May 1981.

Cathy A. Minor of Macon, Mo., is a learning disability classroom teacher at Macon R-1 Schools. She is also an assistant coach for girls basketball and track at the senior high level.

Diane Tague, Maryland Heights, Mo., is with Coopers and Lybrand Accounting Firm.

Joni Ravenscraft, Tulsa, Okla., is a district sales trainer for Redken Laboratories (Cosmetics).

Maria Louise Evans lives in Rector, Ark., where she is a high school science teacher.

Leslie Ann Lisko Pivovar and husband, Jerry, are living in Omaha, Neb., where she is a mathematics teacher and he is an accountant.

Linda Susan Paris Norris and husband, Mark, live in Chillicothe, Mo., where she teaches fifth grade at Central School. He is a carpenter.

Patricia Perkins, Hannibal, Mo., was recently named director of the Hannibal Arts Council. Her husband, Montie, is sixth ward councilman on the Hannibal City Council. They have two daughters, Melody and Dawn.

Patricia K. Wilsdorf, Columbia, Mo., is a graduate student and teaching assistant at UMC.

Linda Ladendecker, Kirksville, is a graduate student at NMSU.

Joni Spencer, Kirksville, is a staff assistant in public relations at NMSU.

Jacqueline Derry and Christopher Hoffman were married July 18, 1981. They are living in Trenton, Mo. She is a teacher in Laredo, Mo. Christopher, a graduate of UMC, is with Hoffman and Reed Inc.

D. W. Cole, Maryland Heights, Mo., is with Proctor and Gamble Distributing Company in St. Louis. In August D. W. received the Ellsworth C. Dent "Man of the Year" award presented by Sigma Tau Gamma national fraternity. The award is presented annually to the member judged as the outstanding senior from the 64 chapters in the national fraternity.

Kenneth E. Neff and wife, Sherry, are living in Columbia, Mo., where she is a word programmer at State Farm Insurance. Kenneth is a learning disabilities teacher at Moberly (Mo.) Junior High.

Glenn Blankenhorn, D.O., wife, Mary, and sons, Byron, Eric and George, are living in Columbia, Mo., where he is serving a residency in physical medicine at the Medical Center.

Joan M. Schuckebrook, Rolla, Mo., is teaching in Dixon, Mo.

Mary Salois, Rolla, Mo., is with the Catholic Campus Ministry at UMR.

'81

CLASS OF 1956: (front row) Loretta Jean Cook Rhoads, Vita Gibson Page, Marian Peoples, Wilda Seward, Shirley Adams, Estalene Eyler, Shirley Perkins, Shirley Hogan, Pat Bristol, Charlotte Ginselman Brown. (back row) Martha Frazier, Norm Frazier, Dora Belle Clark, Charles Acuff, Dick Franklin, Wayne L. Martin, William Cable, Al Holzmeier, John C. Shelton, Donald G. Roseberry, Donald G. Vansickle, Don Sparks, Dick Perkins, Tom Churchwell, Roy Blackford, Vi Martin, Mary Jane Kohlenberg, Dale E. Brown.

CLASS OF 1971: (front row) Elna Beth Jones Williams, Barb Martin, Cathy Barker Wombwell, Brenda Bird Beaty, Barbara Vandevender, Gloria Seitsinger Spellman, Joan Heady Sharp, Pat Noel Harmes, Gendolyn DeWitt Suigert, Phyllis Scott Carlin. (back row) Brian A. Anderson, Glenn R. Wombwell, Bill Ronecker, Rick Vierling, Claude M. Wilson, Richard Spellman, Kenneth R. Bounds, Kaudace Thompson Bounds, Joyce Ingram Schreck, Richard A. Schreck.

Division Update: Special Programs

Campus Feud gets high ratings

Several students in the Special Programs Division were involved in a feud recently. This was no Hatfield and McCoy affair, nor was it a dispute between the two major areas of the division, speech pathology and special education. No, this feud was for United Cerebral Palsy and was sponsored by the Speech Pathology Organization.

The event, called Campus Feud, is similar to the popular TV game show, Family Feud. In the NMSU version, 28 teams competed in a best-two-of-three-games competition to determine the winner.

Shellee Cates, senior and president of SPO, said the club wrote most of the questions and then surveyed students to find the most popular answers.

Prizes for the Campus Feud were donated by area merchants and included gift certificates, free meals, T-shirts, trophies and other donations. A $10 entry fee from each organization made up the contribution to United Cerebral Palsy.

This was the second such feud to be held at Northeast; last year SPO raised about $300 for the charity. Once bills are paid, Cates expects this year's total to be about the same.

FEUDING STUDENTS—John Applegate, assistant professor of speech pathology, strikes a Richard Dawson pose at the Campus Feud sponsored by the Speech Pathology Club.

Effie Alice Adkins 1926 of Carrollton, Mo., died June 8, 1981. Miss Adkins taught for nine years in rural schools of Chariton County, five years in Montgomery City High School, and 31 years in Ritenour District of St. Louis County. Her education was enriched by her extensive travels in North America, nine countries in western Europe, the Orient, Australia and South America. Miss Adkins was a member of the Prairie Chapel United Methodist Church, a 50-year member of Vesta Chapter No. 5, Order of the Eastern Star, Delta Kappa Gamma and Kappa Kappa Iota teacher organizations, the Vision and Service Extension Club, the Daughters of the Union, and a life member of the Carroll County Historical Society. She is survived by one sister, Katie Marie Adkins 1926, of Carrollton.

Betty Coulter Crockett 1947 of Joplin, Mo., died May 27, 1981. (Mrs. Crockett's husband, Robert, sent this information).

Dr. Randolph H. Knapp, 37, of New Orleans, La., died unexpectedly July 16, 1981. He is survived by his parents, Adolphus C. Knapp 1941 and Wanda Holcroft Knapp 1938, of Kirksville. Dr. Knapp was a graduate of UMC, the University of Colorado and received the Ph.D. in chemistry from the University of Minnesota. For the past 11 years he had been a research and production engineer for Shell Oil Company in New Orleans. Funeral and burial services were held in Kirksville.

Barbara Jo McCay 1970 of Louisville, Ky., died April 20, 1981. (This information was sent by Barbara's father, James G. McCay, also of Louisville.)

Warren H. McQuary 1942 of Centerville, Iowa, died Aug. 1, 1981, at the age of 61. Funeral and burial services were held in Centerville. Mr. McQuary served as a Navy pilot in the South Pacific during World War II. He was a sales engineer in Bergenfield, N.J., before moving to Centerville where he owned and operated the Agriculture Service Company and Gro Mo Company for 20 years. He also served as Appanoose County Magistrate for 5 1/2 years before retiring due to health problems. Mr. McQuary was a member of the Methodist Church and the Appanoose County Golf and Country Club. He is survived by his wife, Irma; one daughter, Pamela Oden and two sons, Timothy McQuary and John McQuary 1975.

Ruth Cornelius Thoreson 1927 of Edina, Mo., died June 26, 1981, at the age of 75. She is survived by her husband, John O. Thoreson, D.O.; one son, Jack Jr. of Broadview, Mont.; one daughter, Mrs. Dwight (Letitia) Teeter of Austin, Texas; one brother, Dr. James L. Cornelius of Edina; one sister, Mary Beth Ely of Rochester, Minn.; and three grandchildren. Mrs. Thoreson had lived several years in Bismark, N.D., and Sarasota, Fla. For the past eight years she had lived in Edina. She was a member of the Episcopal Church.

Eulah Houston Gatewood 1951 of Vandalia, Mo., died May 3, 1981, at the age of 84. Memorial services were held May 9 at the First Presbyterian Church in Vandalia. Mrs. Gatewood was preceded in death by her husband, Leonard. Survivors include a sister, Roberta Houghtby and a brother, Harold Houston, both of Vandalia; and three other brothers, Everett Houston, Columbia, Leland Houston, Yucaipa, Calif., and Willard Houston, Hawthorne, Calif. Two stepsons also survive. Mrs. Gatewood retired from teaching in May 1966 after 48 years of service, all in the Vandalia system. In addition to her teaching she served for eight years as principal at the North Elementary School. She was an active member of First Presbyterian Church, had served as secretary of the local branch of American Association of University Women, and in previous years was active in Business and Professional Women's Club and Community Teachers Association.

Jewell Whitelock Smith 1912 of San Diego, Calif., died Dec. 5, 1980. (This information furnished by Mrs. Smith's husband, C.F. Smith).

Gertrud Vogel Holloway 1922, of Trenton, Mich., died July 15, 1981. Graveside services were held in Kirksville. Mrs. Holloway was preceded in death by her husband, Dr. H. Rex Holloway Sr. Surviving are one son, Dr. H. Rex Holloway of Trenton, Mich., and one brother, Joseph Vogel of the state of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Thomas R. McArtor 1929 of Browning, Mo., died April 7, 1981, at the age of 76. He is survived by his wife, the former Virginia Burwell; two daughters, Julie McArtor of Browning and Mary Beth McArtor of Jefferson City; and one sister, Mrs. Bob Ball of New Boston. Dr. McArtor received the M.D. degree in 1935 from Washington University and practiced in the Browning and Milan area for 45 years. He was a member of the Missouri Medical Association and the American Medical Association. He was also a member of the Browning Methodist Church, where funeral services were held.

Allen C. Pritchard, 72, of LaPlata, Mo., died July 30, 1981. He is survived by his wife, Nellie White Pritchard 1950, twin sons, Daniel and Dennis, six grandchildren, one brother and five sisters. Mr. Pritchard was employed by the Burlington (Iowa) School System for 25 years. He retired and moved to LaPlata in 1972. Funeral and burial services were held in LaPlata.

Thurba Fidler Knight 1917 of Dothan, Ala., died July 5, 1981. Mrs. Knight is survived by her husband, John Knight, and a daughter, Mary M. Stephenson of Honolulu, Hawaii. She was preceded in death by a sister, Mary Ann Fidler 1917, D.O. Mrs. Knight had been a professor of geography at NMSU in the early 1920s. From Kirksville she moved to Hawaii, where she taught many years.

Virginia Bartlett Latham 1939 of Sedona, Ariz., died March 11, 1981. Mrs. Latham was a retired social worker.

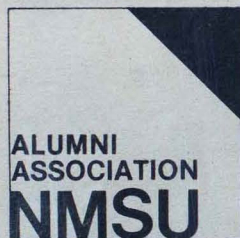

Zella Brown Ragsdale of Colorado Springs, Colo., died July 28, 1981, at the age of 78. Mrs. Ragsdale was an assistant professor of English at NMSU in the late twenties and early thirties and had taught in Colorado high schools until retirement. She was preceded in death by her husband, Richard H. Ragsdale 1930. She is survived by one son, James, of Colorado Springs; three daughters, Mrs. Rachael Birlow of Grover City, Calif., Mrs. Rozella Le Satz of Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. Nancy Halopoff, Morgan Hill, Calif. Funeral and burial services were held in Colorado Springs.

Leota Eubanks Hayward 1914 of Colorado Springs, Colo., died Jan. 9, 1981. (We are indebted to Mrs. Hayward's daughter, Marian Sample, also of Colorado Springs, for this information).

Patum Nitibhon 1971 of Bangkok, Thailand, died May 3, 1981, of a heart attack.

Douglas J. Kauffman 1962 of Princeton, Mo., died Dec. 11, 1980, at the age of 43. Mr. Kauffman had been a teacher and farmer and was an officer in the U.S. Army, serving in Germany and Vietnam. He was a member of the NMSU Alumni Association.

Alumni Office
Northeast Missouri State University
Kirksville, Missouri 63501

I wish to become a member of the Northeast Missouri State University Alumni Association. Membership in the association includes receiving the NEMOSCOPE and other publications.

Name _____

Street address _____

City _____ State _____ ZIP Code _____

Year of graduation _____ If not a graduate, years of attendance _____

- SINGLE ANNUAL $10
- JOINT ANNUAL (husbands and wives only) $13
- LIFE (payable over a three-year period at $35 per year) $100
- JOINT LIFE (payable over a three-year period at $45 per year) $125
- GRADUATING SENIOR LIFE (must be taken out in year of graduation) $50
- GRADUATING SENIOR JOINT LIFE (must be taken out in year of graduation) $60
- OVER 65 ANNUAL (single or joint) $5

Northeast Missouri State University Development Fund

Please add me (us) to the Development Honor Roll

Name _____

Address _____

MasterCard/Visa No. _____

Expiration Date _____

Signature _____

Enclosed is a gift of $ _____

- Where the need is greatest (unrestricted) or
- for _____ Date _____
- Credit gift to both husband and wife

PLEASE MAKE CHECKS PAYABLE TO NMSU

You can have a second gift sent to the University in the same amount as your original gift. Simply inform the appropriate person in your company that you've made a gift. A matching check and notification that your gift made it possible will be sent to the University.

You can double your gift, but YOU must inform your company. The University cannot do this for you.

Yes, I work for a matching gift company.

Name of company

Persons who make gifts of $100 or more receive their choice of Dr. Ryle's book, "A Centennial History of the Northeast Missouri State Teachers College," or an NMSU marble paperweight.

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES

Among 13 KCOM graduates commissioned to active duty as lieutenants in the Navy Medical Corps were four NMSU graduates: Paula J. Melone, Lance E. Cropp, Michael A. Kutmas and Michael D. Burton. The newly commissioned officers, who attended school under Navy Medical scholarships, will each serve at least three years in the Corps to repay the Navy for providing med-school tuition and expenses.

New teachers in the Moberly, Mo., Public Schools include the following NMSU graduates: Robyn IntVeld McKeown 1981, biology; James A. Watson 1976, social studies; Dennie Foster 1960, vocational school counselor; Roberta Meyer 1973, language arts; Vicki Strait 1979, mathematics; Laura Peden 1981, science; Duane Scheible 1981, physical education; Kenneth Neff 1981, learning disabilities; Lisa Sweeney 1981, learning disabilities; and Jana Carter 1981, first grade.

Christie Jobe, Omaha, Neb., is an animal technician at Ralston (Neb.) Veterinary Clinic. She has a certificate in animal health technology from NMSU.

Virginia Swartz, Edina, Mo., NMSU Alumni Association member, taught at Ophelia Parrish Junior High School in Kirksville for 42 years, 1929-1971.

NMSU graduates who received D.O. degrees in June 1981 from KCOM are listed below with place of internship: Kenneth R. Anderson 1977, Flint (Mich.) Osteopathic Hospital; Jack L. Bailey 1976, Sun Coast Hospital, Largo, Fla.; Dean A. Bard 1973, Warren (Ohio) General Hospital; Robert W. Burns 1974, Eastmoreland General Hospital, Portland, Oregon; Michael D. Burton 1973, Kirksville Osteopathic Health Center; Steven D. Crawford 1976, Charles E. Still Osteopathic Hospital, Jefferson City, Mo.; Lance E. Cropp 1979, Normandy Osteopathic Hospital, St. Louis, Mo.; Coleen J. Essary 1977, South Bend (Ind.) Osteopathic Hospital; Judith Ann Fisher 1972, Charles E. Still Osteopathic Hospital, Jefferson City, Mo.; L. Christopher Franklin 1977, also Charles E. Still Osteopathic Hospital; Wayne R. Hawkins 1971, Kirksville Osteopathic Health Center; Charles (Pat) Higgins 1977, Warren (Ohio) General Hospital; Kevin B. Imhoff 1974, Kirksville Osteopathic Health Center; Robert W. Jackson 1977, Doctors Hospital, Columbus, Ohio; Michael Anthony Kutmas 1977, Mt. Clemens (Mich.) General Hospital; Paula J. Melone 1977, Naval Regional Medical Center, Portsmouth, Va.; Mark S. O'Brien 1979, Kirksville Osteopathic Health Center; Jan F. Onik 1975, Charles E. Still Osteopathic Hospital, Jefferson City, Mo.; Melissa Forrest Rendlen 1977, Kirksville Osteopathic Health Center; Kenneth E. Ross 1974, Normandy Osteopathic Hospital, St. Louis, Mo.; G. David Runyon 1973, Kirksville Osteopathic Health Center; John M. Sawicki 1977, Memorial General Hospital, Union, N.Y.; Wade M. Shipman 1977, Kirksville Osteopathic Health Center; Mark A. Tucker 1977, also KOHC; and Richard H. Woerndle 1979, Normandy Osteopathic Hospital, St. Louis, Mo.

NEW ANNUAL MEMBERS

Miss Sharon Kay Addison, Orlando, Fla., '72
 Dr. W. Donald Albright, Fresno, Calif., '38
 Mrs. Faye Ewing Anastasoff, Clayton, Mo., '66
 Mrs. Charlotte Valdena Boone Anderson, Hiawatha, Iowa, '69
 Larry D. Anderson, Hiawatha, Iowa, '69
 Mrs. Donna Pestka Augustine, Farmington, Mo.
 Richard J. Augustine, Jr., Farmington, Mo., '80
 Kent G. Baker, Urbandale, Iowa, '72
 Mark Barner, Indianapolis, '81
 Mrs. Hope Greene Blaine, Webster Groves, Mo., '41
 John Thomas Breen, Quincy, Ill., '81
 Mrs. Anita Morrow Broughton, Suisun City, Calif., '69
 David Brunberg, Kirksville, '38
 Jeff P. Burger, Clinton, Ill., '80
 Mrs. Eleanor M. Burnette, Newkirk, Okla., '69
 Miss Shelia Elaine Chapman, Blue Springs, Mo., '81
 Richard D. Cooley, High Ridge, Mo., '60
 Stacy M. Cooley, St. Louis, '81
 Mrs. Vyca Gertrude McHenry Cowan, Unionville, Mo., '56
 David Cozart, Spring Valley, N.Y., '72
 Roland V. Crouse, Bridgeport, Texas, '49
 Karl B. DeVault, Spirit Lake, Iowa, '41
 Dr. John N. Dinsmore, Kearney, Nebr., '63
 Fred Dyer, St. Charles, Mo., '63
 Mrs. Mary Mayes Erwin, Shelbina, Mo., '57
 Miss Debra L. Fortenberger, Palmyra, Mo., '80
 John L. Fullenkamp, West Point, Iowa, '81
 Lars R. Garton, Ogden, Iowa, '57
 Mrs. Mary Brady Gex, Eufaula, Ala., '37
 Miss P. Wrenae Gilmer, Maplewood, Mo., '77
 Lyle W. Griep, Webster Groves, Mo., '58
 Mrs. Marla Jean Shipman Griep, Webster Groves, Mo., '68
 Mrs. Dorothy Inbody Hall, Glendale, Ariz., '31
 James A. Hamilton, Walla Walla, Wash., '72
 Lt. Mark C. Hayes, APO New York, '69
 Mrs. Carol Fox Hays, Godfrey, Ill., '59
 Elie F. Hedrick, Topeka, Kan., '39
 Mrs. Josephine Boujwale Hornold, Kansas, Ill., '34
 Mrs. Margaret Fichera Hopkins, Clifton Hills, Mo., '81
 Andrew W. Hudson, Cornwall, N.Y., '75
 Dr. Robert Wayne Jackson, Columbus, Ohio, '77
 R. Allan Johnson, Elsberry, Mo., '79
 Hosseinali Khalvati, Chicago, '74
 Alan E. Klinger, Roanoke, Va., '71
 Mrs. Jane M. Lamansky McTyeire, Sierra Vista, Ariz., '81
 Miss Sue Lammert, St. Peters, '80
 Mike Lawson, Stateline, Nev., '77
 Lt. Gregory R. Lemaster, FPO San Francisco, '77
 John D. Lundgren, Burlington, Iowa, '64

Miss Anita M. Mann, St. Louis, '80
 Mrs. Joan Ann McDonald Massaro, Denver, '75
 Mrs. Laura McMartin Maune, Corvallis, Ore., '73
 Miss Gayla McCurren, St. Charles, Mo., '76
 Rev. David Meek, Okemah, Okla., '79
 Charles E. Miller, St. Louis, '61
 Mrs. Nancy Marie Lewis Moshtaghi, Circleville, Ohio, '70
 Miss Noaleen Motter, Freeport, Ill., '69
 Dr. Wayne B. Musholt, Roscoe, Ill., '63
 Richard V. Nelson, Pasadena, Calif., '63
 Dr. Carl E. Noble, Mission Viejo, Calif., '36
 Jerry C. Noble, Overland Park, Kan., '62
 Mrs. Mary Ann Dunham Noble, Mission Viejo, Calif., '40
 Mrs. Elaine Novinger, Kirksville, '62
 Joseph O. Ottovner, Verona, Wis., '13
 William T. Pierce, Florissant, Mo., '77
 Mrs. Sandra Siefer Purdy, Glenside, Pa., '64
 William H. Purdy, Jr., Glenside, Pa., '64
 Jim D. Rash, St. Charles, Mo., '57
 Eugene P. Richardson, Lucerne, Mo., '41
 Mrs. Mabel I. Richardson, Lucerne, Mo.
 Donald R. Riddle, Brunswick, Mo., '66
 Mrs. Mary Street Riddle, Brunswick, Mo., '65
 Charles R. Rinehart, Jefferson City, Mo., '33
 Mrs. Ivah Belle Rudasill Rinehart, Jefferson City, Mo., '33
 Calvin E. Roebuck, Columbia, Mo., '57
 Mrs. Juanita Rogers, Kirksville, Mo., '46
 Dr. Donald C. Sanders, Kansas City, Mo., '51
 Michael D. Schuttelfield, Cupertino, Calif., '79
 William L. Schwartz, Overland, Mo., '81
 Dr. Gary D. Sharpe, Hannibal, Mo., '33
 Mrs. Ruth Gardner Sherard, Richardson, Texas, '26
 Miss Martha Spath, San Jose, Calif., '38
 Dr. Ronald Strong, Jefferson City, Mo.
 Mrs. Ann McCampbell Swann, Austin, Texas, '31
 Stewart W. Sylva, Weatherford, Okla., '78
 Mrs. Nancy Fair Szofran, House Springs, Mo., '69
 Mrs. Janna Bounds Tetzlaff, Chicago, '77
 Dr. Ronald E. Thomas, Park Forest South, Ill., '65
 David P. Uskudarli, Istanbul, Turkey, '62
 Mrs. Janet Dubberke Uskudarli, Istanbul, Turkey, '62
 Carroll Waganer, Pawnee, Ill., '62
 Mrs. Joan Eye Waganer, Pawnee, Ill., '60
 Dr. Karen A. Wagner, Webster, Texas, '79
 Dr. Paul A. Wagner, Webster, Texas, '69
 Miss Dusty Wall, St. Charles, Mo., '81
 Mrs. Mary Ann Blackman Wallace, Des Moines, Iowa, '79
 Ms. Jean Waters, Chicago, '76
 Mrs. Mary Ann Blackman Wallace, Sappington, Mo., '81
 Doyle Weldon, Kilgore, Texas, '68
 Miss Doris J. Wilson, St. Ann, Mo., '80
 Gary M. Young, St. Louis, '76

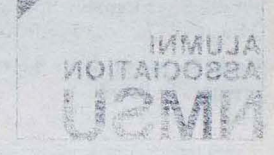

NEW LIFE MEMBERS

Mrs. Olivene Kibble Baker, Kirksville, '66
 Bernard Carter, Batavia, Ill., '59
 Mrs. Elaine Williams Eveland, Brookfield, Mo., '28
 Sidney C. Fey, Avon, Ill., '69
 Miss Cynthia J. Greene, Columbus Junction, Iowa, '80
 Lt. Leslie V. Hahn, APO New York, '81
 Mrs. Nancy Horn Hall, Mesa, Ariz., '55
 Joe K. Hasenstab, Westwood, N.J., '60
 Mrs. Ann L. Hessler, Overland, Mo., '81
 Robert Baron Hix, Kirksville, '81
 Dr. Charles Jones, Sterling Heights, Mich., '65
 George H. Kordestani, Saratoga, Calif., '65
 Miss Julie B. Magruder, Kirksville, '80
 Dr. James F. Martin, Minneapolis, '58
 Miss Suzanne R. McFarland, St. Charles, Mo., '81
 Robert Dean Michael, Oskaloosa, Iowa, '71
 Mrs. Alta Freels Nielsen, Junction City, Kan., '78
 Robert C. Nielsen, Junction City, Kan., '78
 Herbert Rhoads, Cape Coral, Fla., '32
 Mrs. Leslie Tompkins-Rhoads, Cape Coral, Fla., '27
 Mrs. Judith Sandfort Rogers, Yates City, Ill., '58
 Mrs. Loretta Kay Sadler Rucker, Carrollton, Ill., '59
 Dr. Georges Santoni, Albany, N.Y., '61
 Dr. Robert G. Schultz, St. Louis, '80
 Phillip C. Schwarzkopf, Belle Plaine, Iowa, '69
 Daniel J. Slattery, St. Charles, Mo., '81
 Mrs. Judith Moore Veronesi, DuBois, Pa., '58
 Ross M. Warden, Quincy, Ill.
 Mrs. Ruth McKinney Warden, Quincy, Ill., '42
 Mrs. Sandra Willhite Warden, San Benito, Texas, '73
 Mrs. Shirley Weber, Atlanta, Mo., '62
 Mrs. Judith Deierling White, Anniston, Ala., '69

HONORARY LIFE MEMBERS

Honorary life memberships in the Alumni Association are given in appreciation of one-time gifts of $1,000 or more to the University.

George H. Bunney, Shelbyville, Mo.
 Mrs. Mary Alice Bunney, Shelbyville, Mo., '38
 Mrs. Rita Ann Elsea, Chesterfield, Mo.
 Dr. Robert D. Elsea, Chesterfield, Mo., '50
 Mrs. Earl Laughlin, Kirksville
 Mrs. Clarissa Childers Liss, Fayetteville, Ark., '32
 Mrs. Helen Thompson Miller, Seattle, '48
 Mrs. Bonnie Skinner Mitch, Kirksville, '58
 James R. Neifert, St. Peters, Mo., '68
 Wes Remington, St. Joseph, Mo.
 Henry A. Roberts, Anderson, S.C., '39
 Mrs. Harriett Sensenich Roberts, Anderson, S.C., '43
 Oren Slaughter, Bartlesville, Okla., '49
 Dr. Kemble A. Stout, Pullman, Wash., '36
 Mrs. Mildred Boehner Stout, Pullman, Wash., '37

Below are contributors to the P. O. Selby Scholarship fund through September 1981. Those who gave $100 or more were listed in a previous issue. Those contributing after October 1981 through Tel-Alumni and other development efforts will be listed in a special issue of the NEMOSCOPE to be published after June 30, 1982.

- Betty McClelland Accola, Hurst, Texas
- Lula M. Allen, Ayden, N.C.
- Joan Allison, Marceline, Mo.
- Maurine Ballance Anderson, Colorado Springs, Colo.
- Wendell Armstrong, Lynchburg, Va.
- Martha Ayres, Washington, D.C.
- Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Baker, Sr., Waverly, Mo.
- Geraldine Bartlett, Kirksville
- Lorena Dalton Bartlett, Fort Madison, Iowa
- Richard C. Benson, Kansas City, Mo.
- Judy Bertelle, Oskaloosa, Iowa
- Ray Bonser, Alta Loma, Calif.
- Mrs. Alma (French) Boone, Warsaw, Ill.
- Patricia Bourn, Hannibal, Mo.
- Alpha Brantner, Winigan, Mo.
- Mary E. Brown, Montgomery City, Mo.
- Robert O. Brown, Brentwood, Mo.
- Victoria Buckley, Davenport, Iowa
- Ruth Burgard, Chillicothe, Mo.
- Dora Belle Clark, Kirksville
- Betty Cochran, Kirksville
- Nancy Coleman, Callao, Mo.
- Winifred Marie Conner, Keokuk, Iowa
- Nancy Copenhaver, Moberly, Mo.
- Mrs. Eugenia R. Crain, Warrensburg, Mo.
- Lois and Forest Crooks, Kirksville
- Doris Gardner Cundiiff, Kirksville
- Harold R. Decker, Auburn, Ala.
- Debra A. Dennis, Columbia, Mo.
- Phyllis Sue Domann, Springfield, Mo.
- Mrs. Juell Duren, Fayette, Mo.

Contributor prior to Sept. 30 not previously listed:
Mrs. Beatrice Hardman, Lee's Summit, Mo.

- Winferd and Gwendolyn Durham, Farmington, Mo.
- Lonnie Echternacht, Columbia, Mo.
- Robert Ewing, Wilmette, Ill.
- Clifford L. Fagan, St. Thomas, Virgin Islands
- Eudora Fitzpatrick, Linneus, Mo.
- Sara Beth Fouch, LaPlata, Mo.
- Betty Manning Friedmeyer, Ankeny, Iowa
- Mrs. Vera R. Gillet, LaPlata, Mo.
- Mrs. Lucille Gingrich, Troy, Mo.
- Mrs. Donna (Lawson) Goodhart, Radcliff, Ky.
- Kitty Jo Bennett Grice, Raymore, Mo.
- Stan Grimm, Cape Girardeau, Mo.
- Mrs. Betty Gudka, Branson, Mo.
- Doris M. Guiles, Nashville, Tenn.
- Carol Gullion, Ottumwa, Iowa
- Lorraine Hackman, Manchester, Mo.
- Nancy B. Hall, Mesa, Ariz.
- Russell and Jackie Harrison, Kirksville
- Ruth Hensley, St. Louis
- Andrea Kay Herring, Chillicothe, Mo.
- Dwain Horn, Omaha, Neb.
- James D. Hughes, Cameron, Mo.
- Adele Jones, St. Peters, Mo.
- Charles E. Kauzlarich, Kirksville
- Eustelle Hayes Kennedy, Wheat Ridge, Colo.
- Melody Powell Kragenbrink, Ankeny, Iowa
- Margueritte L. Kuna, Overland Park, Kan.
- Velma Laughlin, Louisiana, Mo.
- Anna B. Loewenstein, Mexico, Mo.
- Inez Rebecca (Lewis) Lowe, Midland, Texas
- Donald R. Maddy, Topeka, Kan.
- Erlene B. Madsen, Quincy, Ill.
- Mrs. Charlene Magiera, Lisle, Ill.
- Virginia Maloney, Colorado Springs, Colo.
- Mrs. Melba Woolf Marrs, Colorado Springs, Colo.
- Mrs. Herschel (June) Martin, Scottsbluff, Neb.

- Robert J. Motley, Macomb, Ill.
- David L. Murphy, Farmington Hills, Mich.
- Frances W. Nalley, Troy, Ohio
- Mildred Nichols, Quincy, Ill.
- Carol Painter, Cedar Rapids, Iowa
- Pearl Painter, Newton, Iowa
- Mrs. Clara Seckler Paxson, Mexico, Mo.
- Linda Newell Poli, Ottumwa, Iowa
- Myrtle M. Rauer, Iowa City, Iowa
- Richard W. Rinehart, Lancaster, Calif.
- Webb T. Rogers, Webster Groves, Mo.
- Karen Saltzman, Hedrick, Iowa
- Connie Schmitz, Ottumwa, Iowa
- Linda Beth (Jones) Schroeter, St. Charles, Mo.
- Mrs. Dorothy C. Shatto, Milan, Mo.
- Loree Clapper Shaw, Greentop, Mo.
- Mary G. Shoemaker, Lancaster, Calif.
- A. Joyce Smith, Madison, Mo.
- Dr. C. G. Snyder, San Francisco
- Kemble Stout, Pullman, Wash.
- Marjorie A. Summers, Kahoka, Mo.
- Jennie Swarouth, St. Charles, Mo.
- Mrs. V. Colene Sylvara, Centerville, Iowa
- Martha A. Taggart, Raymore, Mo.
- Kevin and Mitzi Tedlock, Trenton, Mo.
- Alice Rhodes Thie, Mediapolis, Iowa
- Betty Thompson, Tebbetts, Mo.
- Mrs. Louise Snyder Truitt, St. Louis County, Mo.
- Florice Siegle VanLaningham, Edinboro, Pa.
- L. L. Via, Scottsdale, Ariz.
- Jerry Vittetoe, Kirksville
- Beverly Wait, Kirksville
- Edgar T. Wein, Des Plaines, Ill.
- Miss Maco B. Whittall, Louisville, Ky.
- Jolene R. Wiegard, Mt. Zion, Ill.
- Virginia D. Wilson, Tucson, Ariz.
- Mrs. Janet L. Winder, Iowa Falls, Iowa
- Mary Witherow, Chesterfield, Mo.
- Terri Ann Woodling, Center, Mo.
- Eleanor A. Yackley, Taylor, Mo.

NMSU events to remember:

- Jan. 9 NMSU men's basketball vs. University of Missouri-St. Louis at UMSL
- March 11 NCAA Division II National Women's Swimming Championship meet in the Natatorium
- April 3 NMSU varsity vs. alumni football game and other alumni sports events, Stokes Stadium
- May 7 NMSU spring commencement
- Oct. 9 Homecoming 1982 (class reunions for 1932, 1942, 1957 and 1972)

Men's basketball

Jan. 2	Simpson College
Jan. 7	Quincy College (Ill.)
Jan. 9	at Missouri-St. Louis*
Jan. 11	Southeast Missouri State*
Jan. 16	at Lincoln University*
Jan. 18	at Missouri-Rolla*
Jan. 21	at Central Missouri State*
Jan. 25	Northwest Missouri State*
Jan. 28	Colorado College
Jan. 30	Missouri-St. Louis*
Feb. 1	at Southeast Missouri State*
Feb. 4	Lindenwood College
Feb. 6	Lincoln University*
Feb. 8	Missouri-Rolla*
Feb. 11	at Quincy College (Ill.)
Feb. 13	Southwest Missouri State
Feb. 15	Central Missouri State
Feb. 20	at Northwest Missouri State*
Feb. 23-27	MIAA Post-Season Tournament

* MIAA games

All home games will be held at 7:30 p.m.

Women's basketball

Jan. 6	Simpson College	7:30 p.m.
Jan. 11	Lincoln University	5:00 p.m.
Jan. 14	at Moberly Junior College	7:30 p.m.
Jan. 19	Central College (Iowa)	7:30 p.m.
Jan. 22-23	Northeast Missouri Classic
	William Penn
	Lincoln Univ.
	Moberly J.C.
Jan. 26	at Missouri Western	7:30 p.m.
Jan. 29	Missouri-Rolla	7:30 p.m.
Jan. 30	Missouri-St. Louis	5:00 p.m.
Feb. 2	at Southeast Missouri State	7:30 p.m.
Feb. 5	Grand View College	7:30 p.m.
Feb. 6	at Northern Iowa	7:30 p.m.
Feb. 12	Southwest Missouri State	7:30 p.m.
Feb. 15	at Lincoln University	7:30 p.m.
Feb. 17	Quincy College (Ill.)	7:30 p.m.
Feb. 19	at William Woods	7:30 p.m.
Feb. 25-27	at MAIAW State Tournament

John R. Kirk Society Honors key donors

The John R. Kirk Society, comprised of those persons who have made significant financial contributions to the University during the past year, met for the first time at Homecoming.

President Charles J. McClain formed the group to honor those who have provided significant financial support for the University and named the group after the fifth and one of the most respected of NMSU presidents, John R. Kirk.

During the Homecoming meeting, the first lifetime members of the society were installed in recognition of their gifts of more than $5,000 each to NMSU.

The life members are Senator Harry Darby, Kansas City, Kan.; Noma Glahn, LaPlata, Mo.; Wes Remington, St. Joseph, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwengel, Arlington, Va.; and Dr. and Mrs. Kemble Stout, Pullman, Wash.

President McClain said the group would meet again on Oct. 8, 1982, during next year's Homecoming. Annual membership for 1982 is an unrestricted gift of $250 or more to the development fund.

Photo by Thomas R. Strout

KIRK SOCIETY—Dr. Robert D. Elsea ('50) and his wife, Rita, extend greetings to Red Wade, former football coach, at the first meeting of the John R. Kirk Society held at Homecoming. The Kirk Society was formed to recognize key contributors to the NMSU development fund.

Three new Scholarships Established

Three new scholarships will be given for the first time during fall 1982 as a result of recent gifts to the University.

The Richard Liss Scholarship has been established by Mrs. Richard Liss (32) in memory of her late husband, who received his master's degree in 1957 from NMSU. The scholarship is to be awarded to a student who plans to major in education.

Mr. Liss was a long-time educator, having served as superintendent of schools in Summerfield and Powhattan, Kan. He died in October of 1976. Mrs. Liss now lives in Fayetteville, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roberts of Anderson, S.C., and other family members have established the Ray Roberts Scholarship for students pursuing studies in foreign language. Henry Roberts is Ray Roberts' brother. Ray began a long career with the federal government shortly after graduation in 1940 when he went to work with the census bureau.

He later served in the Bureau of Naval Personnel before retirement. In 1964 he was awarded the Doctorate of Education from George Washington University and taught in the school's evening college.

The Jane Crow Memorial Scholarship has been founded by a friend and former student, Helen Thompson Miller ('48) of Seattle, Wash.

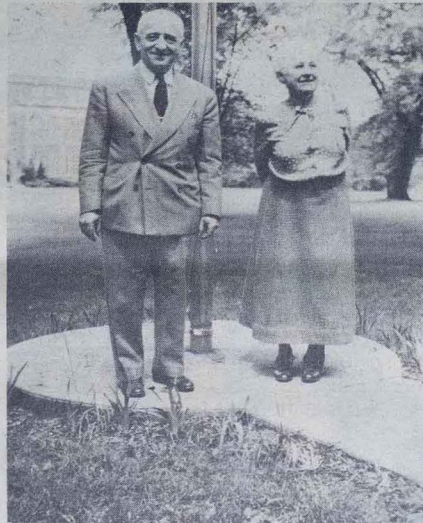

Miss Crow was a member of the Ophelia Parrish Junior High School faculty for many years. She taught mathematics and science and on occasion taught education classes during the summer months.

Miss Crow had been a victim of tuberculosis of the spine as a child and came to Kirksville with her sister to seek the help of osteopathic physicians. She graduated from NMSU in 1923 and served for many years as assistant principal under Dr. Felix Rothschild.

She retired in 1951 and lived in Homer, Ill., until her death in September of 1957.

Alumni who wish to add to these scholarships may do so by sending their contributions to the Alumni/Development Office at NMSU.

Other alumni wishing to establish named scholarships may do so with a minimum gift of $1,000. Interested persons should contact the Alumni Office for further details.

PIONEER LEADERS—This photo of Felix Rothschild and Miss Jane Crow, principal and assistant principal at Ophelia Parrish Junior High School, was taken about 1950. Now, through the help of a friend and former student of Miss Crow's, Helen Miller of Seattle, Wash., a scholarship in honor of Miss Crow has been established.

ROBERTS SCHOLARSHIP—Valerie McHargue ('81), Gladstone, Mo., and the late Ray Roberts ('40) were seated together at the 1980 Homecoming Banquet, where Valerie served as an attendant. Mr. Roberts was master of ceremonies for his class reunion that year. Following his death this year, his family established the Ray Roberts Scholarship.

Nemoscope profile

"Can we count on you for a $2 million pledge?"

If Jeff Goldammer was an organization, he would have ranked eighth this year out of 30 organizations that called during the Tel-Alumni campaign. His total of $1,903 was double that of last year's top caller.

Even though he raised nearly three percent of the $60,288 total for this year's campaign all by himself, Jeff did so without the benefit of an exceptionally large pledge. His best, $250, was certainly among the biggest pledges received during the project, but is far from the high amount of $1,000 that junior Ted Rodenkirk received.

The secret to his success, Jeff thinks, was motivation. "I wanted to win the top prize," he admits. Another factor is that Jeff is one of the most actively involved sophomores on campus, giving him the opportunity to call with several different organizations—six nights in all. A total of 97 alumni gave Jeff a pledge during the Tel-Alumni campaign.

As the top caller, Jeff will receive a year's membership to the Court House Racquetball and Health Club in Kirksville, plus some cash to spend for equipment or court time. Last year, the top caller received a scholarship, but Jeff is already a Pershing scholar and thus chose the club membership instead. The one-semester tuition scholarship goes to the second-place caller, freshman Tony Lambright, who raised $1,635 in three nights.

Jeff had worked for the Tel-Alumni project last year as both a caller and an office worker. He had been primarily responsible for helping the Alumni Office staff a year ago with preparing the calling cards for each day. In addition, he did a report at the end of last year's campaign suggesting possible improvements. While he doesn't think this behind-the-scenes work necessarily made him the best caller this year, he does think it helped. "It motivated me to win."

One of Jeff's favorite conversation-starters with alumni involved the $2 million goal of the Operation 1990 project. After explaining the program and the goal, he would say, "So, can we count on you for a $2 million pledge?"

Jeff Goldammer, Tel-Alumni '81 top caller

The typical response to that question was usually laughter and a comment that the alum might give something. Only one person whom Jeff played his joke upon failed to find it humorous, he said.

His wit and ability to talk comfortably to strangers certainly helped the sophomore business administration major become the top caller. It also gave rise to a few rumors about his technique, however.

"Contrary to rumors," Jeff carefully points out, "I didn't tell them (the alumni) that I was trying to win a new Ford Mustang."

Only Jeff, and about 100 alumni, know what he really said.

Alumni Association/Development
30 McKinney Center
Northeast Missouri State University
Kirksville, Mo. 63501

BULK MAILING

U.S. Postage Paid

PERMIT #16

Macon, Missouri

Non-profit Organization

IMPORTANT NOTICE:

Unless the state's financial conditions improve, this will be the last NEMOSCOPE mailed to all alumni for awhile. For the past few years, NMSU has subsidized the production and mailing of the NEMOSCOPE so it could be sent to all alumni. The next issue published this fiscal year must be totally financed through Alumni and Development funds, so it will be sent only to members of the Alumni Association and contributors to the Development Fund. If you enjoy reading the NEMOSCOPE and are not a member or contributor, see page 28 about joining the Alumni Association. Thanks for your past support.

NEMOSCOPE

